

Garden Club Begins Contest To Select "Yard Of The Month."

Sponsored by the Warsaw Garden Club the yard of the month competition offers you an opportunity to win a one year subscription to the monthly magazine "Flower Grower" or for your yard any plant of value of which is the name as the front of the magazine. Any resident (other than members of the Warsaw Garden Club) of the town of Warsaw is eligible. An award will be given to the winner of the contest by the Beautification Committee, which is composed of: Mrs. George Bennett, Mrs. A. J. Jenkins, Mrs. C. C. Thompson, Mrs. Ed Weaver, Chairman; and Mrs. Henry Stevens, President of the Club. The contest will run for 8 months providing there is enough interest shown and enough homes registered. This means that 8 residents can win one each month from January through June. The award will go to the homeowner whose yard due to its year planning is the prettiest in the town of Warsaw that particular month. There is no need for the yards to have a great deal of color. Your yards will be rated on: General landscape design, improvement, Foundation planting, Neatness, Color. While color is compelling and attracts attention to your yard, the award can go to an all green yard. Keep this in mind for January and February. You may wish to transplant or rearrange your present shrubbery in a more pleasing manner and enter this month's competition. Current magazines, catalogs and yards which you admire will furnish you with ideas; and with a shovel, wheelbarrow and a strong back you can do the rest. Please watch the paper this month for other news regarding this contest. Now don't hesitate. Enter the race. Let's all try to make Warsaw a prettier place in which to live.

Wallace Native Burned To Death In Virginia Fire

Hal T. James, 53, native of Wallace, died this week from burns received in a fire which swept a tool shed at Good Hope Sanatorium near Richmond, Va. where he was caretaker and maintenance man. The body of James was found badly burned in the tool shed a few minutes after he left the main sanatorium to investigate noises on the premises. Officials said it was presumed that the fire caused his death but an autopsy would be made on the body.

Pink Hill Man Succumbs; Injuries Suffered In Nov.

A man injured almost two months ago in a highway crash at Wooten Cross Roads in the Liddell section of Lenoir County died at 7:30 p.m. last Friday in Duke Hospital. The victim was named as Nathaniel Kennedy, 32, white of Pink Hill, whose injuries included a fractured skull, possible spinal hurts, cuts and abrasions. He was taken to Duke almost immediately after the crash. At the time of the accident at 3 p.m. November 8, police arrested William Bryant Miller, Negro, 23, of Albemarle, Route 1, on a charge of reckless driving. A charge of manslaughter was to be filed against him Saturday. Highway Patrolman L. G. Pate said the wreck, which injured four others including Miller, who received a broken arm—occurred when a truck driven by Kennedy and a car operated by Miller collided. Kennedy was driving along Highway 11 and Miller along Highway 55. Miller allegedly crashed a rear end.

Youth Is Arrested In Duplin County For Alleged Attack Upon Pikeville Man

The 16-year-old Negro escapee who allegedly bludgeoned Ray Smith, prominent Pikeville citizen on December 30, has been apprehended by Duplin County officials. Charles Lamb was arrested on Saturday afternoon in Duplin taking corn from a truck stolen earlier from the Jones - Pender Milling Company of Pikeville. The youth is being held in the Duplin County Jail for possession of non-tax paid whiskey. He will be returned to Wayne to face charges growing out of the attack on Smith and the theft of the Jones - Pender truck. Hosea Bryant and Norman Bryant of the Warsaw area were also arrested by Warsaw Police Chief W. E. Coombs and Deputy T. E. Revelle for taking corn from the stolen truck. They have been transferred to Wayne County authorities for questioning. Lamb, the son of one of Smith's tenant farmers, broke away from Adamsville, State Prison Camp where he was serving a term for stealing one of Smith's trucks last spring. Smith told investigating Wayne County Deputies that December 30 the attack occurred at his machinery storage shed about noon. He had stepped there to assist one of his workers in starting a tractor. When Smith returned to his car and got in, he said Lamb raised up from the back seat, pushed a shotgun in his face and declared he was going to kill him. Smith said that he and the masked youth tussled over the gun. The struggle moved from inside the car to the ground outside. Chief Deputy Roy Percise reported. And as one point the gun discharged but no one was struck by the pellets. Percise said Smith tripped on some parked farm machinery and Lamb struck him several times with the 12 gauge shotgun. The gun was broken in the fight. Lamb then took Smith's pocketbook which contained about $120 and drove off in Smith's car. The car was found abandoned on the following day. Superintendent Roy Sasser of the Adamsville Prison Camp said that at the time of escape, Lamb was awaiting transfer to a first offenders camp for boys.

Youth Wants To See Father But Meets Difficulties On His Trip To Texas

James Bassett, a 15-year-old youngster was wondering why he had not heard from his father, who is stationed in Texas. So, he, with his new bicycle which was given him for Christmas decided to begin the long trip. But in Duplin County he was stopped. He had failed to get any lights for night riding. Between 10 and 11 p.m., Sunday night he was picked up by the Duplin Sheriff's Department for not having lights on his bike. He was put in jail, but has been released without charges being officially filed. James does not know anymore about his father than he did before he left Jacksonville. But he still wants to know. But how does this ease the desire of a 15-year-old boy who wants to see his father bad enough that he will peddle a bicycle 1,500 miles—and starting in the rain?

Duplin County To Again Participate In Spelling Bee Contest In 1957

The Wilmington Star-News today made plans for conducting its annual Spelling Bee contest in the nine southern North Carolina Counties. Al Dickson, executive editor of the paper, said contests will be held in the local schools between April 1-15. Then, a County-wide contest to determine the County Winner will be conducted between April 15 and May 3. The Regional finals will be held in Wilmington on May 10. May 18 has been set for the deadline for sponsors to notify the National Spelling Bee contest in the nine southern North Carolina Counties. Wilkins reported advances made in tobacco yields—a county-wide average among Negro farmers of more than 1600. Gains were also registered in corn production and estimates now place yields at more than 40 bushels per acre. But Wilkins felt that the greatest improvements had come in the field of home improvement. Large scale home improvement projects were undertaken in every community, the farm agent reported. Progress also was made in strengthening farm betterment organizations. At year end there were 832 farm families enrolled in the rural progress campaign, more than 1200 members on county 4-H Club rosters, and 368 members of the Duplin Negro Home Demonstration Club. Included in the list of finalists for this year's award are Person, Edgecombe, Iredeed, Duplin, Union and Nash. The Rural Progress award is presented jointly each year by Clarence Poe of Raleigh, the Agricultural Association of A. T. College, an organization of professional agricultural workers at the college. Finalists were chosen on the basis of progress in the following areas: desirable adjustment in agricultural practices, community improvements, improved homemaking and family living, better opportunities for rural youth and cooperation with all agencies, groups and individuals. The State Committee on Rural Progress will visit each of the counties during late January and early February for a final evaluation. Winners in previous years include Hertford, 1952; Orange, 1953; Sampson, 1954, and Nash, 1955. Duplin participated as a finalist in 1952, 1953, and 1954.

Dick Byrd, Warsaw; Baptist Vote To Purchase Home For Missionary

In a called meeting on January 4 in the Grove Park Baptist Church, Clinton, the Executive Council of Eastern Association voted to proceed with plans for the immediate purchase of a home for use of the Associational Missionary. Eastern Association is composed of 41 Churches in Duplin, Wayne and Duplin Counties. Warsaw is in the approximate center of the area. It is likely that Warsaw will be the place selected for purchasing the property. A report will be brought by February 1 with reference to specific property by a Committee appointed for this purpose which is headed by Mr. Charles O. Whitley of Mount Olive. After the vote of the Council with reference to a particular site, effort will be made to enlist the support of the Churches. A special Committee has been appointed to study the ways and means of enlisting such support and raising the necessary funds.

Dan Fagg, Jr., Is Named Dean Mount Olive Free Will Baptist College

Daniel W. Fagg, Jr., Mount Olive native and instructor in history at Mount Olive College, has been named dean of that institution. This announcement came today from W. Burkette Raper, president of the College. The post of dean had been unfilled since the school opened its doors in September 1954. Fagg will continue his teaching duties on a part-time basis and will devote three days each week to the college's student recruitment program. Under the recruiting plan, as outlined by Raper, the new dean will visit any high school group or prospective student interested in learning of the college program. Fagg received a Bachelor of Arts degree from Wake Forest College and holds a Master of arts degree in history from the University of North Carolina. The new dean joined the Mount Olive faculty in the fall of 1955. During his period of service with the college he has been full-time history instructor and has headed the student recruitment program during the summer months. The expanded recruitment program now mandated by the dean is part of a college drive to boost enrollment. Members of the North Carolina College Conference recommended during its annual fall session in November that a dean be named to the faculty and the school's recruitment program be stepped-up. Raper commended Fagg's service to the school and said that it was on the basis of his outstanding contribution to the growth of the school that he was named as the institution's first dean.

Duplin Banks To Sponsor Two Farmers To Short Course At N. C. State College

Two young Duplin farmers will have their way financed to a short course at N. C. State College by the banks of Duplin County. The announcement came today from E. C. Thompson, vice president of Branch Bank and Trust Co. of Warsaw. The short course to be held February 11-22 on the subject "Short Course On Modern Farming," will give the two young farmers a better insight into the problems of financing and how to best cope with them. Vernon Reynolds, County Farm Agent, said today that applications are now being accepted by his office. Application blanks can be secured from the Farm Agent's office, in Kenansville, or the vocational agriculture teacher's, through the County. Farmers between the ages of 18 and 30 are eligible to make application for the all-expense paid short course. These young farmers should have graduated from high school and have made the decision to remain on the farm—not having attended college. Applications must be received by January 15.

Duplin Man Kills Self

Albert Blackman Chambers, 53, of the Pearsall Chapel Community near here, died at 10 a.m. Tuesday of a self-inflicted gunshot wound in the head. Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Alice Parker Chambers, one son, Alvin of Kenansville; three daughters, Mrs. J. B. Plans For Duplin March Of Dimes Campaign For 1957 Are Completed

Duplin County is one of finalists in 'County Of The Year Award In State' In a supper meeting last Thursday night, the Duplin County March of Dimes Committee heard the financial report of the County Chapter and began immediate plans for the county wide drive which is now on. The group proceeded over to the Duplin County Agriculture building where they were shown a movie of the different polio centers throughout the United States. As in a previous report in this paper the County has received a check for $700 from National headquarters. This amount has already been paid out to the patient care, leaving unpaid bills amounting to $93.50. It is urgent that the residents of Duplin County contribute as much as possible to the drive. All money collected will be divided with half the amount being kept in Duplin County. The other half will be forwarded to the National Foundation for research and other necessary expenses. Polio has not been licked but with the Salk vaccine we feel that we are closer to prevention of the crippling disease. Duplin Committees are as follows: Kenansville, Rev. Stradford Snively, Cabin, Mrs. Walter Rhodes, Wallace, Mrs. John Newman and Mrs. John Montforty, co-chairmen; Magnolia, Mrs. C. J. Guy, Rose Hill, Mrs. Eldon Brown, Albertson, Mrs. Ambrose Smith, Lyman and Cedar Fork, Mrs. John R. Brinson; Charity, Mrs. A. D. Lamer; Windsor Johnson of Rose Hill will have charge of the colored sections of Duplin County. Committees for the colored will be announced later. When contacted by any of the above committee, think of the thousands of polio victims who are in crutches, wearing braces or in iron lungs. Think of your self in one of these conditions. It is your contributions that will help to eradicate these handiaps. Give to the March of Dimes Drive.

Lorenzo Price Is First Fatality In Duplin In '57

Lorenzo Price, 27-year-old former of Seven Springs, was killed instantly when his car overturned on highway 111 near outturning bridge. Sam Price, son of Route 1 Seven Springs and an uncle of the driver. Funeral services were held from the home at 3 p.m. Tuesday with the Rev. Lemuel Taylor, Free Will Baptist minister of Beaufort, officiating. Burial was in the Price cemetery near the home. A farmer, Price was unmarried and lived with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Price of the Drummondville community. Surviving are his parents; three sisters, Mrs. Bobby Jean Price and Miss Iris June Price of the home, treasurer. The Agriculture Workers Council was organized in order that a better program could be presented under Duplin County's Challenge Program.

Clarence Warren Elected Head Of Ag. Workers

Clarence Warren, vocational agriculture teacher at Warsaw, has been elected president of the Duplin County Agriculture Workers Council. Other officers to serve the organization during 1957 are: Ed Simpson, assistant county agent, vice-president; Mrs. Annie Lois Britt, assistant home agent, secretary.

EDITORIAL

BY MARGARET TUCKER
The alertness of the Duplin County patrol force and the Duplin County Sheriff's Department quelled what could have been disastrous to some of our teenage boys, Saturday night. These teenagers were committing a felony, that of 'Drag Racing.' Involved were 12 teenagers and one minor in five cars. Luckily all were apprehended. Had they not been caught and saved from this mad race, many of them might not be living today. These boys will stand trial and justice will be dealt but will that be end to drag racing? It is the concern of everybody to try and help these teenagers from destroying themselves and others. Highways are only as safe as we make them and allowing our young folks to run at top speed will cut the safety of the highways and endanger the lives of those who must travel the roads. No drag race is worth the cost of even one life. It would be to the good of everyone to practice the North Carolina slogan, 'Drive Safely.' It is the wish of everyone to live, but unless we come to our senses and drive within the speed limits none of us will have the assurance of arriving safely at our destination. Reports are that not only drag racing is creating a menace but public property is being tampered with, such as reversing road signs and knocking down mail boxes. Such vandalism is creating a cost to the people and the state. This should definitely be stopped. I feel that the curbing of such acts should be started at the homes of the guilty parties and then if need be let the enforcement officers step in and see that justice is administered.
