Miss Susan Imelda Grady Becomes Bride Of Clarence Grady Of Kinston

Miss Susan Imelda Grady became the bride of Joseph Clarence Grady Jr. in a lovely ten-eight ceremony at four o'clock Sunday afternoon, October 27 in the Gordon Street Christian Church in Kinston. Rev. Douglas Bell, pastor, officiated at the impressive double ring rites.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hiram Southerland Grady of Kenansville. Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Grady, Sr., of 900 Nelson Street are parents of the groom.

A program of wedding music was presented by Mrs. T. V. Moseley, organist, and Dr. Jerry Norr's of Morehead City, soloist. Traditional wedding marches were used. The couple pledged their vows before an altar which was beautifully decorated with woodwardia fern and palms as a background for tall vases of white pompons and gladioli and seven-branched candelabra holding lighted white cathedral candles. White satin ribbon bows marked the family pews.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of chantilly lace and tulle over candlelight satin. The gown was fashioned with a fitted bodice and featured a sabrina neckline. The bouffant skirt had inserts of lace embroidered with sequins and seed pearls and extended into a chapel train. Her two-tiered veil of French illusion was attached to a crown of sequins and seed pearls. She carried a white Prayer Book topped with a white orchid and showered with Stephanotis and white satin ribbons.

Maid of Honor
Miss Mary Grace Grady of Houston, Texas, sister of the groom, served as maid of honor. She wore a Dior blue velvet gown fashioned with a draped cowl neckline that ended in a bow in the back. She wore a hat in a matching shade of velvet with a nose tip veil. Her bouquet was red roses showered with baby's breath and tied with red satin ribbons.

Bridesmaids were Misses Shelby Southerland, Inez Ferrell, Peggy Hughes and Betty Jean Taylor all of Kinston. They were dressed identical to the maid of honor and carried bouquets of red roses tied with red satin ribbons.

Little Miss Kathy Garris, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond A. Garris, served as flower girl. She wore a gown of white tulle over taffeta styled like those of the honor attendants and carried a white basket trimmed with white tulle and satin ribbons and filled with rose petals.

Mr. J. C. Grady, Sr., served as his son's best man. Ushers were Messrs. Durwood Grady, brother of the bride of Kenansville, Bryan Hargett of Richlands, and Maurice Courie, Ray Garris, George W. Carter, Jr., and Robert G. Bradford all of Kinston.

Mothers' Attire
The bride's mother chose a dress of mauve lace over taffeta for her daughter's wedding. She wore a matching hat and accessories and a white purple-throated orchid corsage.

The bridegroom's mother wore a dress of arched blue lace over taffeta with matching hat and accessories. She also wore a white purple throated orchid corsage.

The wedding was directed by Miss Orle Moseley.

Mrs. Grady attended Kenansville High School and is currently employed at the Branch Banking & Trust Co. The bridegroom graduated from Camden Academy at Camden, S. C., and attended East Carolina College where he was a member of Alpha Phi Omega Fraternity. He is currently associated in business with his father.

For a wedding trip to unannounced points the bride changed to a navy wool suit. She wore matching accessories and the orchid lifted from her bridal bouquet.

Mrs. Craft Was Bride Hostess

Mrs. W. E. Craft was hostess to her bride club, last Wednesday evening.

Arrangements of fall flowers were used in decoration where guests were invited to play.

Club high score was won by Mrs. Mattie Sadler and visitors high award was given Mrs. R. P. Harris.

During the social period, the hostess served a salad plate, in the Halloween motif, to Miss Margaret Williams, Miss Mary Lee Sykes, Mesdames Doug Shiver, Woodrow Brinson, W. J. Sitterson, R. P. Harris, Hortense Hasty and Mattie Sadler.

Barbara Williamson Honored At Party

Mrs. Bill Williamson was hostess to a party honoring her daughter, Barbara on her 10th birthday. The party was held at the home of Mrs. C. S. Williamson, Saturday afternoon.

Games and contests were enjoyed by the group. Prizes were awarded the winners.

Following the opening of gifts by the honoree, the hostess served birthday cake, ice cream and nuts to the seven guests.

Williamson, who made and home

Immediately following the wedding ceremony the couple was honored at a reception given in their honor by the parents of the bride at the Woman's Club in Kinston.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Wooten greeted the guests in the hall. They were directed into the Gold Room by Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Thornton where Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Callahan presented the guests to the receiving line. Mr. and Mrs. James Ward directed the guests to the bride's book which was presided over by Miss Mildred Moore.

Mrs. Raymond Garris and Mrs. George Carter, Jr., invited the guests into the dining room. The bride's table was overlaid with a white satin cloth centered with silver candelabra with burning tapers and epergnettes filled with tiny flowers. The three-tiered wedding cake held a miniature bride and groom. Arrangements of tube roses, mums, carnations and greenery completed the green and white bridal motif. Silver candles flanked an arrangement of white glads on the buffet. Mrs. Bernice Williams of Mount Olive, aunt of the bride, and Mrs. Paul Grady served punch.

Mrs. R. G. Wooten and Mrs. Robert Fordham served cake.

Tall baskets of white flowers marked the receiving line. The entrance hall had arrangements of white flowers and the big lounge was decorated with greenery and white candles on the mantels. The table holding the bride's book was covered with a white satin cloth and held a small epergne filled with white flowers and lighted candles.

Goodbyes were spoken to Mr. and Mrs. Graham McAdams.
