

David Henderson's Campaign For Congress Shifts Into High Gear

By Paul Barwick

The campaign of David Henderson for Congress of the United States has shifted into high gear with election time only six weeks away.

In Wallace Tuesday night, the Wallace Volunteer Fire Department sponsored a fund-raising supper which was attended by several hundred of Duplin and adjoining county people. The turkeys for the feed were donated by Nash Johnson and Son, of Rose Hill.

Henderson, who is traveling more and more each week and seeing more people throughout the Third Congressional District, said today that he appreciates "very sincerely all the work which the people of Duplin and other counties have been doing in his behalf."

All indications now point to a large vote for Henderson throughout the district. "It has taken a lot of work but the big job still lies ahead of us," Henderson said.

People who travel throughout the Third Congressional District who are supporting Henderson for Congress are asked to inform the voting public of the outstanding qualifications of Henderson.

Henderson at 39 years old, stands to gain a great deal of seniority in the U. S. State Congress if he is sent there by the people. He is the youngest candidate running in the May 28th Democratic Primary, but yet has had a great deal of experience.

Henderson, who is now Judge of Duplin County Court, has served for a period of time on the staff of Congressman Graham A. Barden, who is retiring and for whose seat in the House Henderson is seeking to fill.

In addition to his duties as Judge, Henderson is also an active attorney, with offices in Wallace. Before being elected County Judge, Henderson was County Solicitor.

He is very active in his community.

J. Melvin Jones Succumbs At 63

J. Melvin Jones, 63, businessman and farmer of Pink Hill, died in a local hospital Saturday night. For the past 35 years, he was owner and operator of Jones Chevrolet Company in Pink Hill. He was also co-owner of Community Chevrolet Company of Mayesville and Belle O. Company of Pink Hill. For the past 15 years, Jones had served on the Lenoir County Board of Education. He was also a Mason, and a member of the official board of the Pink Hill Methodist Church for 30 years.

Surviving are his wife Mrs. Belle Foscoe Jones of the home, three daughters, Mrs. James Miles and Mrs. Linwood C. Turner, both of Pink Hill, and Mrs. John R. Holden, of Mayesville; eight grandchildren; two sisters, Mrs. T. A. Turner and Miss Conner Jones, both of Pink Hill and one half-brother, E. S. Jones, of Pink Hill, Rt. 1. Funeral services were held from Pink Hill Methodist Church Monday at 2:30 p. m. His pastor, the Rev. H. E. Harrell, assisted by the Rev. N. P. Farrior, Presbyterian minister of Pink Hill, officiated.

Burial was in Oak Ridge Memorial Park.

Sunrise Service Bethel Church

A sunrise service will be held at Bethel Presbyterian Church, Lyman on Easter Sunday, April 17 at 5:30 A. M. The session of the church has planned this service in order that all people of that area may have an opportunity to worship together.

Rev. Reid H. Erwin, pastor of the church will speak on the topic, "There Shall Be No More Night." Special music will be furnished by the choir. The service will be held on the front lawn of the church.

E. C. C. Students Practice Teaching

East Carolina College's student teaching program for the spring quarter includes 191 seniors who are conducting classes in more than thirty-two public schools in Eastern North Carolina. Forty-six are doing work in the primary and grammar grades, 142 in high schools, and three are teaching either art or music at all grade levels.

DUPLIN COUNTY students who are participating in the spring program, listed with their teaching assignments, are: James R. Getting Results From Fumigation Is Important; What Does The Job

For the many Tar Heel tobacco farmers who are planning to fumigate their soil for nematodes, here's a few pointers on how to get the best results.

The pointers come from Furney Todd, plant pathologist for the N. C. Agricultural Extension Service.

Fumigation pays only in fields where nematodes are moderate to severe. Todd says, it also should be remembered, he added, that soil fumigation pays only when the materials are applied properly, and where a waiting period of at least two weeks is allowed between time of applying the fumigant and transplanting the crop.

Now, for the other pointers Todd has to offer:

(1) Select fumigants with care. There are six suggested soil fumigants on the market.

The results of several year's tests indicate that D-D will give excellent control of root knot and good control of meadow and stunt nematodes if applied properly.

Telone gives about the same degree of control as D-D.

EDB-85 gives excellent root knot and stunt control but does not give adequate control of the meadow nematode. It would not be advisable to use EDB-85 to often. Also avoid its use behind such crops as corn and grasses which tend to build up meadow nematodes.

Dorlone is a mixture of Telone and EDB-85. It gives good control of all three types of nematodes.

Fieldfume and Terra Fume-3 are mixtures of D-D and ethylene dibromide. Both fumigants give good control of all three types of nematodes that attack tobacco.

Several new trade name materials have appeared on the market this year. Vidden-D and O'A-D are similar in composition to D-D. OM-Afume is a mixture of OMA-D and ethylene dibromide. The new materials have not been tested in this state.

(2) Apply the recommended rates of fumigants. Todd says the following rates work best under most conditions:

Then gallons of D-D should be applied per acre if the row method of application is used. 20 gallons if the material is broadcast. For Telone, eight gallons per acre are needed for row application and 16 gallons for broadcast treatment.

For row treatment use two and one-quarter gallons of ED-85, or four and one-half gallons broadcast. Use six gallons of Fieldfume, Terra Fume-2 or Dorlone in the row and 12 gallons broadcast.

(3) Apply fumigants deep for best results. Be sure to get the fumigant at least eight inches below the soil level for most effective control. This

NORTH DUPLIN WINS OVER JAMES KENAN 3-1

The North Duplin Rebels gained their fourth victory in five games Friday by defeating the James Kenan Tigers 3-1. The Rebels' only defeat was at the hands of Wallace Rose Hill.

Clayton Swinton, the Rebels' big left hander, was the route for the Rebels, with only 12 batters, and giving up only three walks and two hits. It was Swinton's third victory against one defeat.

In the mean time James Kenan's ace moundman Charles Lockamy allowed only two hits but issued eight walks along with five strikeouts. Lockamy, the hard left pitcher of the Tiger pitcher staff, has now lost three games with no wins.

Bobby Farror, right fielder for the strong Rebel team, was easily the hero of the game with his first-inning, loaded single, which scored two runs and proved to be the winning blow.

Coach Richard Kaleel's Rebels are host to the same James Kenan Tigers this coming Friday afternoon at the North Duplin Field. If it is at all possible go and support your team whether it be the Tigers or the Rebels.

life to the low Grady team, and also gave Hill a 1-0 record. Hill also lead the attack on Grady with one for two at the bat. Joe Harrell had one for three, along with Robert Smith and Paul Outlaw.

The best seven sports catcher Glenn Lupton led the Wayne team with two hits while going to the plate four times.

The Grady team travels up to James Kenan next Tuesday afternoon for what could be an exciting conference battle.

NORTH DUPLIN TOPS CHINQUAPIN, 13-0

The North Duplin Rebels won their fifth victory in six games Tuesday of this week blanking the Chinquapin Indians 13-0. It was the Rebels' fifth conference win without a loss and the Indians third loss as against one win.

It liked to have happened again as the Indians were held to only one hit -- as you know the strong Rebel team has already chalked up two "no-hitters" this season David Batts, the losing pitcher spoiled the perfect day with a single in the first inning.

Everyone is cordially invited to attend. Rev. Wilbur Exerton will be the speaker for the occasion. Rev. S. A. Smith is pastor.

SUNRISE SERVICE

Easter Sunrise Community Services will be held in Kenansville at the Baptist Church on Sunday morning at 6:00 A. M. Rev. C. G. Nicktrayall, Allen Birchfield and Bill Herring, will also give five-minute talks on "Before the Court" and "The Road to the Cross", respectively. Clar Korneyay will speak on "He Is Risen."

IN COUNTY

Miss Mary Gold Wallace will sing "The Stranger of Galilee" and a girls chorus will also present a number. Misses Gertrude Williams and Faye Harper will sing as duet, "The Holy City."

ANSWER TO LETTERS

Those who have written to the paper in regard to the program for the Duplin County Chapter American Red Cross, are advised that the program has been extended to include the entire county.

Also, those of the Duplin Times who wish to see the fourth grade of the Kenansville School with their teacher Mrs. Augusta Krosch.

Auto Mechanics School For Adults Will Soon Be Available In Duplin

Instruction in automobile mechanics will soon be available in Duplin County as a part of the public adult education program, according to an announcement by O. P. Johnson, Superintendent of Schools.

Conducted in cooperation with the county school system, the classes will be offered through the extension service of The Goldsboro Industrial Education Center. Separate classes will be held, both at night, for mechanics who wish to upgrade themselves and for those new to the trade.

The Industrial Education Center is one of eighteen area technical schools established by The State Board of Education throughout the State to offer instruction in post-high school technical courses to adults and mature youths who can benefit from such training. The State provides the instruction and basic equipment needed free of charge, except for minor hand tools. A small fee is charged for textbooks and supplies.

Entrance examinations are given to determine each applicant's mechanical aptitude, interest and ability to profit from the instruction. One of the requirements of such instruction program is that jobs be available in the area for trainees. A survey of Duplin garage owners proved that there is a shortage of mechanics who have had formal training.

"We have found that on a nationwide basis there are 82 people trained to treat sick horses for every one individual trained to work on automobiles," said Russell Swindell, Extension Director of the Goldsboro Center. "North Carolina leads the nation as the home of the trucking industry, yet until recently we did not train diesel mechanics in this State. Now we have an excellent program under way."

Designed to reach all who need trade and technical education where ever they live, the new IEC program will operate in the eighteen centers. However, certain courses, such as that in auto-mechanics, will be offered through an extension arrangement, so that communities too far removed from the Centers for commuting may be served.

"Anyone who wishes to study auto-mechanics in this new program should watch the county papers for an announcement about the time applications may be filed. Do not apply unless you are willing to buckle down and really study. This will not be easy, but it will be practical, down to earth instruction," Mr. Johnson stated. Application forms and other information will be available from all Duplin County garages in a short while.

Another intensive training course being offered on an extension basis by the Goldsboro Center is a course in Firemanship for volunteer firemen. This course is now being offered in Mount Olive and, as teachers become available, it will also be offered to volunteer firemen in Duplin. The Center offers many courses at Goldsboro, where the city schools have provided a new building with shops and classrooms equipped by the State for instruction in electronics, metal work, mechanics, sewing machine maintenance, Welding and many other areas.

Warsaw To Hold Community Service

Faison Landmark Burned Last Week

One of Faison's oldest Landmarks known for many years as "The Old Hill Home" recently burned to the ground, leaving only the tall chimneys standing to attest to its staleness.

Even though it had not been occupied for a long while, it saddened the hearts of many Faisonites remembering its historical significance.

The original owner left in his will $10,000 for public education. The place had to be sold to satisfy this bequest.

It was bought by General Hill. During the time he owned the place, several additions were made to the house, doubling it in size.

In time, his son, Col. Christopher Hill inherited the place. It was there that Union General Terry had Headquarters during the War Between the States. General Terry marched his Army to Fort Fisher at Wilmington, his troops assaulting and capturing Fort Fisher, Jan. 15, 1865, which was his chief achievement as a soldier.

The last member of the Hill Family to occupy the house was Robert Hill, who died about 20 years ago.

The oldest part of the house is known to be over 150 years old. The property is presently owned by Mesdames David I. Fort of Raleigh and R. O. Everitt of Durham, granddaughters of the late Mr. Hill.

Bids To Be Submitted For Magnolia Post Office Quarters - Rental Basis

Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerlin announced today that advertisement has been posted to secure post office quarters at Magnolia on a monthly rental basis for a fixed term of five years. Specifications call for a facility containing approximately 800 square feet of floor space, 80 square feet of platform space, and 3000 square feet of parking and truck maneuvering area.

According to Postmaster James Chestnut, bids should be submitted to Mr. Carl Bolt, Assistant Real Estate Manager, Post Office Department, 421 Federal Annex Building, Atlanta, 3, Georgia. Interested bidders may obtain more detailed information from Mr. Bolt.

Postmaster General Summerfield has indicated the need for modernization or replacement of a total of 12,000 of the nation's post offices because of lack of space and obsolescence.

Mr. Summerfield further noted that during the last session of Congress, Congressional approval was given to the Postal Modernization Program which will provide in fiscal year 1960 alone 1,400 new post offices with several hundred more facilities scheduled for complete modernization in every part of the nation.

"The Magnolia Post Office," he observed in conclusion, "will be a major link in our newly-revitalized and modern postal service, aimed at an ultimate goal of next-day delivery of mail anywhere in the nation."
