Mrs. Ingram Speaks To Warsaw P. T. A.

The Fellowship and Youth Choir of the Warsaw Presbyterian Church opened the monthly meeting of the Parents-Teachers Association last Tuesday evening at 7:30 p.m. Following an opening hymn, Patsy Sheffield read the scripture, Micky Davis had the devotion, and Diana Sheffield read a poem after which the choir sang "God Bless America."

Then followed a short business meeting during which time the group voted to donate $150.00 to build a covered walkway at the Warsaw Grammar School building. Mrs. John N. Fonville president, announced that the flags which are now flown at each school were purchased by the P.T.A. with the assistance of Congressman David Henderson. She also mentioned that same had been flown in Washington, D. C. and that the children were fascinated by this fact. Miss Thelma Swinson's Class and Mrs. G. B. Buck's class won a $5.00 prize each for raising the most money in the fund raising campaign.

Following the room-count in which Mrs. J. M. Peirce and Mrs. Ray West won, Miss Swinson introduced Mrs. Sallie Ingram of Kenansville as guest speaker for the evening. Mrs. Ingram was a counselor at East Carolina College last year and she is presently guidance counselor for both James the evening was "Reading" or to Kenan and North Duplin High Schools. Mrs. Ingram's topic to be more precise "Reading For Enjoyment."

"Reading is an endless opportunity, an ever open door to an ever greater mental growth," she began. "Practically all the wisdom of the world is in good books. No one can ever read all the good books that have been written, but the more one reads the richer one is in true and useful wisdom."

She further stated that, "I wish that I might open your eyes to the potentialities of good reading."

"The uses of reading in this practical age are many - one may read to gain mastery of a trade, to escape, to forget, to experience vicarious chills and thrills, to acquire what passes under the general heading of culture, and to fritter away spare time."

She went on to say, however that, "Reading for enjoyment is an activity of a different sort."

Mrs. Ingram received many chuckles when she said, "We can also find in the works of the ancients - people and conditions which are not far removed from

Cavanaugh-Thomas Wed Saturday At Five In Warsaw Methodist Church

The marriage of Miss Gloria Cavanaugh Thomas and James L. Ray Cavanaugh was solemnized Saturday in the Warsaw Methodist Church at five o'clock.

The bride is the daughter of Major and Mrs. David E. McQuiston of Blotix, Miss and the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Sutton of Warsaw. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Cavanaugh of Kenansville.

Music was presented by Miss Katrina Sutton, organist and Miss Ruth Cavanaugh, vocalist.

The Rev. L. T. Wilson, pastor of the church, officiated with the assistance of Rev. Norman Flowers.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal gown of sheer silk taffeta fashioned with an off shoulder "V" neckline and abbreviated sleeves. Alencon lace accenting the sleeves, neckline and Princess line front was extended across the back over colonial bustle. Her two tiered-veil of imported silk illusion was attached to a pearl crown.

The bridegroom's mother wore a silk brocaded dress of beige with matching accessories and a white orchid corsage.

Immediately following the ceremony, the new Mr. and Mrs. Cavanaugh greeted guests in the vestibule of the church.

The bride is a graduate of Warsaw High School and attended East Carolina College. She is presently employed with Carolina Power and Light Company of Raleigh.

The groom is a graduate of James Kenan High School and is a student at King's Business College and associated with Hooper-Holmes Bureau, Inc., of Raleigh.

DINNER PARTY
Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Sutton entertained the out of town guests and wedding party of the Thomas-Cavanaugh wedding Friday evening at their home near Warsaw with a dinner.

The guests were invited into the dining room where a delicious turkey dinner was served buffet. The serving table was covered with a white linen cloth centered with an attractive arrangement of white flowers. Card tables covered with cloths were placed in the living room and bridal cakes decorated with each guest's name used as place cards. The tables were decorated with small flower arrangements centered with burning candles. Fifty guests attended.

REHEARSAL PARTY
Miss Gloria Thomas and Mr. James Cavanaugh were honored Friday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Sutton with a rehearsal party. The party was given by Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Bell, Mr. and Mrs. William C. Sutton, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. Norris Sutton, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Sutton, and Mr. and Mrs. Graham Rhodes, aunts and uncles of the bride.

The Sutton home was thrown in suite for the occasion and attractively decorated with flower arrangements. The guests were greeted by Mrs. Herman Phillips and Miss Ruth Cavanaugh. The serving table was covered with a white linen cloth centered with a crystal candelabrum entwined with dainty white flowers and ferns. Mrs. A. C. Bell and Mrs. W. C. Sutton, aunts of the bride, served punch from a crystal punch bowl and Mrs. Norris Sutton served individual bridal cakes. Bridal mints and nuts were served buffet, from the table. Around one hundred guests attended.
