Get Details On 1962 Varieties

Lenoir County tobacco growers can now get detailed information on varieties available for their 1962 crop from the county agricultural agents office.

The results of the 1961 official variety evaluation tests conducted by State College have been received from the county agricultural agents office. A description of the new varieties as prepared by research and extension workers at State College is available for study.

Included in the tests were 22 of the most commonly planted tobacco varieties, plus five new varieties that will be offered for planting for the first time in 1962. Results of these tests are not to be taken as official recommendations. But they can serve as useful guides in helping each grower pick the best variety for his individual farm in 1962.

Included in the tests this year were Hicks Broadleaf, Vesta 5, NC 85, Coker 318, Coker 187-Hicks, Coker 123, McNair 121 McNair H-3, McNair 10, Speight 31, NC 75 and Reams 51.

In addition, there were the five new varieties: McNair 12, Reams 64, Coker 80F, Speight G-3 and Speight G-10.

Interested growers may receive a copy of the results of the variety
