

With Our Boys In Service

Cadet Rouse is a student at North Carolina State College of A&E, N. C., and is majoring in Mechanical Engineering.

He will be graduated in June 1963 and is expected to receive a commission as a second lieutenant in the U. S. Air Force.

The 23 day encampment is attended by all AFOTC cadets between their junior and senior years in college. While stationed at Eglin, the World's largest U. S. Air Force Base, Cadet Rouse will receive officers training in various fields.

Also programmed for the future Air Force officers are instructional tours to the flight line, Base Operations, Ground Control Approach Facility, Weapons Center and Eglin's giant Climatic Laboratory, a combination desiccator-oven where the latest aircraft and missiles are tested.

The program also includes a three day survival training course in Northwest Florida swamps and orientation flights in military aircraft, including a flight in a T-33, the Air Force's jet trainer.

Sp. Four Lewis L. Bell

NEW YORK - Army Specialist Four Lewis L. Bell, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. Junius Bell, Warsaw, N. C., was a member of the 600-man group that represented the 42d Airborne Division in New York City's Armed Forces Day parade along Fifth Avenue.

Specialist Bell and other men in the unit marched in full battle dress that included fixed bayonets on their rifles.

Regularly assigned as a gunner in Company C of the division's 501st Infantry at Fort Bragg, N. C., Bell entered the Army in September 1959.

Bell attended Douglass High School.

Pvt. Joe D. Strickland

FORT HOOD, TEX. - Army Pvt. Joe D. Strickland, whose wife, Carol lives at 507 W. Ash st., Goldsboro, N. C., recently completed advanced individual training as a cannonner while serving with the 1st Armored Division at Fort Hood, Tex.

The 1st Armored Division is one of two new active Army Divisions recently created to raise the Regular Army division strength to 16. The division is organized as a ROAD (Reorganization of Army Divisions) mechanized division, one of the first ROAD divisions to be created. The ROAD concept was developed to meet the need for greater flexibility and combat power in modern Army divisions.

Strickland entered the Army last December and completed basic combat training at Fort Jackson, S. C.

The 23-year-old soldier, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph G. Strickland, Route 3, Mount Olive, is a 1959 graduate of Grantham High School, Goldsboro.
