Lower Your "Insect Appeal"

HOW does your "insect appeal" rate this summer? Chances are it's pretty high with pesky flies and mosquitoes that love outdoor living as much as you do. To make these pests wish you weren't around, spray Dichloride insect repellent on arms and legs. Apply to other exposed areas. Have an aerosol can handy whenever you're outdoors. It takes only seconds to keep bugs away.

These reducing wafers help you curtail your appetite, and they're delicious, too. Taste just like graham crackers. See your doctor for a safe weight-reduction program tailored to your individual r.

1962 Marks 113th Anniversary of Edison

THE PHONOGRAPH was Thomas A. Edison's favorite invention. Originally, Edison thought its principal use would be in "letter writing and dictation" without the aid of a stenographer. Edison's commercial phonograph of 1887, forerunner of the modern dictating machine, such as today's Edison Voicewriter, is rapidly fulfilling his early prediction, says Charles Goddard, Vice-President of Thomas A. Edison Industries. Voicewriter Division, the concern the great inventor helped found.
