Williams - Farmer Exchange Vows In Warsaw Presbyterian Church Friday
 Miss Linda Sue Farmer became the bride of Joel Lawson Williams in a private ceremony at eight o'clock on Friday evening in the Warsaw Presbyterian Church. The Rev. Norman H. Flowers, pastor of the church, officiated. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Walter Farmer of Warsaw and is a graduate of James Kenan High School. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawson Williams of Pink Hill. He is a graduate of S. F. Grady High School. This fall he will be a senior at N. C. State College. Nuptial music was rendered by Mrs. Ben Bowden, organist, of Kenansville and Miss Bobbie Jean Griffin, vocalist. The wedding vows were spoken before an altar of candles, flanked with a large fern arrangement in the center, and urns of white gladioli, hydrangea and double althea at either side. The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore an embroidered cotton satin sheath with silk organza overskirt. Her headpiece was a white chapel cap of lace and caught in front with tiny seed pearls. She carried a prayer book, topped with a white orchid and snowed with carnations and fern. Sarah Gail Farmer was her sister's maid of honor. She wore a full-skirted dress of powder blue tulle, fashioned with cap sleeves and a boat-neck. She carried a nosegay of pink carnations and blue pom-poms. The bride's younger sister, Johannah, was junior bridesmaid. She wore a dress of white nylon and blue satin. She carried a miniature nosegay similar to that of the maid of honor. Master James W. Farmer, Jr., brother of the bride, served as altar boy. Ben H. Wolever of Pink Hill, the groom's uncle, was best man. Ushers were N. Casey Frederick of Kinston, the bride's cousin, and W. G. Simmons of Albemarle. The bride's mother was attired in a pale green embroidered cotton sheath. She wore a corsage of Philanopsis Orchids and white carnations. The mother of the groom chose for her son's wedding a dress of blue lace and wore a purple-throated white orchid. For traveling the bride wore a white two-piece cotton sheath with white accessories and the orchid from her prayer book. After a wedding trip to western North Carolina the bridal couple will be at home in Raleigh. The bride groom is presently employed at The Research Triangle.

Mount Olive College Evening Classes
 Mount Olive College is increasing the number of evening classes available to part-time commuting students. A college official announced today that courses in English and history and an additional course in religion will be offered this fall. For several years, the College has offered evening classes in business and religion.

Evening classes will be held on Tuesday and Thursday from 7:30 to 8:25 p.m. and from 8:30 to 9:30 p.m. A student may take Western Civilization 102 and English Composition 101 or Religion 205 and English Composition 101 for a total of six semester hours. A student desiring to take only one course would earn three semester hours of credit.

Courses in shorthand, typing, and bookkeeping will be offered on Monday and Wednesday evenings. These courses are not given for college credit. Additional courses or schedule changes will be arranged if there is sufficient demand.
