Happy Birthday!

By: Elery Guthrie
When I was a little girl, I used to ask my Mama, "How old was I?" Now that I've grown up I'm beginning to know, but also I've learned old is not measured in terms of years.

Upon visiting one of our grand old ladies on her birthday last Thursday, I realized that, more than ever, Miss Lillie (Mrs. C. B. Sitterson) was 78 years young that day - and I do mean young.

Since coming to Kenansville in 1929 with her family, Mrs. Sitterson has endeared herself to all that have known her and is loved and admired by many that know her only by name. Many changes come to pass in the town since she came, with the little ones then, growing up and having little ones of their own, new businesses in town, even a new Post Office Building, hospital and other additions to indicate that time does not stand still.

Miss Lillie worked hard, side by side with "Pap", her husband to help educate her family and has lived to enjoy the fruits of her labor. Unfortunately she lost her husband several years ago, but being one to realize life must go on, she carried on in her quiet self-sufficient way, later losing her first born, Roy.

Knowing for her that life must go on even though it must be taken a little slower, she still carried on in her happy smiling way. She was, until the last year, very active in her church, the Baptist, all the Civic organizations in the town, and constantly befriending the sick and needy whom ever they were.

She now sits on her porch, the coolest one in town it seems, and rocks and talks of her friends and her children who are, C. B., married to Jean, and they have one fine son and a daughter living in Appletton, Wisconsin. Beecher, who with his two sons and lovely wife, Anne, live at Oak Ridge, Tennessee where he is a part of the great project there. Kathryn, Mrs. Peele of Williamston, who cares for her jeweler husband and daughters, Jack, who with his wife Doris, lives here and visits her daily. What more could a woman ask than the pleasant memories and the good feeling of a task; well done.

Mrs. Sitterson, even though not as active physically as she was, is still very alert and interested in her church, town and certainly her many friends.

She says, "Do come back, there is always a welcome at Miss Lillie's house."

Men's Supper

The Men of Grove Presbyterian Church held a joint supper meeting with the men of the Hallsville Presbyterian Church here on Wednesday night at 7 o'clock. It was held in the Education Building of Grove Church with B. J. Rivenbark presiding. There were about 30 present to enjoy Boiled Ham, potato salad, string beans, sliced tomatoes, hot buttered rolls, iced tea and peach pie. The opening and closing prayers were made by the pastor, Rev. Richard Holsbouser.

Mrs. Brinson Enjoys Birthday Dinner

Mrs. Cora Brinson says the nice thing about birthdays is having all her family together and also the beautifully decorated cake that she always enjoys.

Mrs. Cora was 75 years young Sunday. Approximately 42 children and grandchildren gathered to enjoy the wonderful picnic dinner. Mrs. Brinson is not very well and does enjoy company and her friends. Many more birthdays, "Miss Cora."

Mrs. Quinn Honored At Shower

On Saturday evening, September 1, Mrs. Wiley Booth, Mrs. Davis Evans, Mrs. Woodrow Outlaw, Mrs. Nelson Bruce Heath and Mrs. Donald Heath honored Mrs. Jimmy Quinn, a recent bride. The delightful affair was held in the Early Morning Club house on Kinston Road.

Mrs. Woodrow Outlaw and Mrs. Davis Evans greeted the guest and pinned a red rose corsage on the honoree and pink roses on the mothers and Mrs. Felix Heath, the brides grandmother.

The entire house was made most attractive with ivy and candle-light, floral arrangements of pink summer flowers and white lillies enhanced the refreshment table that was thrown with a lace cloth and centered with a five-branch silver candelabrum, holding epergnettes filled with Queen Annes lace in colors of green and white. White burning tapers completed the arrangement. Mrs. Tommy Quinn, mother of the groom served lime ice punch. Mrs. F. A. Jones, mother of the bride, served bridal squares, nuts and bridal mints were served buffet.

Mrs. Donald Heath directed the bride to a beautifully decorated table, centered with an umbrella made of lace and net that was topped off with an attractive bride from which packages of all sizes and colors were placed around.

The bride opened her many beautiful and useful gifts and passed them for the guest to admire. Goodbyes were said to Mrs. Booth and Mrs. Nelson Bruce Heath.

Kindred tastes, motives, and aspirations are necessary to the formation of a happy and permanent companionship.
