B. F. Grady Students Top Tobacco Entries At Fair

By Larry Welch
 East Duplin Vocational Agriculture students made a clean sweep in the tobacco judging recently at the Duplin County Fair as they walked off with all five ribbons in the division.
 The student whose tobacco was awarded the first place blue ribbon was ...

 and Harold Turner finished behind him. Boyce Smith finished fourth and Eugene Lee's tobacco was awarded the fifth place ribbon. All five of the boys are from the B. F. Grady community.

Eugene Lee was a first-place taker for his exhibition of red Irish potatoes and Kenneth Lee captured second place in the Congo watermelon class. Finishing third in the pumpkin class was Brent Lee.
 Vocational agriculture student, Anthony Westbrook, has purchased a purchased Jersey heifer from Glenn Williams. In order to gain experience in financing, Anthony secured a loan of 90 percent of the purchase price through the Mount Olive FCA.

Anthony's loan contract is for two years during which time he will not have to pay any interest. If the animal is not paid for when the contract has matured, he may renew the note at the rate of 4 percent interest.

Anthony plans to show his heifer in the New Bern and Wilmington Dairy shows next year.

So far, the amount of strontium 90 or any other radioactive element being found in any food does not warrant avoiding any particular food, or trying to select food items on the basis of radioactive content.
