Senior Citizens

By Reporter
The Rev. Claude Hartsell, newly arrived Methodist minister captured the hearts of the Senior Citizens when he and Mrs. Hartsell and their son, Jimmy, visited with them at their regular meeting on Monday. The devotionals were led by Rev. Hartsell who spoke in "Nourishing Our Souls". He quoted Psalms 37:25 and talked about the privilege of a long life, enabling one to take the long look at life and the blessings of God in giving a long life.

Mrs. M. H. Ridenhour had

Letters To The Editor

July 8, 1965

Dear Mrs. Sell:

Just finished reading the Journal. It gives me a lift to read the home paper when the editor I know so well is the sponsor. I get a little lonesome at times here on the lake by myself most of the time, but I feel the stay is helping me, and that is what I needed so very much. I am moving about some and I want you to send my next issue to 1930 N.W. 11th Road, Gainesville, Fla. It is real hot weather here, but we get a lot of rain, and that helps some. Give my kindest regards to everyone and I hope to be seeing you folks again before so very long. I must go over to Cedar Keys for some deep sea fishing in a few days, and I hope to have some good luck. With best wishes, I am,

Yours very truly,
Kelly L. Cope.

But what made Thomas Mann's long-range TB sufferers obsolete was one of the most striking developments of our time — a scientific revolution in TB drug treatment. In the 1950's tuberculosis stopped being a disease that kept people bedridden for years. And today six months in the hospital is all that's needed in many cases. Treatment with the new potent drugs usually continues at home or at a clinic; but the rate of cures has gone up tremendously.

TB isn't "licked" — far from it. More than 50,000 new active cases still appear each year. Because the disease is hard to detect, people who have it in active form can spread infection before they realize they are sick.

That's why your Christmas Seal association urges you to get a tuberculin test or a chest

X-ray. The "Magic Mountain" is a thing of the past, but TB will remain a threat as long as there are sick people capable of passing it on.

Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Hendricks Jr. and daughter, Patricia left last week to spend a week at the World's Fair in New York.

New Times, New Treatments

Ever get stymied trying to read those great old classics? No wonder when you consider how language and customs have changed.

Sherlock Holmes is just great for Grandpa. But when A. Conan Doyle's supersleuth of the Gay Nineties hails a "hansom cab," what can it mean to this generation except maybe a new pink-and-purple taxi with a drop top? And when Thackeray starts talking about "bathing machines," who can be blamed for thinking of him as a science fiction writer whose robots liked surf swimming?

It's the same with a less ancient classic — Thomas Mann's "Magic Mountain," a novel about the population of a TB sanatorium. They were a hapless company who stayed year after year and seldom got any better.

Well, of course it was technology that wiped out Sherlock Holmes, two-wheeled horse taxis. And saner customs overtook Thackeray's little mobile modesty motels in which people did their surf-splashing
