Bowman Gray Stadium Races

WINSTON-SALEM, N. C. — Richard Petty, winner in two of his first four starts since returning to NASCAR stock car racing, has filed entry with his hemi-powered Plymouth in the fifth annual Myers Brothers Memorial Grand National race Saturday night at Bowman Gray Stadium.

The 1964 national champion fromandleman, North Carolina, will face a formidable field that includes many of the sport's top names — Junior Johnson, Ned Jarrett, David Pearson, Buck Baker, and others.

The Grand National race, 250 laps around the stadium's tricky quarter-mile asphalt track, will be the main attraction of a program that also includes a 50-lap modified and sportsman race and a 50-lap face for the sleek racing machines of the Sports Car Club of America (SCCA).

The event, called the "Myers Brothers Memorial Stock Car Racing Spectacular," honors the memory of the late Billy and Bobby Myers, who were big names in the sport in the 1950's. Bobby was killed in a Darlington 500 crash in 1957, and Billy died of a heart attack while leading a stadium race in 1958.

Johnson, Jarrett and Dick Hutcherson — who is battling Jarrett for the lead in national point standings — head the Ford contingent for the Grand National feature.

Petty and Pearson are the principal threats for Chrysler, which recently returned to the scene when NASCAR lifted a ban on its potent "hemi" engine.

The Myers Memorial will end the 17th consecutive season of NASCAR racing for the stadium, and the 50-lap modified and sportsman race will decide the track championship for that division. Two-time winner Carl Burris enters the finals with a 29-point lead over Pee Wee Jones in the track standings.

The sports car race will end a two-day conclave here for SCCA competitors. They will have practice runs from 2:30 to 7:30 P. M. Friday, and more practice and trophy ra-

Practical Nurse Program To Be Expanded

Salisbury — Rowan Technical Institute will launch an expanded practical nursing program on September 7th, President C. Merrill Hamilton announced today.

The program in its second year will be enlarged to accommodate two full-time classes with a total of 27 students.

Cabarrus Memorial Hospital in Concord recently joined with Rowan Technical Institute in a cooperative program to help meet the critical shortage of trained practical nurses.

At Rowan Memorial Hospital in Salisbury, the course will continue with an increase from 12 to 15 students this fall.

The expanded program, according to Mr. Hamilton, will allow students from Rowan and surrounding counties to participate.

Two days each week will be spent in classroom work at Rowan Tech with three days in clinical and laboratory instruction at the hospital.

The course, of 12 months duration, will qualify graduates to take the state nursing board examination to become a licensed practical nurse. Once the license is obtained, the graduate is qualified for employment as an LPN in hospitals, on private duty, and in nursing homes and private homes.

The practical nursing course, designed to fill a gap in the need for persons to care for the sick and infirmed, is one of 27 offered in the state. It is the only one offered in Rowan and neighboring counties.

The program is accredited by the North Carolina Board of Nursing, and is carried out under the authority of the State Board of Education.

Both loans and grants are available for students if a need is shown.

Eight persons will graduate next week at the conclusion of the first course.

Fifteen persons can be accepted for the September class operated with Rowan Memorial Hospital and another 12 through Cabarrus Memorial Hospital.

President Hamilton said that vacancies still exist for the new program, but the deadline for applying is August 27.

"The program affords an excellent opportunity for both young and old persons to embark in nursing careers," Hamilton stated. "It has proved its value in the first year and the expanded facilities should make it even more of an asset this year."

Statistics show there is a definite shortage of licensed practical nurses in the piedmont section of North Carolina. Figures announced by the N. C. Hospital and Research Foundation show that there will be a need for approximately 300 such nurses in the state by the end of next year.

Mrs. Betty McCrary of Kannapolis, a Watts Hospital graduate and a registered nurse with 10 years experience, will serve as supervisor-coordinator of the program which will enroll new classes next month. She will conduct the classroom work and clinical instruction at the Rowan Memorial Hospital with another instructor to teach work at the Cabarrus institution.

"This course," Mrs. McCrary said, "provides an excellent opportunity for persons wanting nursing careers. It is excellent for both women and men whose family is grown and also for young people at least 18 years of age."

Information on the program and entrance requirements may be obtained from Rowan Technical Institute on Interstate 85 at Klumac Road in Salisbury.

modified — sportsman qualifying from 7 to 8 P. M. The racing program will open with the sports car event at 8:15 P. M. followed by the Grand National race and the modified-sportsman race in that order.

A Ladies Night crowd of 12,000 watched Hank Thomas of Winston-Salem get his second win of the season in the 50-lap modified and sportsman feature last week. Carl Alford of High Point and Ronald Jones of Winston-Salem clinched season titles in the hobby (amateur) and 999 claiming (novice) divisions, respectively, in the final '65 stadium competition for those divisions.

Senior Citizens

By Reporter

At their regular meeting on August ninth nearly fifty members of the Senior Citizens Club signed up for a day tour of the mountains by chartered bus. They will carry along well filled baskets for a picnic lunch.

The Rev. Fred Harmon, pastor of Cleveland and Third Creek Presbyterian Churches, brought a most interesting devotional. His subject was "What is the greatest age?" Starting with childhood, he reviewed several important ages leading up to the privileges of the golden years. The 13th chapter of the First Corinthians was read as a basis for his remark.

Beides the Rev. Harmon, Mrs. Harmon and the following were guests at the meeting on Monday morning. Mr. and Mrs. Ross Wood of Cleveland, Mr. Patterson of Concord, Miss Emma Grimes of Plant City, Florida, and Mrs. Ida Massey's daughter from Lexington.

Two new members were added to our roll Mrs. Maude Nichols, of Woodleaf, and Mrs. Kate Jenkins, formerly of Johnson City, Tenn.

A brief sketch of the life and activities of 83 year old Mr. Oscar Booe was read. Mr. Booe was next oldest in our over-eighty members who we are featuring this year. We understand he will soon be entering a rest home. He will be greatly missed because he has been a faithful member, especially did he help out in singing.

Little Miss Wanda Barber, of Pensacola, Florida twelve-year-old granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Barber, entertained with an accordion concert. It was her second performance having played for us last summer while visiting here. Wanda is quite an accomplished accordionist, having recently won first place at an accordion convention.

During the social hour, in addition to the usual coffee and cookies, watermelons, donated by Mr. Dick Watson of Woodleaf, was enjoyed. Over seventy members attended this meeting.

Below is a brief sketch of the life of Oscar Booe. Oscar Dodson Booe was born October 12, 1882 in Newton (three miles from Casa) in Davie County to George Judson and Amanda White Booe. He received his education at White's schoolhouse. He came to Cooleemee in 1902 and went to work at Erwin Mills. In 1905, he married Betty Lakey and to them was born two sons, Wade H. Booe and Paul C. Booe. Betty Booe died in 1912. Mr. Booe remarried in 1915 to Nannie Walker and they had three daughters, Mrs. Charles Honeycutt of Spencer, Mrs. Jason Bost of Salisbury and Mrs. Dorothy Alexander of Cooleemee. Nannie Booe died in March, 1957. In 1916 Mr. Booe went to work for the J. N. Ledford Company and was employed there until 1938. Since then he has worked as a painter until his retirement. He is remembered by many of his friends as a member of a quartet consisting of Charlie Hoover, Jeff Davis, C. N. "Boss" Spry. He belongs to the P. O. S. of A. and the Redmen, and the Senior Citizens Club, and is also a member of the Cooleemee Methodist Church. He has six grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Mitchell and children of Dallas, Texas arrived Sunday for a weeks stay with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Mitchell.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Eaton of Mocksville, and Mr. and Mrs. Emory Frye celebrated their wedding anniversaries on Tuesday night by dining at the K & W Cafeteria in Winston-Salem.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Veach and David of Spencer, visited his mother, Mrs. Ruth Veach, on Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Emory Frye visited relatives in High Point on Sunday afternoon.

Sunday, August 22 is Homecoming Day at Liberty Methodist Church.

Mrs. W. B. May and Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Shepherd attended the Annual Shepherd Family Picnic which was held at Tanglewood Park on Saturday.
