There are two ways to get into the rear of every 1966 Ford station wagon — over the tailgate or through the door. Ford's latest station wagon innovation is a dual-action tailgate. Open it with the center latch, left, and it's a tailgate. Open it with the handle, right, and it's a door. Illustrated on the 1966 Ford Country Squire Wagon, top, the new feature is standard on all Ford and Fairlane station wagons and is optional on Falcon wagons. The door feature permits easy passenger entry and provides ready access to a lockable storage compartment, while the tailgate is available for hauling or loading cargo. Earlier innovations which pushed Ford to station wagon sales leadership in 1965 — dual center-facing rear seats and built-in rear window air deflectors — are retained for 1966. All 1966 Fords will be in Ford dealer showrooms October 1.

A distinctive roof line is featured on two new Thunderbird models for 1966, the Town Landau, top, and the Town Hard-top. Both cars offer an elegant "town car" look as contrasted with convertibles and the traditional and more sporty Thunderbird roof line continued on 1966 Thunderbird hardtops. New sportiness is reflected in the styling of all 1966 Thunderbirds and in availability of an optional 428-cubic-inch performance engine. Other new options include a Stereosonic tape player integrated into the radio in the center console, and fingertip automatic Highway Pilot speed control integrated into the steering wheel. An overhead console containing door-ajar warning light, fasten-seat-belt warning light, emergency flashers and low-fuel warning light is standard on all "Town" models. All 1966 Thunderbirds will be in Ford dealer showrooms October 1.
