"WHAT IT WAS, WAS HEART!"—Tar Heel Andy Griffith, well-known TV "Sheriff of Mayberry," has been named Honorary Heart Fund Chairman for 1966. The announcement was made in Chapel Hill by UNC President William C. Friday, head of next year's $700,000 state fundraising effort of the North Carolina Heart Association. Shown above, proudly displaying her approval of Andy's interest in the Heart cause, is Andy's "Aunt Bee" (Actress Frances Bavier) who paid a surprise visit to a recent Heart Association meeting in Durham. Andy Griffith Named Honorary Chairman Heart Fund Drive

CHAPEL HILL -- Andy Griffith has been named North Carolina's Honorary Heart Fund Chairman for 1966, according to an announcement by UNC President William C. Friday.

Friday, chairman of the N. C. Heart Association's fundraising efforts next February said the well-known actor and UNC alumnus will assist in radio and television promotion of the forthcoming Tar Heel drive to raise funds for the Heart Association's research, education, and community service programs.

Griffith, in accepting the appointment, said, "It's mighty smart to help your heart. As a long time Heart Fund supporter and as a Tar Heel-at-large, it's an honor to be associated with the North Carolina Heart Association and with the president of my alma mater."

Friday, commenting on Griffith's acceptance, said, "The Sheriff of Mayberry is one of North Carolina's most effective ambassadors. The North Carolina Heart Association and I are grateful to him for agreeing to serve as a Heart Fund ambassador to his fellow Tar Heels."

Mr. and Mrs. Adam Jordan returned home Friday after spending a week with their daughter and family, A-1c and Mrs. Gene Comarzer, at Elgin Air Force Base, Florida.
