NAYREX BARNHARDT

NAYREX BARNHARDT SUFFERS INJURY — Davie High won its third game of the season from Mooresville High by the score of 14-7 but they lost a large amount in the victory. In this game their big fullback Nayrex Barnhardt broke his arm and will probably be out for the remainder of the season. This was a great loss for Davie because Nayrex was a valuable man when Davie needed extra yardage. He has the size for a ball player in that he stands 6 ft. one inch and weighs 200 lbs. His desire and love for the game made him a rough competitor. Barnhardt's value could not be measured in getting yardage when it was needed but in the fact that he was an outstanding blocker. Time and time again he led the blocking for the other backs and his deadly blocking paved the way for extra yardage. He excelled just as much in his defensive play. He was a hard and accurate tackler and he was missed from his defensive position. Nayrex is a good College Prospect and he has already received several offers even though he had to sit most of the season on the side-lines. We hope he will be able to return by the last game of the season and be ready if we are able to reach the play-offs.

Matt Lee Webb

The passing of Matt Webb leaves a void, not only in his family, but in our community. Matt Webb never commanded an army, he was not a shining light in the intellectual world; nor did he sit in the councils of executives or magnates of industry. But what he did was as necessary to the success and prosperity of the enterprises which he served, as the contribution of the heads of state or industry. Matt Webb never sat in the seats of the scornful, nor walked in the counsel of the ungodly. His delight was the law of the Lord, which is to say, he believed in honest labor, and he gave more than he ever asked should be given to him. He was a man of integrity, who kept his word, and expected others to do the same. He had some ideals and principles about right living and neighborliness, and along with his good wife instilled them into his children. He and Mrs. Webb reared a large family, four sons and four daughters, all of whom survive, and all are doing well. In the loyalty and devotion of the children, in the family where togetherness and affection, and each sharing in the duties of the home, there is an added tribute to the parents, who by example and teaching, gave to the children the basic principles for right, useful living.

Matt Webb could drive a car as few persons can. Weather and roads did not bother him. He seemed to have a built in radar system which enabled him to turn the wheel at the right second, in the right direction. He was a man of great strength, and that strength was employed in useful service. Forty five years he carried the mail, and he carried it with complete obedience to the mail carrier's creed that, "neither wind nor weather" shall prevent delivery of the mail.

Faithfulness to life, which includes one's task, is the mark of greatness in a man's soul, no matter what station in life the task lies. And we would say, from our knowledge of him, that Matt Webb belongs to those faithful ones who at the end of life's sojourn here, will receive a welcome in the beyond, when the Lord of life received him with: "Well done, thou good and faithful servant; enter thou into the joy of thy Lord."

Life Of Writer Is Sketched

Time goes by and age come on. The old saying, "Time and tide wait for no man," is very true.

I was born February 19, 1889, at Silverstone, Watauga County, North Carolina, about eight miles west of Boone, and grew up on a little farm at the foot of Rich Mountain. In those days we had no farm machinery, therefore all farm work had to be done the hard way—by manpower and horsepower. I started work on my father's farm of fifty acres when I was a mere lad and spent the first twenty-three years of my life there. The old home where I was reared is still standing, and two of my sisters—Junie and Fannie—have lived there all their lives and still occupy the old house.

In the beginning of my school days we had a little one room building and one teacher, who taught all the pupils from the first grade and on as high as we advanced in our free schools. I was eager to learn and usually made good grades. Although we didn't have the advantage of an education then as our children and young people have today, yet we had some wonderful students. I never had the privilege of a college education, but I have been a student practically a lifetime, majoring of course in the Holy Bible.

In my early life I seemed to have a special desire to become a writer and for more than half a century my articles, messages and poems have appeared in various newspapers and religious publications, read by many thousands of people. One newspaper published my articles and poems regularly for over thirty-three years, in which I had a department called WRITER Page 8

Low Income Families To Get Surplus Food

Sunday School Teacher Feted

The members of the Lola C. Crawford Sunday School Class of the Cooleemee Methodist Church wanted to honor their teacher in some special way so they planned an "Appreciation party" for her.

She came to the church on Thursday night, October 21st, expecting to attend a Class meeting. But—when she entered the room she saw Banners on the wall with messages such as "Thanks", "In Appreciation" and "Thanks Mrs. Crawford". She was also presented a Corsage of white Mums to pin on her Black and White Tweed suit. Other decorations in the Party room carried out the Halloween theme.

Appropriate songs and games were enjoyed with prizes being awarded to Mrs. Arnold Kirk and Mrs. Vetra Milhollen.

A special treat were two Recitations. Mrs. M. H. Ridenhour recited the poem "Little Orphant Annie," and Mrs. Ray Smith told of the funny experiences of two U. S. soldiers during World War I when they were visiting in the home of some of the Royal family in London, England.

Arrangements had been made with a Photographer, Mr. Hayden Beck, to make a picture of the Class members for their Sunday School room.

Mrs. C. F. Bahnson gave a beautiful tribute to Mrs. Crawford and presented her with a gift from the class. Refreshments of fresh Coconut cake squares; salted nuts, Halloween candy and Halloween Punch were served to the twenty-four members and invited guests.

The Door prize was won by Mrs. B. W. Hellard. Those planning the party and preparing the refreshments were—Mrs. C. W. Shepherd, President of the class; Mrs. Ray Smith, Vice President; Mrs. M. H. Hoyle, Secretary; Mrs. Bill Daywalt and Mrs. Lomas Carter.

Davie Routs West Forsyth

Davie High Rebels picked as the number one Class 3-A high school team in the State justified this rating by soundly defeating the Forsyth County 4-A School last Friday night. It was the seventh straight victory for the Rebels but it was not as easy a victory as the score indicates. West held Davie to no first downs in the first half and it was only after a penalty for roughing the kicker that they were able to light the spark to victory. Davie and West see-sawed back and forth in the first half and it was all defense for both teams. The second half proved to be a different story. West Forsyth ran the "shot-gun" formation but they forgot to load the gun. Davie got into the scoring column when Ronnie Foster picked up a fumble and ran 34 yards for the first score. After Davie kicked off the alert defense intercepted a pass and then Mike Branhan tossed a 35 yard pass to Ronnie Foster for his second TD and a 13-0 lead in less than four minutes. The scoring was not ended when David Robertson took a pitch-out and ran 10 yards for the third score in the third quarter. In the fourth quarter Garland Allen took the ball in from one yard out and Davie led 26-0. Phil Dedmon tossed a 32 yard pass to Ronnie Foster for the final Davie score. Ronnie Foster played an outstanding game for Davie as he scored three TD and was the fifth man in the West backfield most of the night. He repeatedly broke through to pile up a play or toss them for a loss. The big score for Davie was the defense. It has been so all year but they were outstanding in stopping the potent offense of West Forsyth. The Davie High Rebels are to be congratulated for their outstanding play and also for being chosen as No. 1 team in the state. It makes us as fans equally proud to come out and root for this outstanding team. Win or lose we are behind them 100 per cent. They travel to Children's Home on Friday for what we hope will be their 8th straight victory and will carry them one step closer to their Conference Championship.

John Owens of Campbell College and Dick Canfield of Raleigh spent the weekend visiting Mr. and Mrs. William Owens and Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Beck.
