

RELIGION IN THE HERE AND NOW

REV. NORVIN C. DUNCAN

Palm Sunday commemorates the entrance of Jesus into Jerusalem, riding humbly upon a lowly beast of burden. The city was thronged with visitors from all over the country, having come for the Feast of the Passover. Sometimes as many as two million persons crowded into the city. They had heard much of Jesus, His teachings and miracles, and they hailed Him as their long looked-for Messiah. But in their minds they looked for Him to head an army and restore by war an earthly kingdom.

Jesus rejected that kind of a kingdom and the means of bringing it in. His kingdom was not to be set up by war. Pride, vain glory, and violence had no part in it. He did not reject the idea of the Kingdom Of God, but only their concept of the means and methods of bringing it in. His constant theme in preaching was the kingdom of God - the rule of God in the hearts of men. It could be brought about by regenerate persons, in love, humility, and service. We should have learned by now that the kingdom of God cannot be established by force.

All the wars of history have never brought us any closer to the Kingdom of God. At this moment in history the whole world is looking to establishing something better upon the earth, and to do it by force. The larger part of the world's money is being spent upon arms, and what the whole world knows is that an armed conflict now, world-wide, will destroy us all.

We are well aware of the fact that much of the demonstrations now being carried on against our war in Vietnam, manifests, not the spirit and ideals of Jesus, but are in closer identity with advocates of war.

Palm Sunday reveals man's unregenerate mind and methods for bringing in the Kingdom Of God; Jesus reveals the Father's mind and the means and methods of bringing in the Kingdom. That way is a costly way, but Jesus took it. It meant Calvary, and those who will bring in the Kingdom will be those who share with Jesus all that the Cross implies in love, humility, and service. Love can win where violence fails.

SENIOR CITIZENS SANG AT THE COOLEEEMEE METHODIST CHURCH

It was a thrilling experience last Monday night as we listened to the voices of some 50 members of the Senior Citizens Club echo throughout the sanctuary of the Cooleeemee Methodist Church. The Club was obviously grateful for the invitation to attend and to have a part in the Revival Services. It was yet a greater thrill to see the joy and happiness as expressed on the faces of those participating. The majority of this club are retired people, that is -- retired from occupation for the sake of livelihood, but they leave no doubt that their's is the most active group in town. You need only to attend one of their meetings to learn there is not a happier group, organized or otherwise around these parts. Coming together, they share with one another real fellowship, happiness and love, and they know how to appreciate the greatest of these -- "Love". One member was overheard to say "I feel more genuine love in the Senior Citizens Club than in some of the churches. How wonderful -- have such a group making up part of our community -- a group that seems to grow more loving and lovelier each passing day. It is not surprising then, to learn that such an active, spirited group has been invited to sing at other revival services in the near future, as well as to put on "Fun" Programs for various clubs in nearby towns. Yes, it was a real blessing when someone conceived the idea for such a club in Cooleeemee. Indeed it must be a blessing to those who care enough to carry on.

Library News

Services for the Blind and those with poor vision is one of the many advantages offered by your Davie County Public Library. It is a still expanding part of the work here, but is much appreciated by those who make use of it.

For some time the library has been able to lend recordings of parts of the Bible.

For the last few months we have received the large edition of Reader's Digest, designed to make interesting reading available to those who need very large print to save eye-strain. This is published not only in English, but in thirteen other languages. (Of course, ours is in English!)

From time to time books are coming out in very easily read print, and they are being added to the library as they are published.

A magnifying glass is kept in the library and anyone who would like to use it while in the library may ask for it at the circulation desk. We have one patron who always gets it and says it is a great help!

Travel and vacation time approaches. You will want to hear the library radio program, "Washington, Magnificent Capitol", a history of our nation's capitol, given by Mrs. Knox Johnstone, Station WDSL, at 10:30 A. M., Friday, April 8.

HILDERBRANDT NEW EXECUTIVE AT ERWIN

For A Happy Easter Drive Carefully

Enjoy the full glory and happiness of Easter by driving with extra care to make sure you are not one of the 23 persons who the N. C. State Motor Club warns may be killed in traffic accidents on North Carolina's streets and highways during the extended weekend if current fatality patterns continue.

The state will count its Easter traffic deaths from 6 P. M. Friday, April 8th, through midnight Monday, April 11th, a period of 78 hours.

North Carolina's "Bloody Easter" toll last year soared to 25 killed and 601 injured in 920 accidents. Twelve of the 25 fatalities were recorded on Easter Sunday.

Of 945 driver violations reported, the leading causes of accidents were: speeding, 189; driving left of center, 141; failure to yield right of way, 118; reckless driving, 89; following too closely, 82; and driving under the influence of alcohol, 67.

Thomas B. Watkins, president of the N. C. State Motor Club and the National Automobile Association, said Easter traditionally opens the spring travel season and cautioned that extra hazards will confront motorists on congested highways. "so be cautious and considerate when driving. Don't become the 'other fellow' who always has all those accidents."

April 4-10 Camp Easter Golf Week

RALEIGH -- Governor Dan K. Moore has designated the week of April 4-10 as Camp Easter Golf Week according to Dugan Aycock of Lexington, president of the Carolina Section of the Professional Golfers Association.

The Carolina PGA is sanctioning a handicap tournament during this period for the benefit of Camp Easter in the Pines, North Carolina's Easter Seal Camp for crippled children and Adults. Camp Easter Golf Week is sponsored by the "Friends of Camp Easter" under the chairmanship of Jack Hegarty of Southern Pines. The golf committee is composed of Hale Van Hoy, of Pinehurst and Winston - Salem, executive secretary of the Carolina Golf association; William F. Saunders and Jack S. Younts, both of Southern Pines, and Arthur J. Lacey, 1951 captain of the British Ryder Cup team, honorary committee for the tournament is composed of Hon. Terry Sanford, former Governor of North Carolina, Julius Boros of Mid Pines, a former Masters champion; Richard S. Tufts of Pinehurst, past president of the USGA, and Dugan Aycock.

The Camp Easter Tournament will run concurrently with the Masters Tournament of Augusta, Ga. in which the final round will be held on Easter Sunday.

Members of golf clubs throughout North Carolina are being invited to pit their golfing skill against that of the Masters champion, using their club handicap and playing at their convenience on their home course. Any player whose fourth-round score equals or betters that of the Masters champion will receive from Mr. Aycock a handsome scroll, suitable for framing, attesting to this fact.

Each entrant will contribute to the fund for Camp Easter in the Pines which is owned and operated by the North Carolina Society for Crippled Children and Adults. The Carolina PGA hopes to build a cottage at the camp eventually. As a preliminary to Camp Easter Golf Week, Gov. Moore was presented a gold putter encrusted with a diamond in the top in a special ceremony recently. The Governor responded by officially proclaiming April 4-10 as Camp Easter Golf Week.
