4,140 Pupils To Enroll In Davie Schools

The Davie County schools will have about 50 more students this year to increase the total to an estimated 4,140, said Supt. James E. Everidge. One additional teacher will increase the faculty to 165 members.

Teachers begin work on August 25th, with students reporting August 29th for orientation. Classes will begin on August 30th and continue without taking a Labor Day holiday.

This year a new vocational business course in office occupations is included in the curriculum at the Davie County High School.

School authorities plan to let bids in October for an addition at the Davie County High School for completion by the opening of school in the fall of '67. This addition will cost an estimated $225,000 and will contain five classrooms, three laboratories and two vocational shops.

Fran-Ray Rest Home Meets N. C. Standards

Mrs. Annie Sue H. St. Clair, Consultant to The Ageing, representative of the North Carolina State Board of Public Welfare inspected the Fran-Ray Rest Home Inc., last Tuesday August ninth, to determine if it met all the requirements.

Francis Killen, Administrator of the home stated "that Mrs. St. Clair found everything in order including the records on all residents as well as a full staff."

Miss Kay Dillon, Nutritionist for the North Carolina Health Dept. visited the above home Monday, the 15th to offer her services in the food service department. She left a good supply of informative material toward better meals and well balanced diets, both special and regular.

Miss Dillon will be The Nutritional Consultant for the home making periodic visits to assist with meal planning.
