Publicity concerning our Welcoming Service has been extremely scarce lately but the visits to newcomers have continued quietly and, we hope, effectively.

Thanks to Mrs. Sue Cuthrell and the women who manage somehow to squeeze in a volunteer visit or two, thirty-five families have benefited from the program. The gifts from the merchants alone could practically ensure success, but the personal contact is really what does the trick.

When we use the word "visit" we mean "Cooleemee-style," and that, my friend, means anywhere from one to two hours of good ole relaxed conversation liberally sprinkled with laughter. There's none of this knock, knock, glad-to-have-you-with-us, exit, kind of thing. When a woman dries the dish water off her hands long enough to make a visit she means business, and the appreciation expressed by the newcomers is genuine.

As we said last Spring when the visiting program was started, those of us who have BEEN here have always been delighted to have newcomers in our midst; therefore, it was a shock to discover that although WE knew we felt that way, no one else did. Now they know, and we have all benefited from the experience.

ingburg, North Carolina and Frances Webb, all students at Wingate College, spent the weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Webb.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Milholen and two daughters, Sharon and Cathy Lou, of Richmond, Va. spent the weekend visiting in the homes of her mother, Mrs. W. B. Blalock and his mother, Mrs. C. F. Milholen. They also visited other relatives.

H. M. Jacobs, Jr. of North Carolina State University, Raleigh, spent the weekend with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Jacobs.

'67 Fleetside Pickup

THERE ARE LOTS OF OTHERS.

For instance, new durability: New sheet metal construction discourages rust. Eliminates exposed joints on cargo box and tailgate. Provides self-washing wheelhousings with special splash shields. Inner cab is specially treated against rust.

Also, added comfort, safety and convenience: Improved visibility all around. Dual master cylinder brake system. Telescoping lower steering shaft. Energy-absorbing instrument panel. Interior color-keyed to go with exterior paint. One-hand tailgate latch.

And extra strength: Full-depth double-wall side panels (Fleetside models). Double-wall steel in cab roof and other important areas.

Plus famous Chevrolet truck features: Independent Front Suspension that gives a smooth ride - like a car. The most popular truck 6's and V8's. (And there are lots more, as your Chevrolet dealer will show you.)
