Davie Youth Leaves For Job Corps

John Clyde Daniels of Cooleemee left Wednesday, January 25th for Oconaluftee Job Corps Center in Cherokee, N. C.

This boy has many special problems which the Job Corps is going to try to help him work out. He dropped out of school when he was in the sixth grade, has never held a steady job, nor been trained to do any particular job.

At the Job Corps Center, John will be tested and counseled to determine what type of work to choose for an occupation. He will be exposed to a number of jobs within his ability range and will select the one he feels is right for him. The Job Corps will then see that he gets the training he needs to learn the trade he chooses.

As a school drop-out, John is beginning to realize the importance of a good education. At this time John is a non-reader, but, the Job Corps will help him learn to read and improve his mathematical ability in practical problems. He will attend classes one week and work to get on-the-job training the next week.

The Job Corps is a lot of work, but it's work load is forgotten when the boys get together to practice football, basketball, or baseball. They often compete against other Job Corps Centers for trophies.

The Job Corps is a whole new horizon for John, an opportunity to realize the vastness of the world and the part he can play in it.

Many Davie County families who had to go the long route of planning, contracting and building a house can now buy newly constructed buildings. Before the new legislation, these families could only purchase previously occupied buildings. Qualified low-income families can now obtain housing credit from Farmers Home Administration on the basis of a cosigner. Previously, only those rural persons 62 years and older qualified for this assistance.

The new legislation increases from $1,000 to $1,500 the maximum amount of assistance the agency can make for emergency repairs or improvements to owner-occupied rural housing or farm service buildings. This credit is not designed to upgrade a building but only to remove hazards to the health and the safety of the family and the community.

Rural families on the verge of losing their homes through foreclosure may save their homes if a sound basis can be developed by the Farmers Home Administration to refinance their debts.

Financial assistance can be given to construct rental housing for low and moderate income rural families of all age groups. Previously, rental

New Legislation To Help Davie Families To Obtain Better Housing

The U. S. Department of Agriculture's Farmers Home Administration is better equipped to handle the housing credit needs of low and moderate income Davie families as a result of legislation recently signed into law, according to Clarence Sink, Farmers Home Administration county supervisor.

Sink said the Demonstration Cities and Metropolitan Development Act, signed last month by President Johnson, makes it possible for a broader range of Davie County families to qualify for housing credit under expanded housing loan authorities of the Farmers Home Administration.

The new legislation, Sink continued, makes more mortgage credit available to low and moderate income families in Davie County by increasing the level of activity of the agency's rural housing loan program.

Here are some of the other changes in the rural housing loan program administered by Davie County Farmers Home Administration:

Qualified low-income families can now obtain housing credit from Farmers Home Administration on the basis of a cosigner. Previously, only those rural persons 62 years and older qualified for this assistance.

The new legislation increases from $1,000 to $1,500 the maximum amount of assistance the agency can make for emergency repairs or improvements to owner-occupied rural housing or farm service buildings. This credit is not designed to upgrade a building but only to remove hazards to the health and the safety of the family and the community.

Rural families on the verge of losing their homes through foreclosure may save their homes if a sound basis can be developed by the Farmers Home Administration to refinance their debts.

Financial assistance can be given to construct rental housing for low and moderate income rural families of all age groups. Previously, rental housing financed by FHA had to be occupied by rural people, 62 years and older.

Local Druggist Foils Robbery

On Thursday morning at 1:45 A. M. Ed Hoyle, local druggist of the Cooleemee Drug Company, was called by Mrs. Kenneth Gilliam of Woodleaf to fill a prescription. Upon entering the store, he found two masked men at the rear of the store attempting to open the safe. They asked, "What are you doing here?" and he replied, "What are you'll doing here?" They pulled a gun on him and walked him back to the front door and told him to walk away and fired a shot into the air. Mrs. Gilliam, hearing the commotion knew something was wrong and left immediately to call for help. The men then left in their car which was believed to be parked near the school house. Some bottles of medicine and poison were missing. The front door was prized open with a bar, two screw drivers and one man's hat in the drugstore.

World Day Of Prayer

The World Day of Prayer will be held on Friday, February 10, at 7:30 P. M. at the Church of the Good Shepherd, Cooleemee.

Negotiations are underway for the acquisition of the Cooleemee Telephone Company by the Continental Telephone Corporation, announces Cooleemee President C. Norris Rabold. On Thursday, January 12, Western Carolina Telephone Company of Weaverville, a subsidiary of Continental Telephone Corporation received approval from the State Utilities Commission to acquire the Cooleemee Telephone Co. Western will issue 6,738 shares of its common stock to its parent company, Continental Telephone Corporation, in exchange for 12,500 shares of Continental. These 12,500 shares will be traded for assets of the Cooleemee Telephone Co. After the acquisition has been completed, the Cooleemee Telephone will then be integrated into the Western Carolina Telephone Co.

The Cooleemee Telephone Company was authorized by the State Utilities Commission to operate as a Corporation in 1909 with a capitalization of 100 shares common stock-par value $100.00 each. This stock was distributed locally to parties interested in purchasing same.

Over the years, said President Rabold, Cooleemee Telephone Company has upgraded its properties and services in the area it serves. Manual telephones were discontinued some fifteen years ago and replaced by a dial system operating from a central switching station. Outside lines have been replaced and extended to provide additional service.

The Cooleemee Telephone Company currently serves 812 stations in Davie and Rowan counties.

The acquisition of the Cooleemee Telephone Company by Western Carolina Telephone Company will not affect operating personnel of the company. Mr. I. H. Huske, General Manager, will continue in his position and Mrs. C. B. Hoover will continue as Commercial Clerk.

Since more capital undoubtedly will be available for the area now served by Cooleemee through its acquisition by Western Carolina Telephone Company, it is expected further improvements and expansion of service will take place.

Charges and rates to customers will continue as at present and no immediate changes are contemplated. Any changes in rates in the future must be approved by the State Utilities Commission before they become effective.
