Adult Typing Class Planned At Davie High

Plans are being formulated to offer an adult course in personal typing this summer at Davie County High School. It is also possible that business machines will be included in the course if there is enough interest. Business machine instruction will include basic fundamentals of the ten-key adding machine, rotary printing calculator, and the rotary calculator. High school students are welcome to take the course, and though it will not count toward graduation since it is an abbreviated course, a person should be able to become fairly proficient in typing.

The course will cost $35 and will run from 7:00 to 10:00 each night Monday through Friday for a period of six weeks starting June 5. A minimum of 20 people is necessary to offer the course. If you are interested, please write or call Davie County High School by April 14th giving your name and address. You will be notified after April 14 as to whether the course will be offered.

New Davie Bill

"To amend Section 9 (43), Article 2, Chapter 153, of the General Statutes of North Carolina relating to tax levies for certain special purposes in certain counties as to make it apply to Davie County".

This would make Davie County subject to GS-9 (43) authorizing boards of county commissioners to levy annual special property taxes to pay salaries and expenses of farm and home agents and veteran's service officer, and pay salary and office expense of county accountant.

MISS VELDA BROWN SPEAKS TO HOUSE

A delegation of women employees from Western Electric plants in North Carolina visited the General Assembly last week and told legislators of their interest in good government.

Their visit to both the House and Senate was part of Western Electric's program to interest the employees in governmental affairs.

Miss Velda Brown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Brown of Route 4, Mocksville, told House members that "essential to good government are citizens who are informed, who are concerned and who are willing to serve the cause of good government".

Expresses Confidence

"From your careful thought and consideration, she said, we are confident that good laws by which to work and live will come."

Miss Brown is this year's queen of the Winston-Salem Wenoca Club, an employees' organization at the Western Electric plant. She was accompanied to Raleigh by Miss Betty Kirkman of Winston-Salem, vice president of the club.

Religion In The Here And Now

Norvin C. Duncan

"IF HE BE THE KING OF ISRAEL, LET HIM NOW COME DOWN FROM THE CROSS AND WE WILL BELIEVE IN HIM. Math. 27-42

When Jesus hung upon the cross the Chief Priests said: "Let Him come down from the cross and we will believe in Him." Their attitude reflects that of many people through the ages, and today. Theirs is an escape religion. If God does not answer their prayers in the way in which they want them answered, they will no longer believe in Him. If Jesus had not died upon that cross His mission to the world would never have been accomplished. We cannot understand all that was involved in that death, but we know that "It was for us He hung and suffered there"; and had He not suffered there would have been no redemption for us.

From the very beginning of His ministry, Jesus knew that it involved humility, suffering, and death. He knew, when He left the wilderness of temptation, that His face was set towards Calvary, and throughout His earthly ministry He knew that He was walking that path.

There are millions today who feel that religion must give them what they want, or they will not believe in religion. If God does not answer their prayers as they feel they should be answered, they refuse to believe in God or prayer. Before they believe, Jesus must come down from the cross. He must keep them from all sickness, sorrow, pain, and reward them with prosperity, or they will not believe.

Christians must share that cross with Jesus. Their primary concern in life must be the concern of Jesus—His father's will. His concern for people, and a concern for the truth—and a willingness to die for conviction and high purpose. The Christian must believe and obey in sharing the cross before he can understand its meaning or receive its blessings. Striving to avoid sharing the cross, means losing its power.

"IF ANY MAN WOULD COME AFTER ME, LET HIM DENY HIMSELF, TAKE UP HIS CROSS AND FOLLOW ME.
