HEAD START PROGRAM APPROVED

Judge Carroll F. Gardner, Chairman of the Yadkin Valley Economic Development District, Incorporated, was given word this week by the Office of Economic Opportunity in Washington, D.C. the 1967 Summer Head Start Program for the four counties of Davie, Yadkin, Surry, and Stokes, was approved. The Head Start program will operate under the auspices of the Yadkin Valley Economic Development District, Incorporated, with the local Board of Education in each City and County School System conducting and implementing the program.

A grant of $236,145.00 was made to the four county area, and will provide 1,1968 disadvantaged pre-school children with a comprehensive program of education, medical care, social services, and nutritional help which they need. Their families will benefit from the program and will become involved meaningfully in all aspects of the program. Recruiting for the 72 Head Start classes has already been under way. Several people have been employed to identify those eligible to participate by the Office of Economic Opportunity guidelines. Anyone having a child or knowing of one which might qualify and has not been contacted should call his local principal or the Community Action Program office in your county.

Plans are now under way for the program to begin June 26, 1967, and will run for a six-week period, five hours each day. Every child will receive one meal and a snack each day and a limited amount of medical and dental attention.

Parents are invited to participate in the program. Many are to work as teacher aides and in other non-professional capacities. Head Start Policy Advisory Committees, fifty percent of whom are parents, enrolled in the program, have already been formed. These committees will work closely with the Head Start Director in each county and the local office of the Yadkin Valley Economic Development District, Inc., in that county.

A director in each county representing his particular board of education will administer the program. The county Coordinator representing the four county agency

Full Integration For Davie County Schools In Sept.

Davie County schools will be totally integrated this fall. The decision to do away with the Central Davie School and go strictly to geographic zoning for pupil assignment was made last week by the Davie County Board of Education following a meeting with officials of the United States Office of Education. James E. Everidge, Davie Superintendent of Schools said that on May 18th of this year he received a letter from the United States Office of Education that said that the plan of desegregation proposed by Davie County was "not sufficient to meet the requirements of Title 6 of the Civil Rights Acts of 1964."

On May 18th, Federal officials met with the local board of education and discussed the necessary steps to be in compliance. "According to the steps laid down by federal officials, we had no choice but to go to the geographical zoning method of assigning pupils, which means that all students of the same grade and in the same zone will be assigned to the same school, regardless of race, color or national origin or school previously attended," said Mr. Everidge.

The Central Davie School will be closed and all the high school students there will attend the Davie County High School. This will increase the enrollment of Davie High to 1268 students of which 169 or 13.3 per cent will be Negro. The elementary school students will be assigned according to geographic zones, following more or less the old school district lines.

Mrs. Bahnon, 90 Mocksville Dies

MOCKSVILLE—Mrs. Mattie Rich Bahnon, 90, of Rt. 2, Mocksville, Farmington Community, died at 7:45 A. M. Wednesday in Davie County Hospital after being seriously ill for eight weeks.

She was born September 21, 1876, in Davie County, the daughter of the late Samuel Chase and Betty Carolyn McMahan Rich. She was a member of Farmington Methodist Church and was active in both church and civic affairs. Last year she was honored by the Pino Grange as Woman Of the Year. She had made her home with her daughter in Mocksville, Mrs. Lester Martin Sr., for the past five years.

Surviving in addition to her daughter are two sons, Charles F. of Cooleemee, Francis H. of Durham; one brother, S. O. Rich of Wake Forest, and 10 grandchildren and 13 great-grandchildren.

She was married to Francis Henry Bahnon who died in 1952. Funeral services were conducted Thursday at 4 P. M. at Farmington Methodist Church by the Rev. Joe Phillips.

Burial was in the church cemetery. Why not plan a vacation trip that will enable you to see some of your own country?

Rowan Technical Institute will offer a short course in Modern Mathematics for any interested adult who wishes to gain an insight into the field of new math.

This course is especially planned for those parents who feel inadequate to answer their children's questions concerning the new mathematics. Rowan Tech will offer the course on Thursday nights beginning June 15th from 7:00 until 10:00 P. M. for eleven weeks. Cost of the course will be $5.00.

Mr. Kenneth Klutz will be the instructor. The course will include all the basic concepts of new math and their applications. Any parent with a school-age child will be greatly surprised to find how logically the new concepts fit in with the mathematics they learned in school.

To enroll contact Rowan Technical Institute and request a summer application. This should be returned to the institute accompanied by a $2.00 application deposit. This deposit will be credited toward the tuition cost or refunded if the class does not materialize.

Local Break

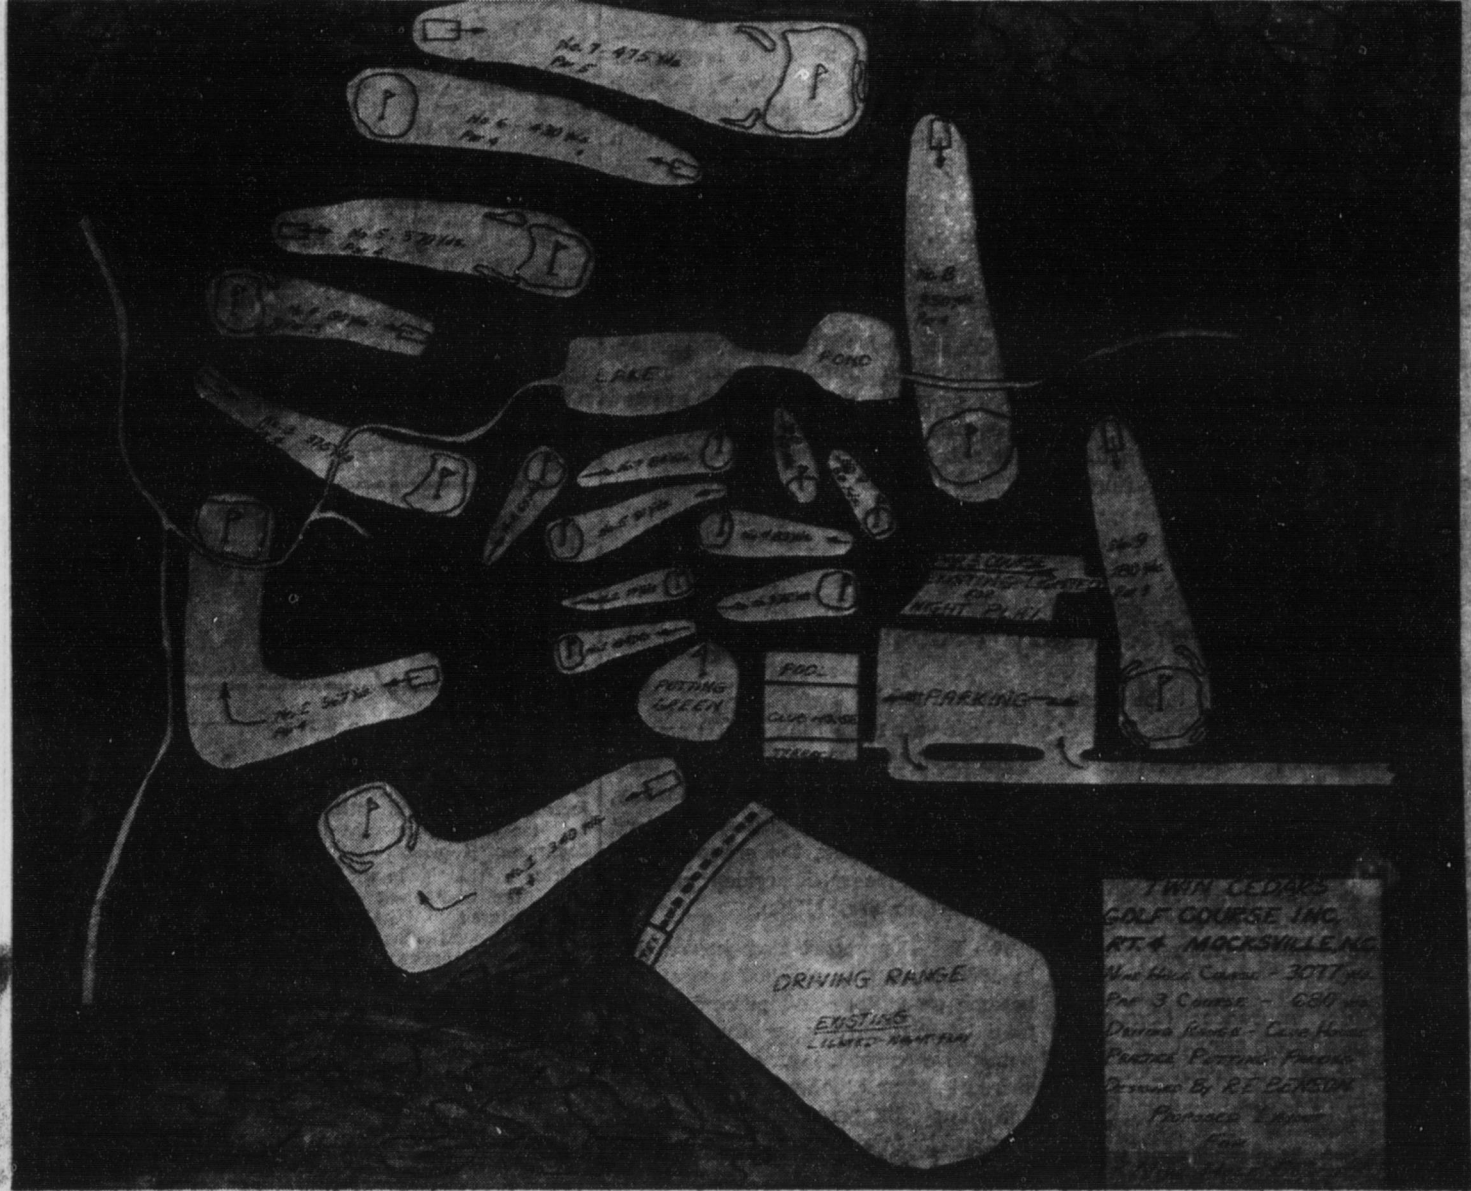

Sometime Monday evening or early Tuesday morning, the P and N Department Store at the Cooleemee Shopping Center was entered through the rear door. Clocks, men's shirts and pajamas, and ladies hose and some small change were among the missing items.

MICHAEL MYERS

WINS SPECIAL EDUCATION LIBRARY AWARD. — Michael Lee Myers, age 14, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Lee Myers of Route 2, Mocksville, won the Special Education Award for reading the most library books this year. Michael read and reported on 101 books. The pupils go to the library each week to read and check out books. Mrs. Marjorie Hoyle, the librarian, has been most helpful in selecting books suitable for Special Education. The award was a baseball glove, contributed by Western Auto Co. of Cooleemee. Mr. V. G. Prim, principal of Cooleemee School, presented the gift to Michael with his congratulations.

About 5 P. M. Monday afternoon, a severe windstorm struck this area, doing some damage to trees, limbs, etc. A Willow tree was twisted off on Cross Street on Tom Shoaf's property. A tree was partially uprooted in front of the First Baptist Church on Marginal Street. Shingles were blown off the Presbyterian Manse on Watt Street. Leaves and small branches were scattered over the streets. On Highway 601 near South Yadkin Valley River Bridge a large tree was blown across the top of the two-story house, owned by Mrs. Fowler. Considerable damage was done to the roof. At one time it was almost impossible to see any distance due to the dust blowing, just prior to the rain.

SECOND LIEUTENANT ARNOLD L. HUSSER

(PHOTOC) May 19—Marine Reserve Second Lieutenant Arnold L. Husser, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald K. Husser, Sr. of Route 2, Advance, N. C., an aircrewman with Marine Medium Helicopter Squadron 264, shared in helping his unit qualify for deployment aboard an aircraft carrier.

The "carrier qual" took place aboard the amphibious assault ship Guadalcanal. In order to qualify, each helicopter made five landings and takeoffs from a designated spot, or "balseye", landing crosswind on a forward flight deck. While the "chopper pilot" brings his craft in, much of his success depends on the teamwork of his squadron. Completion of these qualifications makes the squadron available for immediate or short notice assignment aboard a carrier.

His squadron, a unit of Marine Air Group 26, is home based at the New River Marine Corps Station at Jacksonville.
