

Chickens By The Thousands

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Tutterow of Route 4, Mocksville got into the chicken business approximately nine years ago. While Paul is on the job at Erwin Mills, Mrs. Tutterow looks after 6,000 chickens. They have to be fed and the building must be properly ventilated, but they are watered automatically.

Mr. and Mrs. Tutterow are under contract with the All Star Feed Company. The company furnishes all the feed and every nine weeks the chickens are all sold and replaced. (Journal Photo by Barringer)

Adam Gets Bud's Goat —A Hair-Raising Tale

Have you noticed Bud Sell's hair lately? Won't stay down in the back, will it?

What happened was that Bud and Maxine flew to Puerto Rico and back last week and it almost scared Bud out of his shoes—especially when the pilot said to "Fasten your seat belts. There's a little turbulence ahead!"

What really bothered Bud, according to Maxine, was what Adam Jordan told him just before he left.

Bud was a little worried but Clay Trexler reassured him. "You're not going 'til it's your time."

"That's right," agreed Adam. "But what if it's the pilot's time?"
