Zoning To Be Discussed Here

MOCKSVILLE — The Davie County Planning Board has announced a series of public meetings to present a zoning ordinance proposal to county residents.

The proposed ordinance is one of six comprehensive planning elements prepared during the past 18 months by the Davie County Planning Board.

The ordinance as proposed would include zoned areas along such major highways as 601, 801, 64 and I-40, as well as areas in the vicinity of Cooleemee, Advance and portions of the Mocksville fringe area.

District classifications include residential, commercial and industrial.

Public meetings tentatively scheduled are Monday, Aug. 18, Shady Grove School; Friday, Aug. 22, Farmington School;

Monday, Aug. 25, William R. Davie School; Thursday, Aug. 28, Cooleemee School; and Thursday, Sept. 4, Davie County Court House.

Upon completion of the series of public meetings, a recommendation will be made by the planning board to the board of county commissioners relative to the proposed ordinance.

If the recommendation from the planning board is favorable, the commissioners will hold a public hearing on the matter.

Following a public hearing, the commissioners may adopt the ordinance as recommended by the planning board, adopt it with modifications or reject it.

Technical assistance is being provided for the planning program by the North Carolina Department of Local Affairs, Division of Community Planning, Piedmont area office in Salisbury.

The earlier planning elements include a population and economy study, land use survey and analysis, land development plan, community facilities plan and subdivision regulations.

The Davie County Board of Commissioners officially adopted the subdivision regulations last October.

Grimes Hancock Says He'll Run Next Election For Davie Sheriff

Grimes Hancock, former Davie County deputy under the late Ben Boyles, has announced his candidacy for sheriff of Davie County in the November 1970 election.

Hancock, who has 14 years experience as an officer of the law, held former positions as Chief of Police in China Grove and Chief of Police in East Spencer, after more than eight years as a deputy in Davie County.

"My decision to run for sheriff was because I have been approached by numerous persons, including Democrats, Republicans and even Independents, asking me to run in the next election, in the less than two years that I have been back in Davie County." "Because of my past experience, Hancock continued, "I feel that I know what the people in Davie County want."

Rob Kiger of Mocksville has also denounced to run on the Democratic ticket which means there will be a primary in May 1970 before the November election.

Hancock, a native of Davie County, attended Cooleemee High School and spent six years active duty with the U. S. Navy, at which time earned his high school diploma. He is married to the former Rachael Kimmer and is the father of three children, Freida, 17, David, 16, and Vickie, 15. He is presently employed by McKee Construction Company in Winston-Salem.

Before the Democratic primary in May, Hancock says that he will spend most of his spare time touring the entire county, which is certainly not unfamiliar for him.
