Registration Books To Open Saturday Through April 18th

Davie County voter registration books will open Saturday and remain open through April 18th for the purpose of registering those voters not heretofore registered.

Dr. R. F. Kemp, Chairman of the Davie County Board of Elections, said that the registrar of the various county precincts will be at the precinct voting place Saturday from 9 a. m. to 6 p. m., and also on Saturday, April 11th, and Saturday, April 18th. At other times a person may register by contacting the registrar at his home.

Saturday, April 25th, will be challenge day.

Dr. Kemp pointed out that there will be three separate elections in Davie County on May 2nd: A Democratic Primary vote; a Republican Primary vote; and a vote for members of the board of education.

"Only registered Democrats may vote in the Democratic Primary and only registered Republicans may vote in the Republican Primary", said Dr. Kemp. "Every registered voter, regardless of party affiliation, may vote in the non-partisan board of education election."

Heart Fund Passes Goal

The Davie County Heart Fund exceeded their $2500 goal this year by better than $1000 it was announced this week by President Bob Rauch.

Mr. Rauch expressed his appreciation to the citizens of Davie County for their fine response in going beyond this goal and also to the fine workers for donating their time and in doing such a great job.

New Location

The Cooleemee Hardware and Sporting Goods Store moved into a new location over the weekend. They will be operating in the store formerly occupied by Davie Furniture and Village House Furniture in the Cooleemee Shopping Center.

Business will continue as usual this week from the new location, under the same management.

Baptist 'Strength For Living' Services To End With Revival

First Baptist Church will climax its Five Week "Strength For Living" emphasis with revival services to begin Sunday and continuing through the next Sunday evening. Services will be held at 7:30 each evening.

Different speakers will be featured each evening with emphasis being placed on certain groups and ages.

Mr. Donald Green, an Attorney from Hickory will lead the worship on the first Sunday evening for Laymen's Night. Monday night will be a Youth led service with some 50 or more high school youth from East Forsyth High being with us for the service. Tuesday evening will be given to presenting the message of "Truth In Music." BUT that isn't all... several of our pastors of the community will be preaching the other nights. Rev. David Edwards, pastor of North Cooleemee Baptist on Wednesday; Rev. Walter Eades of the Church of God on Thursday, and Friday night Rev. William Cain, pastor of Jerusalem Baptist Church will preach. Saturday evening is given to prayer in preparation for the climax of the services on Sunday. Mr. Burchette, the pastor will preach at the morning worship service and Rev. William Dingus, pastor of Cooleemee Methodist Church will bring the message at the closing service of the week at 7:30 p.m. Sunday evening.

Everyone needs Strength For Living in these most crucial and trying days at the beginning of the 70's. We at First Baptist believe there will be something for you in this week, thus we give a cordial invitation to attend these services of revival.

Community Action Agency On The Move

The Davie Community Action Agency, headed by Coordinator Al Stout of Cooleemee, is on the move in Mocksville and nearby areas, both literally and figuratively.

In a literal sense, the agency moved recently when its satellite center was moved from the old location at Mocksville Middle School to the downtown location in the same building already occupied by the Davie Federal Credit Union. The office is staffed by Mrs. Doretha Wilson, community organizer.

Elsewhere on the Community Action front:
North and South Mocksville

Community Councils have been merged into one unit. The result is more efficient operation and increased interest.

Requests are being outlined for a summer recreation program.

The youth program is in full swing, with a tutorial program being conducted by Neighborhood Youth Corps and adult workers three times per week at the old satellite center at Mocksville Middle School. The Youth Council meets regularly and in addition to its meetings, has sponsored tours and trips for young people to such places as Statesville, Greensboro, Chapel Hill, Raleigh and other points of interest.

Neighborhood Youth Corps student workers are on duty in the schools, the hospital, county offices and other non-profit government agencies in the county.

Manpower Coordinator Mildred Foster reports job placements a bit slower this month, due to seasonal layoffs and generally slack business conditions. Placements will pickup soon, she figures.

A Senior Citizens group, organized in early fall in Mocksville, has become very active and has embarked on what might be called a "late start" program of educational programs, plus attending sessions to hear representatives of state and federal agencies that directly and indirectly affect their welfare.

In the works is a project to continue the program of disposing of old wrecked and junked automobile hulks left to contaminate the environment. This project was begun over a year ago, and many of the abandoned cars were moved. The chief need now, according to a Community Action Agency spokesman, is to find means and equipment to move the debris already piled up and awaiting disposal.
