

Swicegood Opposes Regional Pollution Control

Jerry Swicegood, a member of the Davie County Board of Commissioners, has gone on record opposing the association of Davie County with Surry and Forsyth in the regional air pollution control organization. In a statement released Mr. Swicegood said:

"I have studied this and find that it offers our county nothing."

"As I see it, a county commissioner is an elected spokesman for the people and due to this I find that there is almost unanimous opposition to the regional air pollution control setup and I see no reason to go against the people's wishes", he said.
