

Another Proof of the Promptness of this Old, Strong Life Insurance Co.---

The "Home Life," of New York.

Read the following Testimonial from Mrs. J. A. Jones and be convinced beyond any doubt as to the "Home Life" Insurance Co. It is Old, Strong, Reliable and Prompt.

The proof in this case left the office March 6, 1914, and was paid March 9, 1914---Only 3 days.

Snow Hill, N. C., March 11th, 1914.

Mr. H. L. Humphrey, General Agent, Home Life Ins. Co.,
Farmville, North Carolina.

Dear Sir:—Please accept thanks for the prompt payment of the $3,000 policy held by my husband, J. A. Jones. We appreciate the effort on your part and the business like manner in which the company deals with its policy holders, and we congratulate the company in securing so faithful a worker; one who looks well to the interest of all concerned. We would recommend the "Home Life" as one of the safest companies in which to insure.

With best wishes for your success, I beg to remain,

Your sincere friend, MRS. J. A. JONES.

If you want the BEST policy in the BEST company in the world, one that will treat you right and your beneficiary the same way, then see what we have to offer.

MATTER OF SHAPE

Beak—Isn't it queer that a pointed beak, although square, is called a beak?
Jock—Not necessarily; it is intended to go round.

THE FOG FERN

One of the great congestions of all time for human safety will be the discovery of some efficient means of signaling to every ship at sea the approach and position of any other vessel which may come near in a fog. So far, the fog horn remains as dumbly as it ever was. In some respects the conditions change for the worse. The growth of commerce increases the number of ships which traverse the seas. Every year the water highways are more fully occupied and the tendency is toward a higher average speed. Nothing can be done through a dense fog. Nothing can be heard with sufficient distinctness and certainty at the distance and direction to meet the demands of safety. The best fog signals in use repeatedly fail to avert terrible collisions. —Standard Builder.

FOR YOUR PET DOG

The dog which can hear and see to home in winter should not be neglected and exposed to severe cold. A good-sized doghouse can be made of a single board by cutting a round hole in one end. There is no dog over it and place something inside for the dog to sleep on. Set the house in a sheltered place where the sun will shine on it during the day. After the dog leaves where his sleeping place is a piece of carpet can be tacked over the top of the door to make a storm door.

SOME NOISE.

Yeast—I heard you upstairs about two o'clock this morning, making an awful noise.
Crumbcrust—Is that so?
"It is. Were you just tumbling into bed?"

EASY.

Gabe—You can always tell a self-made man before he opens his mouth.
Sage—How?
Gabe—By the size of his head.

TRAGEDY OF RESERVE.

"I understand that actor, who plays so reserved, is never observed to be familiar with anybody."
"That's so—yet every one knows him."

ANOTHER WAY.

"Well, old Shindler has gone up at last."
"In business?"
"No; in the elevator."

NO PRESUMPTION.

"Do you believe in treating your help like the family?"
"No, indeed; why, our cook wouldn't stand for such familiarity."

QUESTION OF ECONOMY.

"What means this beef political economy?" asked Rastus, who was endeavoring to wade through a paper.
"From de way de politicians down our wald is actin'," answered Rastus. "I expects it means de most vices for de least money."—Kansas City Star.

For the Road

OUR RAYO DRIVING LAMP is the most compact and efficient lighting device for all kinds of vehicles. Will not blow out or jar out. Equipped with thumb screws, so that it is easily attached or detached. Throws a clear light 200 feet ahead. Extra large red danger signal in back.

It is equipped with handle, and when detached makes a good hand lantern. Strong. Durable. Will last for years.
