YES—Sometimes it is—but look out when the "BUMP" COMES.
A man may go on quite a long while spending every dollar he earns, and have great time doing it, but eventually, "thorns" will show.
The "rainy-day" is bound to come sooner or later, when mis-spent dimes and dollars would come in mighty good.
The time to throw off the spending habit is now—start by depositing just a little each week in this bank, and see how much more comfortable and independent you will feel as the habit grows and your dimes and dollars multiply.
