JOYNER-DEANS.

Miss Ruth Deans, one of Wilson's Loveliest and most highly Accomplished Daughters, Becomes the Life Companion of Mr. Ben. A. Joyner, Farmville's Newly Elected Mayor and one of State's Most Promising Young Business Men.

Inadequate are words in our vocabulary to fully express the beauty and loveliness of the wedding which took place in Wilson Wednesday evening, May 5th, at the home of the bride's parents, when Miss Ruth Deans, the lovely and accomplished daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Deans, became the life companion of our townsman and newly elected mayor, Mr. Ben. A. Joyner.

The home was most attractively decorated with ferns, potted plants and evergreens, intermingled with large and fragrant home grown pink and white roses, constituting a scene of rare beauty.

Promptly at 8:30 the ceremony began, just prior to the entrance of the bridal party, Mr. H. D. Brown, of Wilson, sang a solo Schubert's Serenade, with piano accompaniment by the pianist of the occasion, Miss Susiegray Woodard, of Wilson. The bridal party then entered the left wing of the home upon the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march where the bride, leaning upon the arm of her father, met the groom with his best man and brother, Mr. J. W. Joyner, of Farmville, at a rose bower altar of white and green. The bride was handsomely and beautifully gowned in white Duchess Satin trimmed with pearls and bridal veil decorated with orange blossoms and carried a huge shower bouquet of bride's roses and lilies of the valley.

The attendants were Miss Lucy Farmer, of Wilson, Maid of honor, wearing pink crepe de chene draped with lace, carrying a bouquet of pink and white roses and sweet peas; Mrs. Edwin G. Deans, of Stantonsburg, in her wedding dress of white Duchess Satin and chantly lace, with bouquet of lovely white roses, and bride's maids Miss Ruth Dawson, of Rocky Mount, and Misses Lillie Belle Whitehurst, Mary Lane and Clyde Deans, of Wilson, dressed in pink and white crepe de chene, and carrying green baskets filled with ferns and home grown roses. The groomsmen, attired in full dress, were Mr. J. O. Pollard, of Farmville; Mr. Edwin G. Deans, of Stantonsburg; Mr. C. O. Clarke, of Wilson; and Dr. Chas. Edge, of Rocky Mount. The little ribbon and flower girls being Misses Yarelle Nutall and Margarette Bridgers, attractively gowned in pink and white.

The impressive ring ceremony of the M. E. Church was performed by the bride's pastor, Rev. M. Bradshaw, of Wilson, who prayed God's richest blessings upon the happy newly wedded couple.

Immediately after the wedding ceremony and the bestowing of heartfelt congratulations and best wishes a delicious luncheon was served. In the receiving line were Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Joyner, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Deans, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Joyner, Mrs. Fannie L. Joyner, Mrs. Helen Watkins, Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Edge, Mr. McD. Horton and bridal party. In the library, which was decorated in green and white, the guests were received by Miss Frances Newbold, of Hertford, and Misses Jessie Fulghum and Susiegray Woodard, of Wilson, who ushered them to the punch bowl where delicious fruit punch was served.

THE "ZONE," THE PLAYGROUND OF THE PEOPLE OF THE WORLD AT THE PANAMA-PACIFIC INTERNATIONAL EXPOSITION

Through the center of the Zone, the amusement section at the Panama-Pacific International exposition at San Francisco, runs a broad avenue three thousand feet in length. It is not unusual for this entire avenue to be jammed with entertainment seekers who are busy patronizing the one hundred concessions on the Zone. An exact reproduction of the Panama canal is one of the popular and instructive features, there being a constant flow both day and night of people eager to see the workings of the miniature canal. The premier showmen of America have assembled here their finest offerings of amusement, edification and instruction.

ner, Mrs. Fannie L. Joyner, Mrs. Helen Watkins, Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Edge, Mr. McD. Horton and bridal party. In the library, which was decorated in green and white, the guests were received by Miss Frances Newbold, of Hertford, and Misses Jessie Fulghum and Susiegray Woodard, of Wilson, who ushered them to the punch bowl where delicious fruit punch was served.

The guests were then ushered into the large and beautifully decorated dining room, the color scheme of which was pink and green, by Mrs. R. T. White, of Hertford, and Mesdames Tom Washington and Campbell Dance, of Wilson, where ice cream, cake, mints and salted peanuts were served—thus ending one of the most enjoyable social events of many seasons.

Mr. and Mrs. Joyner, under showers of rice, congratulations and best wishes, left at the 11:40 Norfolk Southern train for Norfolk where they took a steamer for an extended bridal tour. They will visit Baltimore, Washington, New York and other Northern cities, including a trip up the great lakes, after which they will return to Farmville, the home of the groom.

From the large number of beautiful and costly gifts received no couple enjoys a larger number of friends and well wishes.

Among those of Farmville and other towns to attend the wedding we note the following:

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Joyner, Mrs. Fannie L. Joyner, Mrs. Helen Watkins, Dr. and Mrs. Paul E. Jones, Miss Mae Barrett, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Moore, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Townsend and Messrs. J. O. Pollard, Jas. W. Joyner, B. Streeter Sheppard, McD. Horton, W. Leslie Smith, G. E. Moore and Editor G. A. Rouse, of Farmville; Mr. and Mrs. I. V. and Dr. Chas. Edge and Miss Ruth Dawson, of Rocky Mount; Mr. R. T. White and Miss Frances Newbold, of Hertford; Mr. and Mrs. Edwin G. Deans and Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Cox, of Stantonsburg and Mr. R. E. Willoughby, of Greenville.

SUIT CASES BY PARCEL POST

Growing Fad for Vacationists to Send Sailed Linen to the City to Be Laundered and Returned.

If you are going to the country and want to lend a few gray hairs to the heads of Postmaster William E. Kelly and Albert P. Kuch, superintendent of mails at the Brooklyn (N. Y.) post office, just ship your suit case to its destination by parcel post. Or, better still, after you get there, fill it with laundry and send it to the city to have the things done up and returned to you. Everybody's doing it.

According to Superintendent Kuch the practice of sending clothes and linen to and from the city to be laundered and returned has grown to be quite a fad. Every two hours there are between 20 and 30 suit cases received at the main post office in Brooklyn for parcel post shipment. The low cost at which shipments can be made has made it a very attractive custom to hundreds of vacationists, the charge for any point within a radius of 150 miles being only five cents for the first pound and one cent for each additional pound up to 50. An empty suit case weighs about four or five pounds, and when full about thirty-five or forty pounds.

JOURNALISM IN ST. PETERSBURG

Journalism is a venturesome profession in St. Petersburg, where 30,000 men have gone on strike as a protest against the measures taken against the labor press. Two years ago, when a Russian labor journal, Novaya Rabotchaya Gazeta, issued its one hundredth number, it was able to report that of the previous issues 25 had been confiscated, and for various articles in other issues fines aggregating $500 had been imposed. The terms of imprisonment for the non-payment of fines totaled 51 months. The editor of the one hundredth number was the thirteenth to hold the post, all his predecessors being in prison at the time it was published.

BLACK DYE WILL BE SCARCE

Owing to the European War Browns and Grays Will Be Popular.

You may have to wear a brown or gray hat next winter whether you like that color or not. One of the things which the flying bullets in Europe have shot to pieces is black dyes.

I learn from a large hat factory here that most of the blacks come from Germany, but the war has suspended their importation into Philadelphia, says a writer in the Ledger of that city. That's why you may have to fall back upon a brown derby.

Those cannon shots were also heard at Diston's saw works, where some thousands of workmen were made idle the other day.

A chemical manufacturer is my authority for saying that a certain ingredient for which they paid 17 cents a pound two weeks ago is now worth $1.50.

And an electrical supply man tells me that the metal used in tungsten lamps is rapidly becoming scarce as trout in a milk can. Americans can withstand the hardships incident to a cessation of such imports as silk, furs, laces, diamonds and champagne. The real pinch comes when we cannot get the commodities needed by so many of our manufacturers.

TWO PROFESSIONALS.

Low Dockstader, the minstrel, was introduced recently to a man who owned a place in New Hampshire.

"Lots of good fishing up your way?" asked Dockstader. "I hear you own a farm up the White mountain way."

"Good fishing?" cried the other, enthusiastically. "Well, Mr. Dockstader, I went out one morning recently and brought back 17 trout for breakfast. Got 'em in a half hour's time, too. We had guests at the cottage and they thought that quite remarkable."

"Glad I met you, sir," said Dockstader, holding out his hand with a look of admiration. "I'm a professional myself."

"A professional?" exclaimed the other. "What, fisherman?"

"No," was the answer. "no—narrator."—Green Book Magazine.

REV. Y. E. WRIGHT

SUCCUMBS TO PNEUMONIA—The North Carolina M. E. Conference and Farmville Circuit loses in the Death of Mr. Wright one of its Truest Ministers of the Gospel.—Body was laid to rest in Cemetery at Farmville.

Rev. Yancy Ellerbe Wright, born in Richmond county, N. C. March 24th, 1868, died in Farmville, of Pneumonia, Thursday afternoon April 29th, 1915, in his 47th year. He was licensed to preach in his 22nd year and joined the North Carolina Conference of the M. E. church at a session held in Elizabeth City the first of December 1895, and was first appointed to pastoral work on the Pantego circuit, which he successfully filled for two years. Other charges served since, are Roanoke, Washington, Clinton, Scotts Hill, Whiteville, Magnolia, Rose Hill, Roberdell, Richmond, and at the last annual meeting of the Conference, which was held in Washington, he was sent to the Farmville circuit.

In the death of Mr. Wright, not only has the M. E. Conference lost one of its best, most consecrated and truest ministers of the gospel, but Farmville circuit and this grand old commonwealth has lost a man in whom the spirit of God dwelt—a life that means more to a town, community, state and nation than the human mind can begin to fully estimate. His life in Farmville, though but a few months, has been a great blessing to those with whom he mingled and no death could have cast a heavier gloom of sorrow upon Farmville and this section.

The funeral services of Mr. Wright were held in the Methodist church last Friday afternoon just prior to the burial which took place in the cemetery here, and was conducted by Presiding Elder, C. L. Reed, whose headquarters are Washington; assisted by Revs. M. Bradshaw, of Wilson; J. M. Daniels, of Greenville; C. O. Durant, of Snow Hill; J. W. Bradley, of Hookerton; and the following local preachers: Rev. John Matthews, of the Episcopal church; Rev. J. E. Kird, of the Baptist church, and Rev. C. B. Mashburn, of the Christian church. Each of whom spoke in highest praise of their association with this man of God. Beautifully was his life presented to the large number present on this sad occasion by those men in the higher circles of the church of Christ, and though he will be with us no more on earth in person, his christian-character will linger in the minds and hearts of every one throughout the ages; for his was the true life, and now he has gone to receive his precious crown of glory.

Carrying out the request of Mr. Wright, "that his body be buried where he gave up the cause of Christ," the remains were placed in the cemetery in Farmville. The floral designs were many and most lovely seen here in years, showing the high esteem in which he was held by our people. The honorary and active pall bearers were Messrs. J. W. Parker, A. C. Mohr, Jno. T. Thorne, J. M. Christman, W. E. Boyce, Lee Wilkinson, W. A. White, G. Allen, and Messrs. J. H. Darden, R. R. Newton, J. G. Smith, R. A. Fields, A. H. Joy-

B. A. JOYNER ELECTED MAYOR OF FARMVILLE

In ratification of the action of the recent Democratic town convention, Tuesday, May 4th, the voters of Farmville unanimously elected Mr. B. A. Joyner Mayor of Farmville for the ensuing term of two years, to succeed Mr. T. C. Turnage, who has held that office with credit to himself and the town for the past four years. The new board of commissioners, who were also elected without opposition are Messrs. R. L. Davis, R. E. Belcher, B. S. Smith, J. I. Morgan and T. E. Joyner.

In the matter of many needed permanent improvements, it is believed the new administration will set a new high record of achievements, and in their efforts Mayor Joyner and his associates will receive the hearty co-operation of all Farmville citizens.

Lightning Kills two near Farmville Tuesday afternoon.

During a heavy electrical storm that swept over this section Tuesday afternoon about four o'clock lightning struck and instantly killed Mrs. Dave Brock aged 42, and Mr. K. W. Wainwright, aged 74, who resided on the Travis Hooker farm near town. Two others, Mr. John Blandford and Master Joseph Wainwright, were stunned by the same bolt. These people were enroute to the house from the field where they had been replanting corn; each with their hoe on shoulder when the crash came. News of the affair soon had a physician to the scene, but was of no avail only to the stunned, as Mrs. Brock and Mr. Wainwright were no doubt dead in the falling in the field. The sad occurrence has cast a gloom over the entire section.

ner, H. L. Spivey and H. H. McLean.

Mr. Wright is survived by his wife and four children; two brothers, rev. John M. Wright, of Goldsboro, and Mr. Durant Wright, of Old Hundred and a large number of relatives and close friends.

Among the relatives and close friends of the family here to attend the funeral and pay the last sad homage to the deceased were Rev. John M. Wright, and Mr. and Mrs. I. Peele, of Goldsboro; Durant Wright and John W. Woodard, of Old Hundred; W. L. Wright and E. V. Jones, of Raleigh; Rev. B. H. Black, of Rose Hill, and Dr. E. H. Jones, father of Mrs. Wright, of Swan Quarter.

The Enterprise bespeaks the deepest sympathy of this section for the saddened hearts caused by the departure of Rev. Mr. Wright and prays that the protecting care of Him who reigns be with them all.

Chicago prohibitionists are all puffed up because a baby camel was born in Lincoln park zoo the other day. The camel, you know, takes a drink but once in nine days.
