MORTE POUR FRANCE

Spring has come again and tender green covers the battle-scarred earth. Nature, the sovereign panacea, has already begun her work of restoration—flowers blossom over the graves of fallen heroes. Soon May will bring the poppies, "between the crosses, row on row," little gray crosses, each with its aluminum identification tag—and those that mark the graves of the men who are buried in French cemeteries inscribed with the words "Morte Pour France."

Sixty thousand Americans lie asleep in France, "Morte Pour France"—surely no other sentence could tell the story half so well. "Dead for France." Probably the best known poem of the war is one quoted below. "In Flanders Fields," breathing the fine spirit of sacrifice for an ideal. "America's Answer" filled all feet that the sacrifice was in vain, and now when victory is within our grasp, comes "America's Consecration," judging a victory of right.

"Do it, but first to save,
In memory of the life you gave,
These rights for which your blood was shed
In Flanders Fields."

This is our task in memory of those sixty thousand dead, to insure the victory over war, else they have died for naught.

To every citizen of the United States between this opportunity, the last opportunity to measure up to the standard set by the boys. The greatest victory of a nation is won now, and the share that will bring it about will be made of dollars. Lead yours to aid the war. The Victory Liberty Loan bonds.

The Senate authorized the "Victory Loan" bonds. That the War Department should have the authority to issue bonds and to sell them in any part of the country, and that the Secretary of War should be authorized to suspend the sale of bonds in any part of the country.

POLITICAL ADVERTISEMENT

April 22, 1919.

Hon. John H. Small,
Washington, D. C.

Dear Sir:

I have your letter of April 19th, and have read and re-read the same very carefully.

I note that you say you had Mr. S. S. Mann, clerk of the committee of which you were chairman, make a careful investigation of the records regarding the charges which I made, and that your recital is based upon his investigation and written report. (Paragraph No. 2, page No. 7 your letter.)

I beg to advise that the investigation which was made for me, was done by the Republican Congressional Campaign Committee and my recital, was based upon that investigation and you will notice that each item gave the Congressional Record and page of the date supporting the same. I personally believe that this investigation was correct.

Your letter is by no means a defense, but an attempt at an explanation which is not due me so much as it due the constituency which you represent, and I will be interested to see your letter given the publicity which you state you will give it.

You refer to my attack upon your official and personal integrity; in so far as you claim that I even alluded to your personal integrity, I respectfully make no reply simply pass it by as adolescent chat. With respect to your official integrity I beg to say that a man who set himself up as a servant of the public good invites public criticism with respect to his official conduct and record; and any man who resorts to an investigation of his official record is an enemy of the constituency which he expects his constituents to impose in him.

It appears to me, Mr. Small, that you are a little peeved by cause at the expenditure of much time on my part and some little investigation together with a little courage, your official record was held up to the public in this district in such a manner as you never had seen before, and as a consistent citizen contesting for the office, which you have held, I considered it my duty in the interests of practical democracy to turn on the light, which I tried most sincerely to do. If the light was blinding to you, I hope you will in due time recover your sight.

So far as John H. Small personally is concerned, I have always considered you and consider you now, a splendid type of fellow and I defy you to prove that I have ever said in public or private anything to the contrary; but so far as John H. Small, Congressman from the First District of North Carolina, is concerned, well, if you should be a successful candidate from the Democratic Party in the next election, my present intentions are to meet you at "Phillippi", I am,

Yours very truly,
C. R. FUGH.
