Dear Sir:-

I am writing to express to you my sincere appreciation of your efforts in securing for me the splendid sale of the property of my sisters and myself and Mrs. E. J. Hadley, in La Grange, on the 19th inst. Candor impels me to admit that we were not only delighted at the sale but that you secured for us results that surpassed our expectations. I do not mean by this that I think the property sold too high, for I have much confidence in La Grange and believe that the purchasers not only got good value but are fortunate in their purchases.

The excellent results obtained are to be attributed largely to your Company; the wide advertisement that you gave the sale and the good business judgment and tact manifested in attracting a large crowd and in conducting the sale itself brought results which have well pleased those whom you represented, and doubtless it is a source of much gratification to yourself.

Again thanking you, and with best wishes,

Yours very truly,
(Signed) N. J. ROUSE

that Mother gave me for my wedding present. Its even, steady fire makes cooking and baking a pleasure.”

Miss C.—“Yes, that's a fine looking loaf of bread all right, but why do you try to tell your neighbor on the back list?”

Mrs. A.—“Oh! That's another fine thing about this range—you can cook and broil, fry, boil, and steam. It never cooks your dinner with coal and dirt, for it is constructed with Cole's Hot Blast Burner, which Tom says burns all burnable material in our best range and all—wasting nothing and saving fuel on our hot list. Tom says it is just the range for your needs, or cooking the healthiest way to save.”

Miss C.—“It looks a little like range?”

Mrs. A.—“Yes, the smooth nickel trimmings and plain body are so easy to keep clean, and the hot list for some pictures mounted and scrubbing underneath the stove very easy. Now you could have a nice wedding present, and I do hope that each of you will get one when you are married.”

COTTON IS HEAVILY DAMAGED BY RAIN THROUGHOUT BELT.

New York.—The heavy and continued rains in nearly all the cotton belt states, except the Carolinas and Georgia, has worked the heaviest damage on cotton for many years at this stage of the growing crop.
