

JUST FUN

Maria Fuzza.
 Sybil—Have repeatedly told my wife that I wanted her to marry her dog.
 Myles—Perfectly right.
 "But she has repeatedly told me she'd do nothing of the kind."
 "Well, what was the result?"
 "We compromised."
 "How so?"
 "She married me."

Where the Guests All Go.
 "We're having our collar decorated; going to put some rugs on the cement floor and hang our best pictures on the walls."
 "What's the idea?"
 "If I've got to entertain all my friends down there I thought I might as well have the place made comfortable and respectable."

An Easy Mark.
 "There's a lady up in front who wants to buy an oriental vase," said the curio dealer's assistant.
 "Does she look as if she had money?"
 "Yes, but she doesn't look as if she'd had it long."
 "Good. I'll wait on her myself."

Naturally Fitted.
 Young Student, in higher school for girls, to teacher (sneakily)—Is it true, professor, that your father started in as a goose shepherd?
 Professor (quietly)—Very true, little miss; my ancestral heritage has particularly qualified me to handle geese.

A Linguistic Puzzle.
 The Foreigner—There is something in your language I cannot understand.
 The Native—What is that?
 The Foreigner—Why, you say a man is of loose habits when he starts to get tight.

Easily Fixed.
 "What will you give me for this horse?"
 "A load of hay," replied the farmer.
 "What would I want with hay and no horse to eat it?"
 "Well, I'd be willing to lend you the horse till the hay was all gone."

A MISNOMER.
 "I can't understand why they call this a pleasure car."
 "Why not?"
 "The blame thing has given me nothing but trouble."

In Real Life.
 To marry a fairy
 Seemeth well in a book,
 But wary men marry
 A competent cook.

One Thing Certain.
 "Who was it that said he builded better than he knew?" asked the old fogey.
 "I dunno," replied the grinch. "But it wasn't the contractor who erected the rickshack that building I am living in."

Accustomed to Shelling Out.
 "And what are you collecting for, my dear young lady?"
 "I don't really know myself. Some body or other needs help, and—" "I understand. No doubt it is a worthy cause. Will $1,000 be enough?"

First Thing Handy.
 "Why did you sit your friend over the head without provocation?"
 "Because when I said I was always lucky at shooting, cups, completely laid me to rest on wood chips, and there was nothing else handy."

The Beautiful Rich.
 "What a lovely girl!"
 "Think so? Her uncle left her a million dollars just a few months ago."
 "That's all right, she isn't as fat looking after all."

Would Be More Popular.
 Miss Otis (to her waiter)—I am thinking of getting a love story found all on my own experience.
 Miss Young—Kindly better give it a hamper of eggs, Sam.

The Editor.
 "I'm not accused him of foul play, did I accuse him?"
 "No, naturally not. When I told him I was he was green with envy, he grew red."

The Curious Instrument.
 "Why do they always try to break a window?"
 "They can't find any more."
 "They might try a statistics box."

COMMISSIONERS' SALE OF VALUABLE TOWN PROPERTY.

State of North Carolina, County of Pitt.

In the Superior Court, September Term, 1920,
 In Re: Probate of the last will and Testament of W. R. Leggett, and In Re: Probate of the last will and Testament of Mary A. Smith, et als.

By virtue of the provisions of a decree entered at the September Civil Term, 1920, of Pitt Superior Court, by Hon. W. M. Bond, judge presiding, to which proceedings all parties of interest in the estate of W. R. Leggett, Mary Ann Smith, Sarah Jane McGowan, and Mary Martha Edwards have been regularly made parties.

The undersigned commissioners appointed in said cause by said Decree will sell in the town of Farmville on Monday, the 6th day of December, 1920, the following described real estate, to-wit:

"All that certain lot or parcel of land lying and being in the town of Farmville, Pitt County, N. C., bounded on the North by the Public School House Property, and the land of Haywood Moore, on the west by the lands of Mrs. Bettie Belcher, on the South by the lands of Mrs. Martha Belcher and T. L. Turnage, and on East by Main street, containing 3 and 1/3 acres of land; the said land being the same which was conveyed by Dicie Jones to Mary A. Leggett, by deed dated Nov. 17, 1910, and recorded in book page Register of Deeds office Pitt County."

The said land will be offered for sale in front of said property on the day named and will be first sold in parcels, and then sold as a whole, and the sale bringing the highest price will be approved.

The sale will commence at 12:00 o'clock M. December 6th, 1920.
 Terms of sale, one third cash, and the balance payable in one and two years, the deferred payments bearing six per cent interest payable annually, and secured by a mortgage on the property.

November 1, 1920,
 HARRY W. WHEDEBEE,
 W. G. SHEPPARD,
 J. LOYD HORTON,
 Commissioners.

Oh Ma Honey

WHAT BISCUITS
 Light as a feather, gold brown and oh so good. Make them with Occo-nee-chee Self-Rising Flour and save the time of boiling, powder, salt and soda. This flour contains these ingredients in exact proportions for perfect baking results.
 Just measure out enough flour for the morning's biscuits, add the eggs or milk, place in the oven and your work is done.
 It is more economical to buy the powder, than to salt already mixed with the flour, and many times more expensive. The Occo-nee-chee flour, whether the Occo-nee-chee Self-Rising Flour.
