ROADS CONSTRUCTED IN 1921

Approximately 28,000 Miles Built During Year Just Passed—Materials Lower.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Road building has recovered from the setback received during the war, and prospects are bright for the future. Approximately 14,000 miles of road were constructed during the present season by the states in conjunction with federal aid, according to the bureau of public roads, United States Department of Agriculture, and probably an equal amount independent of federal aid. More miles of improved road were built than during any other year.

Costs of road grading and construction with local materials is down practically to the 1914 level. Some reductions, also, have been made in freight rates on road materials. The importance of this item is shown by the fact that in some cases it has been estimated that increased freight rates have added 10 per cent to the cost of a road. Prices of manufactured road materials tend downward; the present level is materially lower than that of a year ago.

With the new appropriation by congress of $75,000,000, added impetus will be given to new road construction. Many of the states are considering en-

GARMENTS FOR SPORTS WEAR

Knitted Caps Are Among the Most Favored Numbers; Sweaters in Tuxedo Models.

Knitted garments, apparently, are being more and more strongly featured in the new sports wear showings. Knitted capes, large affairs which drape into shawls, are among the most favored numbers. Silk and wool mixtures are popular, usually in two-tone mixtures, about 60 per cent silk. Suits of the darker mixtures are bound about with bright colored bands. An attractive dress is shown with fur collared cape to match. The cape may be tied at the waistline, giving smart overskirt effect to the garment.

Knitted capes, large affairs which drape into shawls are hard made. Sweaters are shown in Tuxedo models, or slip on with V or straight neck. Silk numbers use bright colored stripings, while hand-knit wool ones are shown with attached scarfs of many colors.

Knicker costumes continue to feature, but are being more in demand for sports than for street wear. Western houses form the bulk of the order business. It is said, many calls coming for the separate knickers.

An effective original design golf costume of soft material in tan with brown overplaid is featured by a prominent sports house. The suit consists of sleeveless jumper, skirt, cape and knickers, the latter included if desired. The skirt fastens at the side, and may be unsnapped for added width if the wearer desires it for tramping or golf.

aps lined with black satin. The contrast is almost as startling as black and white, yet the grayish tone makes them possible for winter wear.

The dress coat and the coat dress are still important, and the resemblance between them is so great that it is difficult to distinguish one from the other. There are models designed for coat purposes which look like dresses; again there are models, distinctly dresses, that have a most coat-like appearance. Both types agree on high-neck finishes and large sleeves. Practically all have long sleeves and low waistlines. If they are of the chemise type they must blouse over a low-placed girdle of some sort. The stay of permitting this type of garment to hang in a perfectly unbroken line has passed.

A new idea appears in the coat dress, or robe manteau, as the French call it, developed in velvet or heavy woolen material and shown with a short circular cape and muff of fur. The muff is crescent shape.

NOW USE DYED RABBIT SKIN

None would guess this coat to be of rabbit; yet it really is dyed bunny fur. The comfy stork collar, belt, and invisible pockets are features.

MOTHER! CLEAN CHILD'S BOWELS WITH CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP

Even a sick child loves the "Luity" taste of "California Fig Syrup." If the little tongue is coated, or if your child is listless, cross, feverish, full of cold, or has colic, give a teaspoonful to cleanse the liver and bowels. In a few hours you can see for yourself how thoroughly it works all the constipation, sour bile and waste out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again.

Millions of mothers keep "California Fig Syrup" handy. They know a teaspoonful today saves a sick child tomorrow. Ask your druggist for genuine "California Fig Syrup" which has directions for babies and children of all ages printed on bottle. Mother! You must say "California" or you may get an imitation fig syrup.—Advertisement.

HEAT INFLUENCES CONCRETE

Discovery Made That Edges Curl Up and Down in Response to Temperature Changes.

That the edges of concrete roads curl up and down in response to changes in temperature is the discovery recently made by the bureau of public roads of the United States Department of Agriculture in the course of experiments at the department's experimental farm at Arlington, Va.

Curling is caused by the unequal expansion and contraction of the upper and lower sides of the concrete slab under the influence of heat. It has been observed during the middle of the day when the surface of the road becomes hot it expands more than the cooler underside and causes the sides to move downward. At night when the surface is cool the contraction causes the edges to rise slightly. The extreme movement may be as much as one-tenth of an inch.

While the warping of the concrete is not in itself detrimental to the road, it may lead to failure of the surface under the wheels of vehicles which travel over it when parts of it are not resting on the ground.

HAUL PRODUCTS TO MARKET

Enormous Amount Carried Over Country Roads Shows Necessity of Better Conditions.

The necessity of keeping country roads in good condition is shown by a report recently compiled by the bureau of public roads and estimates, United States Department of Agriculture, showing the extent to which they are used in hauling farm products to market. According to the report, which shows the tonnage of 13 products hauled on country roads, giving the yearly average for the period from 1915 to 1919, there were in tone of these 13 crops hauled for every 100 acres of land. The average tonnage of the 13 crops hauled on country roads each year for the period mentioned amounted to $3,000,000. From the 13 crops mentioned in the report are corn, wheat, oats, barley, rye, rice, faxseed, cotton (including seed), tobacco, pasture and cultivated hay.

labeled amounts of state aid, and the new law will have a tendency to encourage this policy. It will also secure the construction of a system of interstate and intercounty highways, rather than haphazard selection of roads as in some cases in the past.

HOW GIRLS WEAR THEIR HAIR

Head Dresses That Simulate Bobbed Cut Are More in Favor at Present.

Some of the head dresses, among the younger girls, have taken a very prominent place. The collures are simple enough—more often than not being those that have been bobbed and made comfortable in the last degree. But there is usually some sort of extra adornment somewhere on the head, if it is only a slightly jeweled comb, that is pushed in carefully to keep the front locks of a Dutch cut in position.

The head dresses that simulate a bobbed cut are even more in the public eye than are those which are actually cut short. Many are the young ladies who prefer to keep the full length of their locks intact, and then to make them look as though they had been clipped off. On these hair arrangements there is usually imposed some sort of decoration if it is only a band or jewels across the forehead.

When the contour of the face demands the strain the hair is pulled straight back from the forehead, and then further ornamented with horizontal bands of hair near the ears, for it is the covering of the ears that will cause the most necessary hair matter in winter fashion and good sense. are favorite hair adornments for the younger girls. They are neither very heavy nor large, but they are just accentuated enough to add that extra finish to a simple frock which can be so much the making of its last effect. Bracelets with the short sleeves, and with the entire lack of sleeves, are favorite adornments, and, while they are not over conspicuous in their design, they are still distinctly brilliant, and a girl wears many of them in different jewels and colorings if the fancy strikes her.

IRREGULAR HEM IS FEATURE

Distinctive Fashion Carried Out by Use of Panels and Drapes—Fur in Favor.

The irregular hem, such a distinctive feature of many of the new fall frocks and which is carried out by the use of panels and drapes, is also to be met with in the long suit coats, which as a rule are inclined to flare around the bottom.

The use of fur is another characteristic of the new suits. Often an entire jacket coat will be lined with fur from some sort of animal, or a panel of fur will be used for the collar, while the rest of the garment will be made of some other material.

Fur fabrics which imitate such animals as beaver and mink are also being used in quantities on the new frocks, suits and coats.
