Prepare Now to Get Winter Eggs

Learn the Secret of Winter Eggs. Back no longer on a strike during the winter. Many who never could make hens lay when eggs were high are getting back to the business thanks to the discovery of a secret.

Peasant products have brought about the change. A Southern chemist began experimenting years ago and the result was Government Laying Feed, a mixture of cream, yeast, cake, fish scrap and grain.

It made hens quickly grow new feathers after molting and start laying. Flocks of the heaviest breeds of poultry begin laying at about 5 months old.

When used, no great scraps or waste are needed, for this feed is a well-balanced ration. It insures a balanced ration—having such has got sufficient protein and protein in every needed form.

GOVERNMENT LAYING FEED is sold in all stores. Money back if not satisfied. Dealers: The Farmville Store, Farmville, N. C.

SALE OF VICTROLA. Victrola records and gramophones for sale at the lowest prices. Cash will be paid for any records and gramophones. On application to the Farmville Store, Farmville, N. C.

DOUBLE WEDDING.

Lane-Turnage and Trevathan-Turnage.

A double wedding of much interest locally, and to Edgecombe and Pamlico counties, was solemnized Tuesday evening at seven-thirty o'clock at the Presbyterian church in Fountain, when the two charming daughters of Mr. Henry C. Turnage, Misses Myrtle and Ethel, became the brides of Dr. Edgar Lane and Mr. Earl Trevathan, respectively. The ring ceremony was impressively performed by Rev. Daniel Iverson of Tarboro.

Before the arrival of the bridal party, the "Bridal Chorus" from the "Rose-Maid" was beautifully rendered by a chorus of well trained voices followed by a solo "I Love You Truly" by Mrs. Floyd Turnage accompanied by Miss Nell Owens.

The ushers were Messrs. Floyd Turnage, brother of the bride, and Clyde Webb, of Pinetop. The dames of honor were Mrs. Sam Parker of Pinetops, and Mrs. Hardy Johnson, of Fountain, both sisters of the brides.

They were becomingly attired in blue afternoon dresses with black picture hats and carried arm bouquets of white chrysanthemums. The flower girl, little Notoma Lane, sister of Dr. Lane in a dainty white lace dress carried a basket of small white decorative chrysanthemums.

Little Bruce Beasley, in a white cloth suit, carried a large lily in each hand, each one containing a wedding ring. The brides entered together. Miss Myrtle Turnage wore a handsome suit of navy marten with gray hat and accessories, while Miss Ethel wore a suit of wood brown duvetya trimmed with beaver, each carried a shower bouquet of bride's roses and valley lilies. The grooms entered from the side and awaited the brides at the altar.

Mrs. Lane and Mrs. Trevathan are both accomplished and charming young women. Dr. Lane is a promising young physician of Pinetops and Mr. Trevathan is interested in the garage business in Tarboro.

Immediately after the ceremony the young couples left for a tour of northern cities; and will be at home in Pinetops and Tarboro respectively after November 25th.
