SHADE.

By Theodosia Garrison) The kindest thing God ever made, His hand of very healing laid · Upon a fevered world, is shade.

His glorious company of trees Threw out their mantles, and on these The dust-stained wanderer finds ease.

Green temples, closed against the beat Of noontime's blinding glare and heat, Open to any pilgrim's feet.

The white road blisters in the sun; Now, half the weary jurney done, Enter and rest, O weary one!

And feel the dew of dawn still wet Beneath thy feet, and so forget The burning highway's ache and fret.

This is God's hospitality, And whose rests beneath a tree Hath cause to thank God gratefully.

Nobody takes advice, but evidently everybody thinks it fun to give it

Those who have the best qualifications for position and place are often the last to seek it.

An Army aviator says man can do everything a bird can. How about laying an egg?

Washington announces we have now recovered from the war-but fails to mention what we have recovered.

are licked, and others get so used to it that they don't mind. Take the bigamist, for instance. Don't work a fast horse and a slow horse together. There will be friction and loss of power, in addition to irritation to both driver and horse.

Shade in a chicken yard is a necessity. Trees and low shrubbery pro vide the best shade. If no lnatural shade is available artificial shelters may be made of branches or burlap.

Men's golf suits made of plain black cloth are now quite the newest and most popular apparel. No doubt a badge of mourning for the golf widows who sit at home over the week end, April to November.

Here are three fine points in frying potatoes: Use a heavy skillet; let the pieces brown on one side before turning them; and cook only enough at one time to cover the bottom of the skillet, in a fairly thin layer.

Go over the garden quiteoften with a wheel hoe. Do this as soon as the ground is dry enough after a rain, also within a day or two after watering: This keeps the weeds from getting a start, and at the same time stirs the surface soil and admits the

Out of the practical experience of farmers over a period of 3,000 years or more has finally developed the fundamental principal of modern crop rotation, says the Department of Agriculture. This principle is growing, in the order named, of an intertilled crop, such as corn, a small-grain crop, such as oats, and a grass or legumi-

This is not the time for the man who wants to get rich quick to invest in an orchard nor to plant one. The reial fruit grower needs to take the best care of his trees and market his fruit most carefully if he is to next few years. The consumer has the best of it just now and ought to cultivate the fruit habit. It will be good for his health and is the cheapest and best combination of food and

Bind them in sheaves, Range them and change them To tufts of green leaves. Delve in the mellow mold, Far, far below, Little evergreens, grow! Grow, grow!

Grew, little evergreens, grow!

Up, up so airily To the blue sky,, Lift up your leafy tips Stately and high; Clasp tight your tiny cones, Tawny and brown;

By and by, buffeting Rains will pelt down. By and by, bitterly Chill winds will blow.

Little evergreens, grow! Grow, grow! Grow, little evergreens, grow!

Have lots of Saturday or week end picnics this spring if you own a car. Take the whole family along. Keep a special box picnic kit equipped with paper or unbreakable plates, cups, silver, paper napkins, and waxed paper. Then a lunch can be picked up in no time at all and put together after the picnie spot is reached. On your emergency pantry shelf keep always in stock a few things in cans or cartons for these occasions.
