

Page Two

THE FARMVILLE ENTERPRISE Published by THE HOUSE PRINTERY G. A. House, Editor and Sole Owner. Subscription Price One Year $1.50 Advertising Rates Furnished on Application to Manager

Entered as second class mail matter May 10, 1910, at the postoffice at Farmville, North Carolina, under the

There's a fellow near Farmville so dumb he thinks his "father used to drive a mule along the alimentary canal."

Wall Street is broke; lost about a million—news item. One who fishes is liable to lose his bait.

"You've got no kick coming," said the bootlegger slyly, as he sold the flask of cold tea.

"Elopements are very fashionable now."

"Yes, only yesterday a horse ran away with a young widow."

Love and romance are full of mystery, thinks Frank Case.

The pedestrian who sticks up a thumb for a ride sometimes sticks up the motorist when he gets it.

Boni, Meenie, Minee, Mo, Take your sweetie to the show, If she's hungry, well, you know Easy get 'em, easy go!

Girls of today, according to the college dean, go hungry to buy clothes. Why don't they, then?

The Ungrateful Thing! One paper says: "One young woman escaped from the burning building only half glad."

Some people hope every day will be Sunday by and by, and others are afraid that it will.

Don't discard that worn-out lawn mower. Lend it to your neighbor the next time he comes to borrow things. This will soon discourage the habit.

SPARE HOURS COMING

ON FARM. President Coolidge, predicting more "intensive farming," told 300 scientists gathered in a "soil congress" that bigger crops per acre, rather than more acreage, will solve the agricultural problem.

Henry Ford, who proves his theory in a dozen places along the River Rouge, says improved machinery will let the farmer do his farming in eight weeks and give him a chance to rest and do other lucrative work during the forty-four remaining weeks of the year.

GOOD OLD DAYS

THERE AIN'T ANY SUCH THING AS THE "good old days." The millions who say, or struggled to say, Lindbergh last week, witnessed the beginning of a new era. The boy who was kidnaped in Washington and hoisted off to attend a noon reception in New York, where his every movement and gesture and smile were recorded by radio observers and announced to millions of people, made headlines, awaiting airplanes circled overhead and dropped masses down toward the river.

The next generation is going to speak of the generation before the air plane as "the good old days." There never were any "good old days." In the "good old days" one hundred and twenty-five years ago wives were expected to die off at forty, and at fifty most men were broken down. The activity of working mankind engaged in the back-breaking labor that is now done for us by all-mechanical machinery, automobiles and mass transit, electricity in the home, central water, central heat and central gas systems have relieved us from our own misery.

The physical benefits of the "good old days" were enjoyed by their insected parents, weighed for the hundreds of us by the modern newspaper, magazine, radio, movie, gramophone, just as modern "good old days" of 1927 will seem primitive and stupid and unlivable to our grandchildren.

Those who have welcomed Lindbergh have participated in the beginning of a revolution in social and business life comparable with the revolution introduced first by the railroad and then by the automobile.

It is not at all surprising that the first-class citizens carrying mail parcels and letters in peace, ready to take their guns in war, would be

Ladies Of Local Club Express Appreciation

The Literary and Art Department of the Farmville Woman's Club wish to thank the merchants and banks who gave the prizes for the Cotton Fashion Show and ask that the people in return for their generosity give them liberal patronage.

Those contributing prizes were: Bank of Farmville, Citizens Bank, R. L. Davis & Bros., Smith Grocery Co., D. F. & R. O. Lang, Tyson and Lang, Wheeling Drug Co., Farmville Drug Co., Askew-Smith-Beaman, Mrs. Blanche Weeks, T. L. & W. J. Turnage, D. R. Morgan, Economy Store, Furniture Store, Bolus Store, Joe. D. Said, Cannon's, Hub Hardware, Roser's & 10c, J. H. Harris, J. & J. Furnishing Co., A. & P. Tea Co., D. Pender, Joyner's Market, European Cafe, Wilson Floral Co.

The Panama Canal was impossible until mosquitoes were killed. Enough mosquitoes to infest a whole neighborhood can be bred in an ordinary tin can. Mosquitoes spread disease. They must be killed. Health authorities advise Fly-Ex. Fly-Ex is the scientific insecticide developed at Mellon Institute of Industrial Research by Rex Fellowship. Insist on Fly-Ex. It is safe, stainless, fragrant, sure. Simple instructions on each bottle (blue label) for killing ALL house hold insects. Easy to use.

DISTRICT FORESTER HERE

District Forester Snipe, of New Bern, was in Farmville last week, making plans for an intensive organization of the Forest Fire Protection work in Farmville township.

Pitt County cooperates financially on an $5-50 basis with the State and Federal Governments County Warden S. H. Jones, of Beaufort, will be in the township this month to go over the work with local fire wardens.

SHOWER FOR BRIDE ELECT

Fountain, June 20.—On Monday afternoon from four until six o'clock, Miss Ellen Lewis, at her lovely country home near Farmville, was hostess to Miss Daphne Owens, whose marriage to Mr. Leslie Yelverton will take place June 24th.

The home of Miss Lewis was beautifully decorated with sweet-peas and shasta daisies.

Miss Horton Entertains

Miss Evelyn Horton was hostess at her home Wednesday morning from 10:30 to 12:30 at a charming party honoring Misses Liza Grimes of Washington, Elizabeth Andrews, of Greenville, house guests of Miss Elizabeth Fields, and Miss Helen Jones, of Blackstone, Va., who is visiting her sister, Mrs. R. T. Martin.

The living room was attractive with tables arranged for bridge and a profusion of larkspur and sweetpeas. Miss Sarah McNewborn was winner of high score prize, while the honor guests were presented with novel score pads and pencils. Miss Jones also received the consolation, a bag of candy kisses.

After the games a delightfully chilled pear salad was served.

HONORING MISS OWENS

Fountain, June 22.—Mrs. Lynwood Owens and Miss Margaret Eagles delightfully entertained at the home of Miss Eagles Thursday p. m. from four to six in honor of Miss Daphne Owens, bride-elect. As the guests arrived they were asked to register in the bride's book and to make a wish for the bride's future happiness.

The house was beautifully decorated with sweet-peas, snap dragons and shasta daisies.

ROCK LUNCHEON

Fountain, June 22.—Mrs. G. C. Rosewood, of Shawboro, N. C., and Mrs. G. H. Howell, of Detroit, Mich., were honor-guests at a delightful rock luncheon given by Mrs. E. B. Beasley on Tuesday a. m. from 11:00 to 1:00 o'clock.

The lovely home was beautifully decorated with artistically arranged baskets of sweet-peas and snap-dragons.

Book was played at six tables and after four progressions, Mrs. John E. Eagles was found to have the highest score and was presented with a lovely hand-painted bon-dior set filled with bath crystals. The consolation, a novelty perfume atomizer, went to Mrs. C. M. Smith.

ABOUT YOUR HEALTH

Things You Should Know. Sometimes my readers write me, asking about little things not made clear in my letters to this paper. I thank them for the indirect consideration—sometimes for criticisms indulged. I cannot, of course, undertake the treatment of diseases by mail, but all I can do at home, but a self-addressed, stamped envelope will bring an immediate reply from me, in the interest of good newspaper service.

I have been asked recently what foods are most likely to make a "lax" liver worse. Sometimes a lax liver is an over-laxed, tired liver, not a lazy one. Hence I reply that an over-laxing of any kind of food will aggravate an over-laxed liver, the specific article of diet that I forbid when dealing with an engorged liver is starch, in its many forms, such as hulled or mashed potatoes, dry-beans, white bread and the like.

Every liver case is a lax unit itself, and should be referred to the family physician, whether acute, subacute, or chronic. Especially after forty-five should all suspicion of liver disease be investigated. A lax liver in time may give several yards of catgut.

MASONIC NOTICE

All members of Farmville Chapter of O. S. U. and all members of Farmville Lodge No. 67, I. O. O. F., A. M. are requested to meet at the Masonic Hall in Farmville on Sunday afternoon, June 26, 1927, at 7:00 o'clock in honor of St. John's Day. We then go to Perkins Hall in High School building where there will be songs and speaking appropriate to the occasion.

All visiting Sisters and Brethren are cordially invited to meet with us. Let's all be there and make this a great meeting. Also the public is invited to assemble at Perkins Hall, Fraternally, J. L. TAYLOR, W. M.

MRS. HORTON ENTERTAINS

Fountain, June 22. Mrs. J. M. Horton delightfully entertained Friday evening from eight to eleven with two tables rock and two tables bridge. After six progressions, Mrs. E. B. Beasley was found to have high score in rock and Mrs. G. H. Howell, of Detroit, Mich. high score in bridge. Mrs. Beasley was presented with a hand-painted bon-bon bowl and Mrs. Howell also a hand-painted bon-bon dish, for high score. Guests of honor, Mrs. G. H. Howell and Mrs. G. C. Rosewood were presented with hand-painted porch pillows, and Miss Daphne Owens, bride-elect, a recipe book taking each guest to write two of their favorite recipes. Mrs. Horton assisted by Miss Nannie Pat Doster served pine-apple sundae and angel food cake.

SECURITY CEMENT advertisement with image of a barrel and text: It's the TRIED and TRUE BRAND! Every barrel you find evidence that Security Portland Cement has been in your neighborhood for years. It's the tried and true brand for the last twenty years. Security has won the prize.

BAKER-MASON LUMBER CO. Farmville, N. C. These short skirts flappers wear have made American men handsome or perhaps "good lookers" would express it better. "We" are having a tough time on this column voyage this week—meaning to scribe and his typewriter, in Lindy language.

6-Year-Old Boy Makes Home Run

School was just out, you see, and Bobby Mansfield knew that his mother was waiting for him in the doorway with a bottle of delicious Orange-Crush. And a bottle for Betty, too. So of course they ran home, as fast as their little legs would carry them. What would they do? For Orange-Crush is a wonderfully refreshing drink. Made from real oranges, and containing real orange juice, it acts like no other more energy-replenishing "value" or food color, than an equal quantity of fresh ripe oranges.

There are three reasons why Orange-Crush is so popular. First, the delicious flavor of their peel; next, the natural tang of the fruit acid found in lemons, limes and limes. Added to this, a pure food color such as is used in cakes and candies, leather-carbonated water, pure cane sugar, without color.

There is so great a difference between Orange-Crush and the many so-called orange drinks which get their flavor from imitation extracts and contain no orange juice whatever that mothers are urged to instruct their children to ask for Orange-Crush by name and to accept it only in the Kitchen. Bottle

WATCH YOUR STEP!

Saturday. Have your shoes REBUILT. WE GUARANTEE OUR WORK. Shoe Service Shop, MAIN ST., FARMVILLE, N.C. Henry Ford seems to be the only man who can talk big and make good on all his big talk, but although Henry may not know it, a lot of people are waiting to say "I told you so," at his financial funeral.

Dr. CARDUI advertisement with image of a woman and text: Dreaded Aches, PAINS Disappeared. "My health had been poor for ten years before I took Cardui," says Mrs. Anna Cronin of Rockport, Ind. "I was lifeless and no account. I dragged around day after day, every move an effort, and never feeling the joy of being well."

Barrett's Service Station AND GARAGE advertisement with image of a car and text: FIT YOUR FEET AND RECREATION WITH TANNERS SHOES. Barrett's Service Station is equipped to service your car. We have a full line of tires, oil, and other accessories. Our factory under $10.00 and high quality.