SHIRLEY-HALSTEAD

The following announcement has been received by friends here this week: "Mrs. Ernest Thurman Halstead announces the marriage of her daughter, Mildred Ruth, to Mr. James Robert Shirley, on Tuesday, September the Seventh, Nineteen Hundred and Thirty-Seven, Portsmouth, Virginia. At home after October First, 187 Carrollton Road, Norfolk, Va."

LAMRAD CLUB.

Mrs. A. C. Monk, Jr., was hostess at an enjoyable meeting of the Lamrad Club on Thursday afternoon. Fall flowers in contrasting colors were used with charming effect in the rooms where bridge was played. Mrs. J. G. Spencer compiled high score and received a lovely flower container. Refreshments were served after the games. Those enjoying the hospitality of the hostess, in addition to the club members, were; Mrs. Spencer, Mrs. Herbert Acton, Jr., of Raleigh, and Miss Lurline Bass.

HOME-COMING AT CHRISTIAN CHURCH.

The summer is over! The fall is here! And it is time to get busy with the church work as well as with the harvesting of crops. God has given us a good harvest and we have had a pleasant summer, but we are scattered. We must get together again.

To help us to come together, we are planning Home-Coming for Sunday, September, 19th. We desire every member to be present and bring a basket filled with good things to eat, which we will spread under the great oaks, and enjoy a great fellowship, one with another.

Be here next Sunday to help plan for the day.
C. B. Mashburn, Pastor.
U. D. C.

Mrs. J. W. Parker was gracious hostess to the United Daughters of the Confederacy on Friday afternoon, at the home of Mrs. G. M. Holden, with Mrs. R. H. Knott presiding and Mrs. T. W. Lang conducting the devotional period.

Mrs. Willis was elected as delegate to the district meeting, to be held in Wilson, October 13-14, and the president appointed Mrs. J. Y. Monk, Mrs. G. M. Holden and Mrs. R. D. Rouse as a nominating committee at this time.

Continuing a study of the state of Alabama, Mrs. T. W. Lang discussed "The White House of the Confederacy," located at Montgomery. Mrs. Charles Moxingo read a selection relating to Helen Keller.

JOINT HOSTESSES.

Mrs. J. M. Wheless and Mrs. Henrietta M. Williamson were joint hostesses at the initial fall meeting of the Literary-Art Department of the Woman's Club, on Wednesday afternoon, at the home of the former, in which many lovely fall flowers were artistically arranged.

Miss Annie Pekins presided, welcomed a new member, Mrs. F. M. Davis, Jr., and announced the program, based on Edvard Hagerup Grieg. Mrs. J. H. Moore gave a talk from "An Interview With The Great Norwegian Composer's Widow, Fru Edvard Grieg"; Mrs. Haywood Smith played "Anitra's Dance," Mrs. C. N. Bostic rendered her composition "The Butterfly," and Mrs. A. Q. Roebuck sang one of his vocal numbers, "I Love You." A questionnaire, relative to prominent people and current events, bought the program to a close.

A delicious ice course was served. Guests of the hostesses were Mrs. J. C. N. Bostic and Mrs. Henry Johnson.

JUNIOR WOMAN'S CLUB.

Miss Mary Friar Rouse delightfully entertained the Junior Woman's Club on Wednesday afternoon, having as a special guest, Mrs. Blackwood, who moved her residence here from Nashville, recently.

Mrs. Jesse Moye presided, and during the business session Miss Mary Alice Beaman was elected to fill the office of secretary; the day of meeting was changed to first and third Thursdays of each month, and the following young women, who had been former members, were given a cordial welcome into the group again at this time; Mrs. W. A. Pollard, Jr., Mrs. Mabry E. Pollard, Miss Mary Alice Beaman, Mrs. Herbert Acton, Jr., and Mrs. J. Irvin Wilkerson.

The program was featured with a splendid paper by Miss Elizabeth Davis, which reviewed the history of Architecture.

A variety of early autumn bloom, in harmonizing shades, was used in her home by the hostess, who served an ice course with decorated cakes and salted nuts after adjournment.

MRS. JOYNER-HOSTESS

Mrs. J. W. Joyner was hostess at one of the most delightful bridge affairs of the season, on Tuesday afternoon, entertaining the members of the Contract Club and additional friends at nine tables. Guests were greeted as they arrived by the hostess and the house guest, Miss Helen Tyrrell, of Richmond, Va.

A lovely setting for the party had been achieved by the use of white asters, dahlias, zinnias, clematis and snow-on-the-mountain, the punch table being particularly beautiful with its lace cover, glowing tapers and flowered arrangement. Mrs. Bert McCullum served punch, with Mrs. Wm. Fisher and Mrs. W. E. Joyner assisting.

At the conclusion of the games, Mrs. Arthur F. Joyner was awarded a hot roll cover as high score prize for club members, Mrs. Jack Lewis won the guest prize, a linen towel, and sport handkerchiefs were presented by the hostess to out-of-town guests, Mrs. Vance Tyrrell and daughter, Miss Helen, Richmond, Va., and Mrs. Madeline H. Rountree, Washington, D. C.

An ice course, further carrying out the color motif of white and green, was served.

Representatives from 20 counties attended the recent farm management conference in Lincoln in Lincoln county.
