WHAT THE MARINES SEE IN CHINA

In July a map, prepared by the Intelligence Department of the Fourth United States Marines, stationed in Shanghai, China, revealed that some 715,000 armed Chinese were operating in areas, listed by the Japanese as "occupied."

The report is that, as otherwise recorded, that the Japanese zone of occupation, in most cases does not exceed four miles on each side of guarded railways, rivers and canals. In practically all of the provinces, under the Japanese "peace" there are from 40,000 to 150,000 guerrillas and irregulars, harrying the invaders.

BANNING TRUCKS ON HOLIDAYS

There is considerable discussion of the question of limiting the use of highways by trucks on holidays and during certain hours on Sunday.

In Wisconsin, trucks are not permitted on the roads between 1 and 11 p. m. on Saturdays and between 9 a. m. and midnight, on Sunday. Minnesota has somewhat similar regulation.

The basis advanced for the ban is that it will promote safety on the highways. Some opposition is expressed by farmers who fear that the regulation will hamper the use of trucks to transport their produce. This objection is met by the proposal to except trucks carrying milk and perishable foodstuffs from the restriction.

Whether such a ban is wise, or not, is a matter of opinion. Whether it will injure legitimate business interests remains to be seen when it gets into general operation. However, the idea seems to be gaining ground and it might be well to consider it.

CANADA'S OBLIGATION TO US

Their is to be no slackening of Canadian defense measures, says Prime Minister King, who tells his Canadians that the recent pledge of President Roosevelt increases rather than decreases Canadian responsibility.

Mr. King argues that if Canadians expect the United States to take a hand in defense of Canada, when threatened by invasion from hostile powers, it is the obligation of Canada to be so strong that no hostile power can "strike at the United States through Canadian territory."

In fact, Mr. King says that Canada should see that, if the occasion ever arises, enemy forces are unable to pursue their way by land, sea or air to the United States through Canadian territory.

This statement is as it should be. Certainly, if the United States, in following its own national interests resolve that no foreign nation shall be allowed to attack Canada, it is only fair that the Canadians, on their own behalf, should undertake to carry out the course urged by their own Prime Minister and prevent foreign powers from attacking the United States through Canada.

EACH HELPS THE OTHER

The interdependence of farmers and city dwellers is well illustrated by plans, tentatively proposed by Mayor La Guardia, of New York City, to construct a terminal produce market to handle around $400,000,000 worth of vegetables, fruit, butter and eggs a year.

This is about what the people of the metropolis spend, at wholesale prices, for the products of the farmers. Of course, in turn the people on the farms of the nation buy the products of the workers in the industrial areas. This keeps the money revolving and the faster the turn over the better off both farmers and workers will be.

It is frequent for champions of the workers to magnify the importance of the laborer in our economic scheme, but as the farm leader often delights to claim that everything and every body rests upon the broad back of agriculture. Both in fact, both in fact and in laborer depend upon each other and their welfare is preserved.

STATE COLLEGE ANSWERS TIMELY FARM QUESTIONS

Question: Can broilers be started in the fall as successfully as in the spring?

Answer: While a number of winter broilers are produced in the State, it requires very careful management on the part of the poultryman and is not recommended for the farm flock owner. One of the main reasons for this is that it is difficult to secure chicks with a high constitutional vigor at this time of the year as the baby chicks are usually from eggs that are produced by hens going out of lay or from pullets just coming into production. Then, too, if the chicks are developed on range the green feed is scarce. Bad weather often necessitates confinement and the chicks are overcrowded which leads to devitalization and the resultant diseases.

Question: Is it too late to plant a fall garden?

Answer: The time to plant a fall garden depends upon the hardiness of the different vegetables and upon the time required for maturity. Many of the cool season crops will grow and mature through light frosts, but all crops should be planted in time to mature before hard frosts occur. Vegetables such as beets, Kohl-Rabi, turnips, snap beans, mustard, leaf lettuce, and spinach may be planted as late as September 30 in the extreme eastern part of the State. The best way is to figure the time required for maturity and then plant in time to get the crop off before killing frosts.

Question: What is the best age for breeding heifers?

Answer: No arbitrary age can be set as the time should be determined by the maturity of each individual. As a general rule Jersey and Guernsey heifers should be bred so as to freshen from 24 to 30 months of age. The Ayrshire and Holstein animals should be bred to freshen at from 27 to 32 months of age. Heifers which are fed a liberal grain ration in addition to the roughage will mature more rapidly and can therefore be bred earlier.

THE ANSWERS!

1. Nearly two-thirds; about 20,000,000.
2. They are about seven times as large.
3. October 24.
4. About 6,000,000, supporting 30,000,000 people.
5. Frank J. Hogan, of Washington, D. C.
6. About $300,000,000 according to the Association of American Railroads.
7. Meat, bread, flour and canned foods.
8. No; early in 1938 it was almost at an end.
9. Not less than 1,000 to 1.
10. Soviet Russia.
