Legion Auxiliary Has J. Con Lanier As Guest Speaker; Washington's Birthday Observed By Hostesses

Dr. L. R. Meadows, president of East Carolina Teachers College, was honor guest and speaker at the February meeting of the Parent-Teacher Association. Addressing the large assemblage on the subject of "Community Recreational Equipment," the educator pointed out the importance of recreation in the life of young people and the responsibility of a community in providing adequate facilities for this purpose.

Mrs. Claude L. Barrett presided and presented the new lunch room project being sponsored in the school by this organization together with the WPA, and introduced Mrs. Stancill, district supervisor of WPA lunch rooms, who spoke of her work in this connection.

In the school roll call the first grade, Miss Annie Perkins, teacher, was declared winner, and in the room attendance contest the fifth grade, Miss Geraldine Cameron, teacher, won with a 99.8 percentage.

Concentrating on the chosen subject of study for the month, "National Defense," the American Legion Auxiliary members were privileged to hear J. Con Lanier, well known lawyer, of Greenville, present his views as a world war veteran, at the meeting held this week in the Legion hall, with Mrs. W. A. Bobbitt, Mrs. Jalma E. Bynum and Mrs. J. C. Brock as joint hostesses.

Speaking in strong terms, to which thoughtful consideration and personal knowledge lent added force, Mr. Lanier presented the organized lines of defense in America, pointed to enemy forces within and without, with which the government is coping at present, and discussed at length two courses which may be taken by countries desiring world peace; adequate protection as a means of preventing war, by defense, and disarmament, as a course of action to prevent war, by example.

WOMAN'S MISSIONARY SOCIETY MEETS

The Woman's Missionary Society held its regular meeting with Mrs. Guy Smith, Wednesday afternoon.

The president, Mrs. A. J. Craft, presided over the business session.

Mrs. Ray West, Sr., program leader, presented an interesting program.

The hostess served a delicious sweet course.

G. A. SOCIETY MEETS

The G. A. Society held its monthly meeting with Elizabeth Shirley, Friday afternoon. Opening hymn: We're A Story To Tell To The Nation.

Every member present took part on the program which was presided over by Mrs. J. B. Henson, its leader.

The topic: Laborers Together With God, was appropriately expressed by Bible verses. Rachel Moore's name was added to the roll.

The Society closed with the benediction, and adjourned to meet with Rayonell Bailey in March.

and men at Olean; Mrs. M. V. Horton, membership chairman, presented Mrs. A. Q. Roebuck as a new member, and reported an "over the top" campaign, in which 86 members were enrolled; Mrs. S. A. Garris, was appointed Poppy Sale chairman, and Mrs. Frank Davis, Jr., was made a member of the committee; the Auxiliary voted to donate $10 to the school milk fund.

A delicious sweet course and black coffee were served, the plates bearing decorations suggestive of Washington's birthday.

Mrs. M. E. Pollard discussed the "International Relations Department of the Woman's Club" at a splendid meeting of the Junior Woman's Club, held at the home of Miss Mary Frier Rouse with Mrs. W. F. Worthington as joint hostesses.

In observance of Better English Week, Miss Elizabeth Davis, chairman, presented Miss Mary Dorcas Harding, high school English instructor, who gave an interesting talk on Good English.

Mrs. J. Leroy Parker presided and requested reports from Mrs. Jack Lewis, ways and means chairman; Mrs. W. H. Moore, year book chairman, and Mrs. Jesse Moye, point system secretary.

Plans for the Golden Jubilee celebration, to be held by this group in the Spring, were advanced, and the club at this time donated $4 to the school milk fund.

Potted plants were in evidence throughout the Rouse home and flags were effectively used as a reminder of Washington's birthday.

Following the program, cherry pie, topped with cream, mints, cookies and coffee were served, the favors being miniature hatchets.

Special guests were Mrs. Mac Carraway, Miss Mary Dorcas Harding, Mrs. Ray Smith and Miss Mary Ammons, of Spartansburg, S. C.

One of the loveliest social functions of the late winter season was the combination Valentine and Leap Year dance, at which Mr. and Mrs. D. R. Morgan were gracious hosts, entertaining in compliment to Misses Mae Anderson, Mary Berry, Annie Lee Jones, Margaret Thigpen, Geraldine Cameron and Ellen Liles.

The dance was held in the Country Club house, in which long leaf pine and large decorative hearts were used with artistic effect.

The seasonal colors and motifs were charmingly emphasized again in the delicious refreshments served during intermission.

Among the guests, numbering seventy-five, were friends from Goldsboro, Wilson, Rocky Mount, Charlotte, Tarboro, Kinston and Washington.

Mrs. Z. M. Whitehurst delightfully entertained the Contract Club this week at her home on Wilson street, in which sprays of early blooming shrubs were used in pleasing arrangements.

At the conclusion of the usual number of progressions, Mrs. C. Hubert Joyner was presented with the club prize, a lovely refreshment set, and Mrs. L. E. Walston received the guest award of beautiful towels.

A congenial salad course and coffee were served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Claude L. Barrett and Mrs. W. E. Joyner. Favors and plate decorations were suggestive of the season.

Special guests were Mrs. D. R. Morgan, Mrs. L. E. Walston, Mrs. A. W. Bobbitt, Mrs. R. A. Parker, Mrs. Frank Davis, Jr., Miss Tabitha DeVisconti, Mrs. Henrietta M. Williamson, Mrs. S. A. Garris, Mrs. R. D. Rouse and Mrs. L. T. Pierce.

Mrs. A. B. Moore was hostess Wednesday, at one of the most interesting meetings held by the Literary Club in several months.

of white hycinchis lent a springlike atmosphere to the Moore home near Farmville, and the national colors and motifs used in the delicious refreshments brought the suggestion of Washington's birthday.

Special guests of the hostess were; Miss Davis, Mrs. Hooker, of Greenville; Mrs. W. C. Holston, of Norfolk, Va.; Mrs. Frank Davis, Jr., Mrs. L. E. Walston, Mrs. R. O. Lang, Mrs. Joel Moye, Mrs. Lester Turnage, Mrs. Lucy Reaberry, Mrs. Wyatt Tucker, Mrs. R. A. Parker, Miss Bettie Joyner, Mrs. R. LeRoy Rollins, Mrs. G. H. Holden, Mrs. T. E. Joyner, Mrs. D. E. Oglesby, and Mrs. A. Q. Roebuck.

A lovely affair of the week was the dinner party given by Miss Frances Winstead in compliment to her house guest, Miss Mary Elizabeth Bell, of Conway, S. C.

Two tables were spread in the dining room and library, thrown en suite, and each was centered with a silver bowl of red carnations, from which guests drew corsages and boutonnieres by means of red ribbon streamers.

Red candles in silver candleabra illumined the tables with covers laid for sixteen. A course dinner was served at seven o'clock.

Guests were; Miss Mary Elizabeth Bell, Miss Jacqueline Denson and Miss Joyce Wells, of Rocky Mount, Mrs. Daisy H. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Holmes, Mr. and Mrs. John D. and Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Holmes, Dr. Fleming Fuller, of Kinston, Dr. James Bunn, of Rocky Mount, Dr. G. Ashby Winstead, of the medical school, Duke University, Rev. C. W. Rogers, of Asheville, and Joe Brewer.

Members of Mrs. James R. Lang's bridge club and additional friends enjoyed an afternoon of bridge at her home on Wednesday.

Reminders of Washington's birthday were used effectively in decorations, table appointments and refreshments.

The prize for top score, a tri-color lip stick pac, was won by Mrs. Ted L. Albritton, and the guest award, Old Spice guest soap, went to Mrs. Robert Lee Smith.

Sharing with members in pleasures of the afternoon were Mrs. Robert Lee Smith, Mrs. Ted L. Albritton, Mrs. W. Alex Allen, Miss Elizabeth Davis, Mrs. H. H. Bradham, Mrs. Roy Lasitter, Mrs. Frances Spencer, Mrs. George Moore, Jr., Miss Hazel Monk, Miss Mary Frier Rouse, Mrs. C. S. Hotchkiss and Mrs. John E. King.
