"BACK TO THE FARM" JUNK

We regret to report that our conknown writer on financial affairs, is off again!

Some weeks ago he advised investing in Japanese bonds, which advice we didn't take, for more than one reason.

In a recent article he averts to the "back to the farm" idea, yelling good cream starts with the loudly for men with "a will."

This is just about as absurd anything we have seen in print in a clean. Before milking, wash and dry long time. If the government would the udder. #### U. S. HAS NO IDEA OF FIGHTING

Giovanni Ansaldo, editor of an Italian newspaper, says that Great Britain and France desire to broaden the war front because it would compel Germany to invade the smaller neutral nations and obtain for the Allies the supreme objective of their diplomacy-the intervention of the United States on their side.

No doubt, the Allies would wedcome the United States if this country went into the war against Germany, but, so far, there is little indication on this side of the Atlantic that the invasion of a neutral nation by Germany would be followed by active intervention of the United States. In this country, the determination to remain at peace with the world is strong. About the only development which could bring the United States into the present war would be the conviction that without active help from this country, the Allied country." nations faced defeat. Even this might not bring about American intervention.

It is possible that the people of the United States might prefer to risk a future world, dominated so far as Europe is concerned by Germany, Italy and Russia and so far as the Far East is concerned by Russia or Japan, rather than take part in the war now going on.

> VARIED AND VAST RESOURCES

At the National Conference of Progressive Education Association, held in Chicago recently, Charles W. Eliot, 2nd, director of the National Resources Flanning Board, challenged educators to help the adults of tomorrow to do intelligent planning in the use of America's vast reress through educating the chilof today.

Eliot stressed the meaning cance and possibility of Amerin resources and described them as a richly illustrated textbook for all modern schools to use. No school is too small or too poor to make good use of the textbook because Government bolletins and University research are immed intely availa City children begin with city problams and work outward through consumer and distribution, to agricultural sources.
