Meetings of Week Turned Into Festive Occasions

Christmas Greens And Candle Light Give Cherry Note To Social Affairs of Week

Christmas trees, wreaths, plants, and candle glow have been used effectively in homes by hostesses here during the week, and refreshment plates have also been seasonal as to color and content.

Mrs. Z. M. Whitehurst entertained at a lovely miscellaneous shower in compliment to Miss Albertine Belle Barrett, whose marriage to Theodore Turnage Moore will take place on Sunday, December 29.

The affair, held in the D. A. E. Chapter home, was attended by 85 friends. Guests were greeted by the hostess and honor guest and were directed to the register, presided over by Mrs. Robert Lee Smith.

Mrs. J. H. Moore presided. During the business session, Miss Annie Perkins announced the gift of $150.00 by Mrs. F. M. Davis, Sr., to be applied on the Woman's Club building fund.

Featuring the program was a discussion of the Christmas story as given by Luke, under the topic of "The Man Who Gave Us Christmas."

The shower of lovely gifts was presented to the honoree by Zeb Whitehurst, Jr., small son of the hostess, who was dressed in Santa Claus costume, and presumably arrived via the roof and chimney with his pack of gifts.

Refreshments were served upstairs in the banquet room. Seated at either end of the beautifully appointed colonial-table and pouring tea were Mrs. Robert G. Barrett, mother of the bride elect, and Mrs. George E. Moore, mother of the bridegroom elect.

The announcement of the engagement of Miss Mary Elsie Berry, of New Bern and Farmville, to Frank Carl Joyner, of Farmville and Charlotte, was made at one of the loveliest bridge parties of the season, and with Mrs. D. R. Morgan as the hostess.

In the progressive games of bridge, played at five tables, Mrs. David T. Harris scored high and received a necklace as an award. The honor guest was presented with an exquisite brooch by the hostess.

After the games, angel hash and angel-cake were served, the nut cups emphasizing the bridal motif, used throughout, and the plates carried the announcement on tiny handpainted scrolls, tied with green and white ribbon, which read "Mary and Carl, January 15."

Miss Elizabeth Norman, of Plymouth, whose marriage to Ben Lewis Lang takes place on Saturday, December 21, was honored at a beautiful bridge party given by Miss Camille Stator at the home of Mrs. Robert D. Rouse.

Following several progressions of bridge, Mrs. J. H. Paylor was awarded the high score prize, a compact, and Mrs. John E. King received the consolation. The bride elect was presented a gift of silver from the hostess.

Small vases of white chrysanthemums were used as table centers and given as table prizes. Ices in bridal motifs, cake and nuts were served after the games.

The December meeting of the Major Benjamin May Chapter, D. A. E., was held on Friday with Mrs. A. C. Monk, Sr., Mrs. E. O. Lang, Mrs. G. E. Moore and Mrs. Henrietta M. Williamson as gracious hostesses, and with 75 members and guests in attendance.

Mrs. W. H. Whitmore, of Wilson, vice regent, presided and Mrs. C. S. Eagles, of Saratoga, had charge of the meditation, which related to the Nativity.

A splendid program was developed by Mrs. June Rose, of Greenville, who told a Christmas story, and by Dr. Fontaine, teacher of music at Atlantic Christian College, and two of his piano and voice students, who gave a musical program.

Exhibits of old glass were displayed by Mrs. Frank Brown, program chairman, and Mrs. Travis Hooker; dolls of all nations by Mrs. W. T. Whitmore, and a nativity scene by Mrs. Paul E. Jones.

In the mantel decorations, arranged by Mrs. Frank Brown, Mrs. Travis Hooker, Mrs. E. S. Sheppard and Miss Tabitha DeVisconti, the use of pine cones, long leaf pine, and red berries and candles in brass holders were observed on one and the other was banked with white foliage and cedar, with a central figure of the Madonna, and was illumined by white candles. A Christmas tree, aglow with lights, had been placed on the balcony.

The mantels of the second floor had arrangements of holly, mistletoe and red candles, and the table was centered with red fruits in a tiered holder, flanked by red candles in silver candleholders. Forest greens and berries were also used in the table decorations.

The Woman's Club met at the home of Mrs. J. M. Hobbgood with Mrs. B. B. Fordham, Mrs. Joseph Batchelor, Mrs. Geo. W. Davis and Miss Mamie Davis as joint hostesses.

Mamie Davis. Delicious home made coconut cake, coffee and salted nuts were served during a pleasant social hour. Favor on, suggestive of the season, were used as plate decorations.

Mrs. Z. M. Whitehurst delightfully entertained the Contract Club Thursday, when Mrs. W. E. Joyner was the winner of high score for club members and received a piece of green as a prize, and Mrs. Pat Ruffin, scoring high for guests won a breakfast cloth.

Zeb Whitehurst, as Santa Claus, delivered gifts to members, who had drawn previously for this event. Frozen egg nog and fruit bars were served, followed by black coffee and cheese straws. Special guests were Mrs. Henrietta M. Williamson, Mrs. Pat Ruffin and Mrs. James Smith.

Members of the Progressive Bridge Club enjoyed an afternoon of bridge on Thursday with Mrs. J. Y. Monk as hostess. Mrs. G. M. Holden, winner of the high score prize for the club, received a double deck of cards and Mrs. C. H. Joyner won the guest-award, a bridge score set.

Plum pudding, topped with cream, coffee and nuts were served after play. Special guests of the hostess were Mrs. C. H. Joyner, Mrs. McDearman, of Durham, and Mrs. W. A. Pollard, Jr.

TOY FESTIVAL

A Toy Festival was held on Wednesday at the Adult Education Center in the Agriculture building of the Farmville high school, by Miss Florence Lewis, teacher. The Festival was held for the purpose of assisting parents in their selection of toys for children, which Miss Lewis states should be selected according to age and the trend of a child's mind.

Toys for the Toy Festival were loaned for exhibit by Ross's 5c & 10c Store, N. Thomas, N. Cannon, Dupree's Department Store and the Western Auto Associate Store.
