PRE-EASTER SERVICES AT THE TOWN HALL

The local Ministerial Association has planned to hold Pre-Easter services at the Town Hall four mornings next week, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, April 8 to 11. The services will last only a half hour, from 10:30 to 11 A. M. All the pastors connected with the local Ministerial Association will cooperate in these services.

We urge all who can to attend these services and help make them a real success and a blessing. A cordial invitation is extended to all.

BIRD CLUB NOTES

The program of the last Bird Club meeting began with an article on "The Owl and the Ant," read by Joseph Smith. Joseph brought out the lesson that one good turn deserves another. Claud Tyson then gave a list of insects eaten by birds, and Calvin Earl Braxton read a selection regarding wrens and their value in keeping orchards protected from insects. Braxton stressed the importance of setting wren houses in the fruit trees. The program was concluded with a poem, "A Bluebird," read by Max Melton. Billie Johnson was welcomed as a new member at this time.

GREENVILLE GARDENS OPEN APRIL 16 AND 17

The Greenville gardens will be open on Wednesday and Thursday, April 16-17, afternoons only, during the North Carolina Garden Club Plantings, which is being observed throughout the State. Headquarters will be at the Woman's Club. A number of informal gardens will be shown and garden club members will serve as hostesses. Tea will be served each afternoon from 4:30 until 5:00.

Gardens to be open include those of Mrs. E. W. Cobb, Mrs. E. M. Gernatt, Mrs. J. T. Little, Mrs. W. E. Hooker, Mrs. J. B. Jones, Mrs. M. L. Wright, Mrs. Jane Smith, Mrs. Gracious Flanagan and Mrs. E. B. Platen.

Floral Arrangements And Refreshments Carry Seasonal Idea

The Fine Arts Department of the Woman's Club met at the home of Mrs. J. S. Gates this week with Miss Annie Perkins as joint hostess. Spring blossoms in pastel shades were used in lovely arrangements throughout the Gates home.

Mrs. J. H. Moore presided over a business session, when plans for an exhibit of local talent were completed.

A delightful program on Art was developed by Miss Alma Sparger, of the Art Center at Greenville, who stressed the fact that it is for the development of the individual rather than the product. Miss Sparger exhibited paintings, wood carving, needlework and other interesting specimens from the center.

The program was brought to a delightful conclusion with a group of vocal numbers by Mrs. John D. Holmes, with Mrs. J. S. Gates as accompanist.

A delectable salad course was served during a pleasant social hour.

Featuring the Literary Club program on Wednesday, was an interesting review by Mrs. B. S. Sheppard, of Estelle Hamburger's biography, whose career in the advertising world was recorded in her own hand under the subject of "It's A Woman's Business."

The meeting was held in the home of Mrs. J. M. Wheless with Miss Annie Perkins as gracious hostess. The Wheless home was colorful with decorations of Spring flowers, in which pinks predominated and were put to effective use again on the refreshment plates, which also carried the Easter chick motif. Mrs. Cleveland Paylor and Mrs. James Wheless, Jr., assisted the hostess in serving.

Daffodils, forsythia, cowslips and narcissus brought the breath of Spring into the home of Mrs. Arthur F. Joyner on Tuesday, when she delightfully entertained the Contract Club and special guests, including Mrs. Alton W. Bobbitt, Mrs. P. E. Jones, Mrs. H. H. Bradham and Mrs. R. A. Parker.

Mrs. M. V. Horton was winner of the high score prize, bridge cards in a lovely crystal holder, and Mrs. R. A. Parker received a crystal plate as guest award.

A delicious salad course and hot tea were served after play.

The Ace Club members and special guests of the hostess, Miss Frances Beaman and Mrs. J. Gaddy, enjoyed an afternoon of bridge at the home of Mrs. John M. Mewborn this week. Daffodils were in effective arrangements throughout the home and the pastel shades and Easter motif were noted in the salad course, served with Russian tea.

Mrs. David T. Harris won the club prize, tomato juice glasses, and Miss Beaman received the guest award, a relish dish. Mrs. James Smith was given individual jelly molds as a consolation prize.

ANNOUNCING PRE-EASTER MEETING

Beginning Sunday and continuing thru Friday there will be services at the Christian Church each evening at 7:45.

We are planning to make the services short, inspirational and stimulating. We are asking all to come and take part.

There will be a candle light communion service Thursday evening. Those who have attended these in the past know how helpful they are.

The music will be directed by Mrs. C. N. Bostie, the pastor will do the preaching each evening, except on Monday at Walstonburg, will preach Monday, when Rev. W. I. Bennett, for us. Come and hear our neighbor and fellow pastor. C. B. Mashburn, Pastor.

AT THE EPISCOPAL CHURCH

There will be a special Palm Sunday service at the Episcopal Church, Sunday morning, with a message by the rector, Rev. J. R. Rountree.

On Thursday evening during the week to follow, which is Holy Week, there will be a celebration of the Holy Communion at the 7:30 service, and a special sermon. Everyone is invited to these services.

Most movements are damned by people who are more interested in themselves than the undertaking.

AT THE METHODIST CHURCH

A Pageant—"The Challenge of the Cross"—will be given at the Methodist Church on Sunday evening, April 6th. The music will start at 7:20. This is a beautiful pageant and teaches an impressive lesson in song and story. The Church will welcome you to this service.

The Holy Communion will be observed on Good Friday evening at 7:30 instead of Palm Sunday.

One of the criticisms that we hear about modern business is that nearly every employee has to quit his job, or threaten to quit, in order to get a raise in pay.
