Social Events of Week Take on Varied Trends

Miss Lewis Entertained Senior Class at Barbecue Supper

On Wednesday night, April 16, Miss Dorothy Lewis delightfully entertained the members of the senior class, the high school faculty, and a few invited guests at a barbecue supper at the Home Demonstration Club House. Guests found their places by place cards on which were tied beautiful nosegays and bouquets of English daisies.

After the supper was over, games and contests were enjoyed. Bingo prizes were won by Misses Susie Fountain, Ruth Parker, Hazel Quinn, Anise Ramey, Yvonne Smith, and Betty Wilson and Messrs. Fred T. Langford and Mark Moxingo. The Marching to Jerusalem prize was won by R. E. Braxton. Miss Geraldine Cameron won the prize in the advertising contest. All the guests worked hard on the intelligence contest to find "Teachers You Are Tip Top." Miss Margaret Harris won the cake in the Cake Walk.

During the games, punch and cookies were served. American Legion Auxiliary Mrs. Nonie Barrett, Mrs. J. H. Bynum and Mrs. J. Lewis Creech were joint hostesses to the American Legion Auxiliary on Thursday, April 17. The Legion Hall was beautifully decorated with spirea and iris.

Mrs. S. A. Garris, president, presided, using the accepted ritual. During a short business session, Mrs. Louise Harris read letters from the boys at Oteen; Mrs. Garris reported on her recent visit to the New Veterans Hospital in Fayetteville; "Gris State" was discussed, Mrs. W. M. Willis and Mrs. A. W. Bobbitt being appointed to select a girl from the High School Junior Class to attend this citizenship course to be given at the Woman's College in Greensboro, June 15-21.

Mrs. LeRoy Rollins, program chairman for the afternoon, introduced Mrs. Claude Barrett, who gave a splendid review of "The Country Lawyer."

Miss Etta Frances Harper gave a piano solo, "Country Gardens."

Mrs. M. V. Horton conducted a contest on the President's of the United States. Mrs. B. R. Fields, scoring high, won packages of flower seeds.

During the social hour, the hostesses served a variety of sandwiches with a refreshing drink.

Mrs. Claude Barrett was a special guest.

Junior Woman's Club.

Mrs. Howard Moye delightfully entertained the Junior Woman's Club on Thursday afternoon.

Sprays of dogwood and yellow jessamine, spirea, iris and yellow tulips were effectively arranged throughout the home.

During a short business session, the President, Mrs. Leroy Parker, announced that the local club had received an invitation to send a member to serve as personal page to Mrs. John D. Robinson, State Federation President, during the entire convention to be held in Winston-Salem in May. Mrs. Jesse Moye was appointed to represent the club in this capacity.

Miss Frances Winstead will attend the Junior Day program and will serve as the second voting delegate.

For the program, Mrs. L. J. Williford gave an interesting paper on "A Modern American Artist," choosing as her subject, Thomas Benton, a mural painter.

During the social hour, guests were invited to the dining room where Mrs. Joe Moye served refreshing punch and sandwiches from a beautifully appointed table.

Parent-Teacher.

The Parent-Teacher Association opened its regular monthly meeting on Thursday evening, with devotional exercises lead by Rev. W. I. Bennett. Miss Margaret Lewis room won the roll call.

During the business session, Mrs. Claude Barrett, Treasurer, reported a balance of $223.61; Mrs. L. J. Williford, reporting from the Executive Committee Meeting, stated that the Association would present to the colored school lunch room 100 quarts of vegetables; she read a note of thanks from Miss Verona Lee Joyner for the brief case presented to her by the association at the last meeting; and also announced that the May meeting will be held on Friday afternoon, May 16, in the form of a tea and shower for the gymnasium kitchen. The hours will be from 2:30 to 4:00.

Opening the program, Mrs. John D. Holmes and Miss Nellie Butler sang "In the Luxembourg Gardens" and "Gypsy Love Song."

Mrs. Cherry Easley introduced the speaker, Mr. Robert Humber of Greenville, who talked on "France and the War."

Lamrad Club. Mrs. Irvin Morgan, Jr., was hostess to the Lamrad Club and additional guests on Friday.

Tulips, spirea and pansies, in pleasing arrangement, gave a spring-like setting for the tables.

Mrs. Tom Ryon, scoring high for guests, received dusting powder and members' names were recorded.

During play, a refreshing drink was served.

Special guests included: Mrs. C. S. Hotchkiss, Mrs. Rex Hodges, Mrs. J. Y. Monk, Jr., Mrs. Tom Ryon and Mrs. Walter Jones.

Merry Matrons.

Mrs. M. V. Jones charmingly entertained the Merry Matrons and additional guests on Tuesday. Spirea, iris and tulips were in graceful arrangement throughout the home.

Opening the program, Mrs. John D. Holmes, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. J. M. Hobgood, sang, "American Lullaby" and "In the Luxembourg Gardens."

Mrs. J. I. Morgan, program chairman for the afternoon, presented Miss Annie Perkins, who gave a splendid review of "The Vanishing Virginian."

Miss Betsy Willis Jones delighted her hearers with her violin rendition of "Home Sweet Home." Miss Jones has been studying violin only two months.

During the social hour, a frozen fruit salad course was served with ham biscuits, sandwiches, pickles and leaf tea.

Special guests were Mrs. Agnes Blount, Mrs. G. W. Monk and Mrs. Herman Voss.

New Deal Club.

Mrs. Jack Lewis graciously entertained the members of her bridge club and additional guests on Wednesday morning at the home of Mrs. G. M. Holden.

Mrs. A. W. Bobbitt, scoring high for club members, won a linen refreshment cover. Mrs. L. E. Walston received stationery as consolation. Mrs. Pat Ruffin, high for guests, received dusting powder.

During play, a refreshing drink with cookies was served.

Special guests were Mrs. Tom Ryon, Mrs. Ben Lang, Mrs. James Lang and Mrs. Pat Ruffin.

Wednesday Afternoon Club.

Mrs. John King delightfully entertained the members of her bridge club and other guests on Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. G. M. Holden.

Mrs. George Moore won the club prize and Miss Geraldine Gardner, the guest prize. These were attractive beverage sets.

Following play, cookies and sandwiches with a refreshing drink were served.

Special guests were Mrs. Ben Lang, Mrs. Lath Morris, Miss Geraldine Gardner, Mrs. R. E. Pickett and Mrs. Jack Kirk.

Mrs. Holden's home, beautifully decorated with spirea, yellow tulips and white iris, presented a lovely setting for the two above parties.

Barbecue Dinner.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Carr entertained a large number of members of the Carr family on Tuesday evening at their home. A delicious barbecue dinner was served.

BIRD CLUB

Dora Spaight Trevathan read an article about the Cardinal and Brown Thrasher's nests. Each nest is a portrait of the builder. The Brown Thrasher's is bulky, damp and massive and she has the sense to build where thorns afford protection from cats. The cardinal's nest is light, clean and airy and she is a strangely beautiful bird often puts her home right where wandering felines can reach it easily. At this season of the year when birds are building their nests and some young birds are hatching out, all cats should be closely confined day and night. The taste of their flesh and blood is like an elixir to the tabby cat.

James Bennett read "Wings in the Sky," in which it suggested a study of birds as a most interesting hobby and advocated the building of bird baths and houses. There are many fascinating things to learn about birds, a person will enjoy outdoor life as never before.

Bruce Skinner read an article, describing the young robins and how they are cared for and taught by the mother and father birds.

Dora Spaight Trevathan, Leola Butts, Edward Beckman and Carl Creech were welcomed as new members.
