Wedding Ceremonies Are Celebrated Here This Week

Winstead-Denton and Lupton-Turnage Rites Solemnized on Tuesday and Wednesday

In a wedding ceremony of impressive dignity and simplicity, Miss Jacqueline Gainer Denson, of Rocky Mount, and Dr. George Ashby Winstead were united in marriage Tuesday morning at ten o'clock in the new Farmville Baptist Church. The Rev. Francis H. Craighill, Episcopal rector, of Rocky Mount, officiated. Floor baskets of white gladioli and fern were used with tall standards of cathedral candles as a setting for the nuptial scene.

Prior to the ceremony Mrs. Arthur F. Joyner, organist, presented a program of music. Selections included "Intermezzo" by Heine Provoost; "The Sweetest Story Ever Told," by E. M. Stultz; "Diane," by Erno Rapee; and Schubert's "Serenade." Miss Nellie Butler, soloist, sang "If God Left Only You," by Denmore; Mr. and Mrs. John D. Holmes sang "Ah, Sweet Mystery of Life," by Victor Herbert, as a duet, and Elbert C. Holmes sang "Because," by D. Hardelt. The traditional wedding marches were used and the organist played "Liebestraum" by Liszt, during the ceremony.

The ushers were Dr. H. Fleming Fuller, of Kinston, Dr. Kenneth D. Weeks, of Rocky Mount, and Vanderbilt Hospital, Nashville, Tenn., Dr. Lemuel Kornegay, Jr., of Rocky Mount and Duke University, and Rhinehart S. Freeman, Jr., of Rocky Mount, and the University of North Carolina.

Miss Frances Winstead, sister of the bridegroom, was the maid of honor, and the bride's only attendant. She was attired in a pink crepe morning frock, which was trimmed in buttons of a harmonizing shade. Her white hat, a combination of straw and taffeta was in off-the-face mode. She carried an arm bouquet of summer flowers tied with pink maline.

The bride entered the church with her uncle, Mr. Rhinehart S. Freeman of Rocky Mount, by whom she was given in marriage. An attractive brunette, she wore for her wedding a Lanvin ensemble of sheer crepe in a shade of crushed grape relieved by faint touches of dusty pink. The dress was fashioned with a fitted bodice accented by a deep V neckline and soft shirring at the shoulders. Completing the ensemble was a hem length cape which fell in graceful folds from the shoulders. Her wide brimmed hat of Milan straw was of the same shade as her dress and was finished with a veil. She used accessories of dusty pink and wore a shoulder corsage of orchids.

The bridegroom had as his best man, his stepfather, John William Holmes. Mrs. Edna Guilford Denson, mother of the bride, was dressed in white crepe. She wore a corsage of gardenias. Mrs. John William Holmes, mother of the bridegroom, wore a sheer dress of water fall blue with a lace yoke, and gardenias at her shoulder.

Mrs. Winstead is the daughter of Mrs. Edna Guilford Denson, of Rocky Mount, and the late Captain James Thomas Denson, of the United States Army. She attended Peace Junior College, Raleigh, and Mary Washington College, Fredericksburg, Va.

Dr. Winstead is the son of Mrs. John William Holmes and the late George Ashby Winstead, of Nashville and Rocky Mount. He was graduated with an A. B. degree from Wake Forest and received his medical degree from Duke University.

Following the wedding the couple left by motor for a trip to the Smoky and Yellowstone National Parks. Upon their return they will reside for the coming year in Seattle, Washington, where Dr. Winstead will be connected with the United States Marine Hospital.

Out of town guests attending the wedding were: Mrs. Edna Guilford Denson, Mrs. Claudia Turner, Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Freeman, Rhinehart Freeman, Jr., Miss Gray Guilford, Mrs. John Benton, Mrs. Mary O. Baker, Mrs. Claude K. Osborne, Mrs. John Rosey, Mrs. J. E. Hux, Mrs. L. T. Penniman, Mrs. A. B. Willingham, Mrs. E. H. Alexander, Mrs. E. L. Taylor, Mrs. D. M. Pearce, Mrs. E. E. Osborne, Jr., Miss Nancy Russell Osborne, Lem Kornegay, and K. D. Weeks, of Rocky Mount; Miss Marion Upchurch, of Raleigh; Mrs. Selma Hyman Turner, of Oak City; S. A. Parikh, of Smithfield; Mrs. George T. DeBerry, Mrs. L. F. Solles, Mrs. Kate Powell Johnson, and Mrs. A. B. Lane, of Tarboro; Mrs. L. M. Stone, of Greenville; Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Weeks, of Rocky Mount; Dr. and Mrs. H. Fleming Fuller, of Kinston; Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Rogers and daughter, Mary Fay Rogers, of Memphis, Tenn.; Mrs. W. Johnson, of Tarboro; J. Parikh, of Smithfield.

Mr. and Mrs. George W. Davis greeted the guests as they arrived. Mrs. J. Sterling Gates introduced the receiving line composed of the hostess, the bride and bridegroom elect, Mrs. Denson, Mr. and Mrs. Holmes, a trio of brides elect, Miss Ruth Hayes Turnage and her fiancé, Robert Turnage Monk, Miss Hazel Bass and fiancé, Max Eldridge McLeod, of Greensboro, and Dr. and Mrs. H. Fleming Fuller, of Kinston.

The refreshment table with the three-tiered wedding cake and its traditional motifs, held the center of interest after guests had assembled. The bride-elect joined in a treasure hunt and found lovely gifts from the hostess.

Serving ices and cake from either end of the table were Mrs. A. Q. Roebuck and Mrs. J. H. Moore. Assisting in serving were Miss Margaret Walters, Miss Nancy Gates and Miss Mary Fay Rogers. Dancing was enjoyed until a late hour, with fruit punch being served throughout the evening.

The marriage of Miss Ruth Hayes Turnage and Denton Warren Lupton, Jr., of Pantego, which took place in the Farmville Methodist Church at eleven o'clock, Wednesday morning, was characterized by beauty and simplicity. The pastor, Rev. Marvin Y. Self, officiated.

The church was beautifully decorated in green and white, with ferns forming a background for floor baskets of gladioli and feverfew. Tall white candles burned in graduated standards.

A program of nuptial music was presented by Mrs. Haywood Smith, organist, Mrs. J. W. Joyner, John D. and Elbert C. Holmes as guests assembled. Organ selections were, "Salut d'Amour," by Elgar, "O Thou Sublime, Sweet Evening Star," by Wagner, "Ave Maria," by Schubert, "Entrancing Dreams," Mrs. J. W. Joyner sang "I Love You Truly," by Carrie Jacobs Bond, Elbert C. Holmes sang "Ah, Sweet Mystery of Life," by Victor Herbert, and John D. Holmes joined him in the rendition of "The Waltz of You," as a duet. Traditional wedding marches were played as the processional and recessional and "Liebestraum" by Liszt, was used during the ceremony. At the conclusion the singers rendered Lutkin's Benediction.

Ushers were James Yancy Monk, Jr., Howard Ray Lupton, of Pantego, brother of the bridegroom, Robert Turnage Monk and Lynn Eason.

Mrs. James Yancy Monk, Jr., attended her sister as matron of honor, and the bride's cousin, Miss Ann Buchanan, of Henderson, was maid of honor. They wore identical dresses of white French eyelet and wide brimmed hats of starched linen. They carried arm bouquets of Shasta daisies and gypsophelia tied with white tulle.

The bride entered with her brother, Captain Ben O. Turnage, of Fort Jackson, South Carolina, by whom she was given in marriage. She was lovely in a triple sheer ensemble of navy blue, with collar and revers of white pique. Her hat, a large model of navy straw with taffeta crown, was veil trimmed. Her bouquet was of bride's roses tied with French maline and wide white satin ribbon. The center was a corsage to be worn for traveling.

Denton Warren Lupton, Sr., father of the bridegroom, was best man. After a wedding trip to Western North Carolina, Mr. and Mrs. Lupton will be at home in Belhaven. Mr. Lupton is connected with the State Department of Conservation and Development.

The bride, a lovely young woman of attractive personality, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Otto Turnage. She finished high school here and was graduated from East Carolina Teacher's College, Greenville. She has taught for the past two years in the Belhaven school.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Denton Warren Lupton, of Pantego. Following the ceremony the bride's parents entertained the bridal party and out of town guests at a buffet breakfast at their home on West Church street. The home was attractive with mixed arrangements of garden flowers.

The dining room table with its crystal appointments, was centered with an arrangement of white flowers. Mrs. A. C. Monk, Sr., and Mrs. A. W. Bobbitt served chilled fruit juice. Assisting in serving the breakfast were Mrs. A. C. Monk, Jr., Mrs. W. Alex Allen and Miss Mary Prior-Rones.

Out of town guests attending the wedding and breakfast included: Mr. and Mrs. B. W. Lupton and Howard Lupton, of Pantego, mother and father and brother of the bridegroom; Mr. and Mrs. Stacy Lupton, of Swan Quarter; Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Lupton, of Petersburg, Va.; Mrs. Laura M. Spencer, of Norfolk, Va.; Mrs. Elmore Spencer, of Norfolk, Va.; Mrs. L. Morris and Miss Ann Buchanan, of Henderson; Miss Ella M. Hayes, of Newport News, Va.; Miss Mildred McDonald, of Wilmington; Captain and Mrs. Ben O. Turnage, of Fort Jackson, S. C.; Mrs. R. L. Fulford,

Mrs. Charles M. Griffin and Mrs. Plato Monk, of Wilson.

Prior to the rehearsal Mrs. A. C. Monk, Sr., aunt of the bride, entertained the bridal party at a buffet supper, held at the D. A. R. Chapter House. The colonial banquet table was centered with a large arrangement of white gladioli, fern, daisies, feverfew and gypsophelia, flanked by white candles in crystal candelabra. Serving at either end of the table were Mrs. B. O. Turnage and Mrs. George E. Moore, mother and aunt of the bride elect.

The bride's cake was cut by the bride elect and served in the assembly room from a beautifully appointed table, together with ices in bridal mould. This room was elaborately decorated with magnolias, blue hydrangeas and feverfew.

Social activities here during the week have continued to center about Miss Ruth Hayes Turnage, Miss Hazel Bass and Miss Frances Joyner, charming brides-to-be.

Miss Nita Lee Townsend was hostess at a beautifully appointed luncheon, honoring the trio, on Tuesday morning. The dessert course emphasized the colors of green and white. Decorations of the reception room carried a color note of pink and blue, and the living room had artistic arrangements of magnolias, feverfew and gypsophelia.

In the bridge games, preceding the luncheon, Miss Ruth Hayes Turnage won the high score award, ash trays of tinted glass, and Mrs. C. S. Hotchkiss, as runner up, received a glass slipper. The hostess presented Miss Turnage with an ice service, and Miss Bass and Miss Joyner with crystal in their respective patterns.

Out of town guests were Miss Ann Buchanan, of Henderson, Miss Mildred MacDonald, of Wilmington, Miss Cora Lee Patterson and Miss Kathleen Eagles, of Saratoga, Miss Alice Dail, of Kinston, Miss Jean Brown, of Greenville, Mrs. M. H. Potter, Jr., of Snow Hill, and Mrs. A. F. Hammond, Jr., of Battle Creek, Mich.

Mr. and Mrs. Mac Matthews and Mr. and Mrs. Alan Blacklock, of Greensboro, entertained at an outdoor supper, Saturday evening, in compliment to Miss Bass and Mr. McLeod.

Miss Mary Thomas Smith entertained at a lovely bridge party at her home in Greenville, Wednesday afternoon, honoring Miss Joyner.

Miss Frances Beaman entertained at a kitchen shower, Thursday in compliment to Miss Hazel Bass.

Miss Nellie Butler will have an old fashioned box supper and square dance at the Country Club Friday evening in honor of Miss Joyner.

Misses Louise and Virginia Harris will entertain at bridge Saturday evening in compliment to both Miss Joyner and Miss Bass.

Progressive Bridge Club Members of the Progressive Bridge Club enjoyed an afternoon of contract at the home of Miss Tabitha DeVisconti this week.

Prior to the games, the guests were invited to the sun porch for refreshments consisting of frozen coca-colas, pretzels, potato chips, ice box cookies, pickles, olives and salted nuts. Large baskets of brown eyed Susans and gardenias made effective decorations here, and white sweet-peas, larkspur and blue hydrangeas were used as a setting for the tables in the living room. Mrs. B. Streeter Sheppard scored high and received a lovely picture as an award.

Major May Chapter Activities of the Major Benjamin May Chapter, D. A. R., were brought to a close with the meeting held on Flag Day in the Chapter House, with Mrs. T. E. Joyner, Mrs. R. H. Knott, Mrs. C. E. Moore and Mrs. W. H. Whitmore, of Wilson, as hostesses. Artistic floral arrangements carried the patriotic colors and miniature flags on the refreshment plates further emphasized the significance of the day.

Mrs. Henrietta M. Williamson presided and appointed the following committees: nominating—Mrs. T. E. Joyner, Mrs. E. L. Baker, Mrs. W. R. Harris; program—Mrs. U. H. Comart, Mrs. Bruce Eagles, Mrs. S. T. White and Mrs. P. E. Jones. The presiding officer welcomed Mrs. Preston Murphy into the Chapter as a new member.

Mrs. Bennett-Fields gave an inspiring talk on the flag and the emotions aroused "when the flag goes by." Mrs. John D. Holmes brought this part of the program to a close with the song, "God Bless America," with accompaniment by Mrs. Haywood Smith. The meeting was then adjourned and an ice course was served by the hostesses.

The members and guests reassembled at the home of Mrs. A. C. Monk for a musical hour, when a program of brilliant selections was presented by Mrs. A. W. McLean, of Lumberton. Mrs. McLean, formerly Miss Sarena Turnage, whose musical talent is recognized throughout the State, played numbers from Bach, Beethoven, Chopin, Liszt and Debussy, bringing her program to a conclusion with a concert paraphrase on the Wiener Blut Waltz by Strauss-Rugler. The pianist was presented as a former pupil, by Mrs. Haywood Smith.

A number of special prizes shared with members in the pleasure of the afternoon.

Literary Club The Farmville Literary Club, which has been organized, will meet on Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. W. Joyner.

Lowling a delightful meeting held Wednesday with Mrs. C. H. Joyner as hostess.

Miss Elizabeth Davis, chairman of the book committee, delivered at this time a dozen of the new books, which will be passed by members for reading during the year.

Featuring the program was a splendid talk by Mrs. John B. Joyner, president of the 15th district, who gave notes on North Carolina's participation in the recent General Federation meeting held at Atlantic City, and reviewed the life and activities of the new president, Mrs. John A. Whitehurst, prior to discussing accomplishments of her district in recent months and some objectives being planned for the fall.

A delectable salad was served with iced tea. Special guests were Mrs. George W. Davis, Mrs. J. H. Moore and houseguest, Mrs. F. H. King, of Pocahontas, Miss, Mrs. J. M. Hobgood and Mrs. Louise Harris. Col. McAllister.

The Colonel Alexander McAllister Chapter, D. A. R., held one of the most interesting and delightful meetings of the year on Wednesday with Mrs. E. C. Beaman as hostess. The Beaman home with its arrangements of summer flowers made a lovely setting for the meeting, presided over by the regent, Mrs. Mary Colvin Murphy, of Snow Hill, who also presented guests taking part in the program of the afternoon.

Dr. L. R. Meadows, president of East Carolina Teachers College, of Greenville, gave a splendid review of events leading up to present world conditions, and a comprehensive synopsis of developments in Europe and the United States "up to the time," as he said, "he left the radio."

Mrs. J. F. Parrott, Sr., of Kinston, made an inspiring talk on the subject of "Beauty From Ruins," in which she gave observations of the beautiful traits of character evidenced by people of her acquaintance, who had been through the scourge of war in China and England.

A musical program was developed by Mrs. J. W. Joyner, who sang "June Is In My Heart" and "Ah, Sweet Mystery of Life," with Mrs. J. L. Shackelford as accompanist, and by Mary Murphy and Anne Exum, of Snow Hill, who rendered instrumental duets.

Refreshments were served from the dining room. The table was spread with an imported cloth and centered with an arrangement of flowers, carrying the color note of yellow, green and white, which was again observed in the candle decoration and in the dainty sandwiches. The regent, Mrs. Murphy, served a frozen marshmallow salad from one of the table. Assisting in serving pickles, crax, cookies and iced tea were Mrs. R. C. Copenhaver, daughter of the hostess, and Mrs. Robert Lee Smith.

The United States is letting a lot of contracts for the production of war equipment but this isn't the same thing as having the equipment.
