Funeral Services For Mrs. Dora Bailey

Funeral services for Mrs. Dora Bailey were conducted from the home at 3:30 o'clock Tuesday afternoon by Rev. N. A. Woodard of Winterville. Interment was in the family burying ground.

Mrs. Bailey's health had been bad for several years, but she was able to attend to the duties of her home most of the time until a few days ago, when she suffered a severe heart attack. She had improved a great deal and it was thought she would soon be able to be up again. Tuesday morning she had another attack and died immediately.

She had lived in this community all her life and in her gentle unassuming way had endeared herself to a large number of friends.

She is survived by her husband, Joe A. Bailey and a son, Earl Bailey, of Walstonburg.

Walstonburg Community Inter-Denominational Bible School

The third annual Walstonburg Community Vacation Bible School was held last week, beginning on Monday and closing on Friday, in Walstonburg with a total enrollment of one hundred ninety three pupils. Sponsored by the North Greene County Ministerial Association, the School was community wide and inter-denominational. There were seven churches of the Walstonburg area represented: the Spring Branch Free Will Baptist, the Free Union Free Will Baptist, the Howell Swamp Free Will Baptist, the Friendship Free Will Baptist, the Tabernacle Methodist, the Walstonburg Christian, and the Walstonburg Methodist.

The peak attendance of one hundred seventy was reached on two days.

The program of the School included worship, Bible Study, recreation, and music appreciation. On the closing day the pupils enjoyed luncheon.

The faculty of the Bible School consisted of twenty teachers and directors. Two worship periods daily were led by Mrs. A. J. Craft of the Walstonburg Christian Church, Mrs. Carlos Walston of the Howell Swamp Free Will Baptist Church directed a music appreciation hour for the entire school. The recreation for the boys was in charge of Mr. Ed Taylor, Jr., a member of the Walstonburg Methodist Church and a graduate of the University of North Carolina. Miss Dorothy Gardner, of the Walstonburg Christian Church, Misses Helen and Mattie Brown Hinson, of the Free Union Free Will Baptist Church, and Miss Dorothy Lewis, from Farmville Methodist Church, supervised the girls' recreation groups.

The other members of the faculty were: Mrs. Carl Cobb, of Howell Swamp Free Will Baptist Church, Mrs. Sam Chandler, of the Farmville Christian Church, Mrs. Melvin Gay, of the Farmville Methodist Church, and Mrs. Isaac Rouse, of the Walstonburg Methodist Church, who were teachers of the Beginners' Class; Mrs. Earl Lang, of the Walstonburg Christian Church, who had charge of the Primary Class; Mrs. Frank Shirley, of the Howell Swamp Free Will Baptist Church, who taught the Junior Class; Mr. Joe Caldwell, a student in the Duke University School of Religion, who was teacher of the Intermediate Class; Mrs. Lydia Walston, of the Walstonburg Methodist Church, who was the Bible School Nurse; and Mrs. Rose McKeel, from the Walstonburg Methodist Church, Miss Lillian Corbett, of the Walstonburg Christian Church, Mrs. Arthur Gay, of the Walstonburg Christian Church, Mrs. W. A. Marlowe, of the Walstonburg Christian Church, Miss Fannie May Smith, of Howell Swamp Free Will Baptist Church, and Mrs. Carl Hicks, of the Walstonburg Methodist Church, who served as the Lemonade Committee for the School.

Those in charge of the School express much pleasure at the splendid spirit of cooperation and fellowship which prevailed throughout the week among both the students and the faculty. Plans are already being laid for next year's Bible School, for which a planning committee is to be appointed with representatives from all the churches in the Walstonburg area.

U-BOAT SINKS U. S. SHIP. OTHER ATTACKS AHEAD.

The sinking of the freighter, Robin Moor, which carried no contraband goods according to American definitions, emphasizes the strained relationship between Germany and the United States in regard to commerce upon the ocean. German spokesmen have repeatedly declared that German U-boats will sink all ships carrying supplies to Great Britain, regardless of their origin or ownership. The United States has proclaimed as a national policy the intention to deliver these supplies to Great Britain. Obviously, a clash is inevitable.

Whether the destruction of the Robin Moor results in the arming of merchant ships and active protection from the guns of the U. S. warships or not, such steps are certain to come as German submarines attack other American vessels. The sinking of the Robin Moor was an example of German ruthlessness in leaving survivors in open boats far from land. It should remove all doubt which may have existed in some American minds as to the possibility of getting along with Hitler.

HULL TALKS TO VICHY. FRENCH DEFEND COURSE. PORTUGAL PROTESTS.

Secretary of State Cordell Hull does not hesitate to give the Vichy Government of France ample warning of the attitude of the United States towards its policy of permitting Germany to utilize French territory in violation of the armistice terms. In a second warning to Vichy the Secretary of State charged that the "Darlan-Laval group" intended to deliver France politically, economically, socially and militarily to Adolf Hitler's control and cautioned that the "general adoption of Hitlerism would set the world back five to ten centuries."

The French admit that German planes used Syria as "a stepping stone" to Iraq, during the recent rebellion against the British and that some French war materials may have been sent from Syria to aid the Iraq rebels but French officials insist that France is acting on her own initiative and will be the sole judge of what is the best course for France to pursue.

An interesting sidelight on the recent radio speech of the President to the American people is that protest and warning from Portugal, with reference to the President's statement that this country would not permit Germany to occupy the Atlantic islands. Portugal reaffirmed her neutrality and determination to defend her territory from attack.

In reply, Secretary Hull pointed out that the United States has no aggressive intentions against the territory of any country and that our present policy "is based upon the inalienable right of self-defense." He noted the expanding acts of aggression of Germany, threatening the peace and safety of the Western Hemisphere and referred to the dangers that would result if Portuguese islands in the Atlantic were to come under the control or occupation of a conquering power.

national morale and eased the way for German sabotage, espionage and actual military activity.

Compliance with the Government's request, expected before July 10th, will not affect German military and naval intelligence units, which are attached to the German Embassy. Diplomatic officials are not affected by the order, which does apply to nearly two hundred high German officials and agents.

Retaliatory action on the part of the German Government would affect eleven consulates in Germany and possibly other consulates in various occupied countries. Already, our consulates in Warsaw, Prague and Bessie have been closed at the request of the German Government.

AIR BASES IN BRAZIL. ARGENTINA IS COOL. URUGUAY COOPERATES.

The United States and Brazil, it is said, are negotiating in Rio de Janeiro for air bases on the Brazilian coast which could be used by this country. An official of the Brazilian Embassy in Washington says that the negotiations include a loan of about $100,000,000 to Brazil for air base construction work. The bases would belong to Brazil but would be available for the use of this country in an emergency.

Because the east coast of Brazil is only 1,000 miles from Dakar, French Senatorial Africa, military experts have expressed the opinion that a bombardment attack upon this hemisphere would be launched against Brazil from Dakar. It is obvious that the availability of a base on the coast of Brazil would do much to increase the efficiency of any aerial patrol of the Atlantic waters.

For example, he saw that the peanut growers of the first district were not taken for a ride recently when an effort was being made by the House committee on agriculture to reduce the North Carolina quota in favor of other sections of the country which have recently embarked upon the peanut producing industry.

He has made one speech on the floor of the House which was in the interest of an important project for his district and then quit, just like Howard of Georgia of other days, did.

By R. A. FIELDS, Sales Supervisor

The entire Eastern Tobacco Belt has benefitted wonderfully from good rains during the past two weeks, and present prospects indicate a better and earlier crop than last year, with better prices.
