Margaret Smith Is Bride Of Edwin Stuart Powell

Couple Wed In Home Ceremony On Tuesday Morning

A wedding uniting Miss Margaret Thompson Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Glasgow Smith, and Edwin Stuart Powell, of Reidsville, son of Mrs. Jennie Powell, of Oxford, and the late Rev. James Powell, was solemnized at the home of the bride here on Tuesday morning, July 22, at nine o'clock.

A variety of garden flowers was used throughout the home and against a background of ferns, pedestal baskets of pink gladioli and cathedral candles in floor standards were used in decorating the improvised altar in the living room.

Prior to the ceremony, Mrs. Haywood Smith played Schubert's Serenade. John D. Holmes sang "At Dawning," by Cadman, and Elbert C. Holmes sang "Beloved, It Is Morn," by Aylward. The soloists rendered "The Sweetest Story Ever Told," by Stults, as a duet. The traditional wedding marches were used and during the ceremony MacDowell's "To A Wild Rose" was softly played.

James Glasgow Smith, Jr. and Curtis Flanagan lighted the candles. Escorted by her father, James Glasgow Smith, by whom she was given in marriage, the bride was met by the bridegroom and his brother, Thomas Gray Powell, who was best man.

The bride wore an ensemble of ice blue crepe, tuck-trimmed and fashioned with a high neck. Her hat was a felt model of the same shade blue with velvet trim, and her accessories were white. Her only ornament was a string of pearls. Her shoulder corsage was of white orchids.

Mrs. Powell, an attractive young woman of much personal charm, was graduated from East Carolina Teachers College, Greenville, with an A. B. degree, having majored in Home Economics. She attended New York University. For the past four years she has been a popular member of the Reidsville school faculty, as teacher of Vocational Home Ec.

Mr. Powell attended a Richmond commercial school. He is connected with the Laura L. Powell Insurance Agency in Reidsville, where he and Mrs. Powell will be at home after August 1.

Following the wedding, the parents of the bride entertained the bride and bridegroom and wedding guests at a breakfast. Floral decorations of the dining room carried the traditional nuptial colors of green and white. The bride's table was centered with an arrangement of white gladioli, Queen Anne's lace and daisies, with the auxiliary tables bearing similar appointments. Miss Nannie Smith, Miss Margaret Walter and Mrs. C. M. Paylor assisted in serving.

After breakfast the couple left for a motor trip to Northern cities. A number of lovely prenuptial affairs have been given in compliment to Miss Smith since announcement was made in June of her engagement.

On Thursday, preceding the wedding, Mrs. Curtis H. and Arch J. Flanagan entertained at a delightful bridge party at the D. A. E. chapter house, honoring Miss Smith. Pink gladioli predominated in the lovely floral setting provided for the nine tables, which bore appointments in the bridal motifs. A corsage of tallman roses marked the place of the honor guest.

Mrs. Harry Harper scored high and received dusting powder as an award, and Mrs. Sam Lewis retained the floating prize, a dainty handkerchief. Miss Smith was presented by the hostesses with goblets in her crystal pattern.

A congealed salad, sandwiches, pickles, cran and iced tea were served after play.

Charming in every detail was the party given in compliment to Miss Smith and Mr. Powell on the evening preceding the marriage, by Miss Verous Lee Joyner.

The Joyner home on North Main street had arrangements of gladioli, daisies, roses and Queen Anne's lace, with the dining room colors being in the traditional green and white. The Gered cake and its fortune motifs was the center of interest. Mrs. T. E. Joyner, mother of the hostess, served ices from one end of the table, which also bore silver compotes of points and salt nuts.

Miss Novella Horton Capps, of Washington, D. C., who is visiting her grandmother, Mrs. Dora H. Keel, entertained on Tuesday evening at a lovely bridge party in compliment to her house guest, Miss Betty Lou Turnage, of Washington, D. C., and Miss Ann Simons, of Wilkes-Barre, Pa., guest of the J. O. Pollard family.

Miss Simons compiled high score in the games of contract, and received stationery as an award. Miss Turnage and Miss Simons were presented with gifts of note paper by the hostess.

Miss Betty Morris assisted Miss Capps in serving ices, a variety of candies and salt nuts.

EASON-GREENE

Of interest to their many friends in North Carolina and Virginia, was the marriage of Miss Iona Elizabeth Greene, of Farmville, and Milton Lyman Eason, Jr., of Newport News, Va., which took place in Elizabeth City, Sunday, July 20.

The bride was attired in a yellow sport suit with hat of brown straw and worn accessories. She wore a corsage of tallman roses.

Mrs. Eason, a young woman of much personal beauty and charm, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Algie Jackson Greene, of Farmville.

Mr. Eason, popular young Farmville man, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Lyman Eason. The young couple will be at home in Newport News, Va., where Mr. Eason has a position on the clerical force of one of the defense projects.

Mr. and Mrs. Si Johnson entertained forty of their friends at a delightful social affair at the Country Club Wednesday evening in compliment to their guests, Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Louke, of Columbus, Ohio, and Mrs. Helen Armitage, of Finley, Ohio.

Included in the evening's entertainment was the showing of recent films made in China by George Monk, and dancing. Refreshments were served.

HOME DEMONSTRATION CLUB

The Farmville Home Demonstration Club held its July meeting at the club house on Thursday. The meeting opened with the singing of "America the Beautiful" and the reading of the club collect by the group.

Reports were heard from chairmen of the Parent Education, Poultry and 4-H Club committees. The major subject for consideration, "Walls, Windows and Colors," was discussed by Miss Verona Lee Joyner, county agent, who used posters, materials, wall and woodwork in painted finishes to illustrate her talk.

During the short business session, a new member was added to the group. Club score sheets were given and paints explained. Mrs. J. R. Lewis was appointed as a delegate to the State short course in Raleigh, August 4-8, and other members were urged to attend. The Club voted to have its annual picnic at the swimming pool on August 14 at six o'clock.

A social hour was enjoyed after adjournment.

CHURCH NOTICE

By mutual agreement the ministers of Farmville have decided not to make any change in the hours of Church services Sunday (July 27th). After this the services will be one hour earlier, in accordance with change to day-light saving time.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE APPOINTS REPRESENTATIVES

Miss Jane Greene has been appointed by the Chamber of Commerce to represent Farmville in the Fourth Annual Coastal Festival to be held in Morehead City on August 7, 8, and 9th.

Miss Doris Rouse has been appointed by the Chamber of Commerce to represent Farmville in the Tobacco Festival to be held in Wilson on August 21st and 22nd. Miss Jane Greene will represent Farmville in the Bathing Beauty contest on August 21st.

FOOD

The Government has announced a national effort to prevent fruits and vegetables from going to waste this summer by promoting full use, canning, drying, or storage of these foods.

SOYBEANS

Pitt County livestock producers are grazing more soybeans this year than ever before, since the beans cheaper feed cost and hogs and cattle thrive on them, says Assistant Farm Agent C. D. Griggs.

Keep Profit at Home

(By JOHN CRONIN in Commercial Banker)

Certainly I can buy at wholesale—and just as certainly I do not and won't, because I cannot help my community that way, and my institution can progress only as does my community.

It may seem hard to pass up a chance for a sizable dollar saving on a purchase—but the profit is the money that stays in town, and that's the money that builds up our community.
