Fete Engaged Couple At Lovely Social Event Here

Dance Compliments Miss Merritt, Mr. Horton; Rotarians Entertain At Banquet; D. A. R. Hold Tournament

The loveliest social function of the early winter season here was the dance given by Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Monk and T. Eli Joyner, Jr., at the Country Club this week, honoring Miss Mary Jamieson Merritt, of Greenville, and Joseph Loyd Horton, Jr., popular members of the young social set of Greenville and Farmville, whose marriage will be solemnized on November 19.

The spacious assembly room of the Club was decorated with a profusion of chrysanthemums in the autumn colors.

Greeting guests as they arrived were T. Eli Joyner, Jr., Miss Nellie Butler, Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Monk, Miss Merritt and Mr. Horton.

Refreshments, consisting of sandwiches, pickles, satzago chips, cheese straws, cookies and tomato juice were served from beautifully appointed tables during the dance intermission, by Mrs. A. C. Monk and Mrs. T. E. Joyner, mothers of the hosts.

The delightful affair was attended by seventy-five couples.

Out of town guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Dave Mosier, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bissette, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Arthur, Mr. and Mrs. John Wells, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Rivers, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Nobles, Mr. and Mrs. Garrett Stanfield, Misses Harriet Lloyd, Jean Blount, Marion Tyson, Emmy Lou Seales, Jane Garrett, Julia Gaylor, Virginia Uzzel, Bill Saunders, Johnny Moseley, Harold Staton, George Dowdy, Tom Webb, Cary Warren, Ernest Griffin, Howard Waldrop, Barney Smith, Paul Clodfelter, A. L. Hobgood, and Edwin Saunders, of Greenville; Miss Grace Clara Taylor and Tom Wilson, of Bethel; Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Fields, Jr., and Mr. and Mrs. Plato Monk, of Wilson; Audrey Joyner, of Raleigh; Mr. and Mrs. J. Sterling Gates, of Kingston.

Rotary Banquet

An anticipated event of the social calendar each fall is the banquet held by the Rotary Club in observance of Ladies' Night, when members of the Farmville school faculty share honors with Rotary Arms as special guests.

The occasion held by the Rotarians on Tuesday evening at the Country Club and attended by nearly a hundred members and guests, surpassed former banquets in various ways, according to reports. Armistice Day was emphasized by the decorations, which carried out the national colors, by the use of the flag, and in the place cards and favors. Bowls of red roses and red and white chrysanthemums added color and beauty to the banquet table.

Jim Joyner, Rotary president, dispensed cordially and the traditional Rotary spirit of genuine fellowship throughout the evening as master of ceremonies, and the program committee composed of Paul Ewell, John B. Lewis, Irvin Morgan, Jr., and Carl Blackwood had planned an entertaining program that went over with a bang.

John Thorne extended a warm welcome from the Rotarians, to which Miss Marguerite McKinney responded on behalf of the faculty members. Mrs. E. LeRoy Rollins spoke out for the Rotary Arms.

Presentation of the entertainer for the evening was made by John B. Lewis, and the occasion was made gayer by the antics of Herman Joseph, who took time out from his merry-making to relate many of his interesting experiences as a former clown in Ringling Brothers circus.

At the end of an exciting drawing contest, the ladies were happier as the recipients of lovely gifts of pottery, linens, electrical appliances, candy and potted plants. Mrs. Jim Joyner won the grand prize, $5 in Thrift Stamps; other prizes went to Mrs. J. H. Moore, Miss Annie Lee Jones, Miss Mary Frances Catts, Miss Elizabeth Motley, Mrs. W. B. Carraway, Mrs. Carl Blackwood, Mrs. P. E. Jones, Mrs. Irvin Morgan, Jr., Mrs. Foust Johnson, Miss Louise Farrior, Mrs. P. K. Ewell, Miss Christine Schroy, Mrs. Earl Trevaithan, Mrs. John M. Stanall, Miss Nympe Edgerton, Mrs. J. T. Thorne, Mrs. Frank G. Dupree, Miss Elizabeth Meigs, and Mrs. Robert J. Wainright.

During the time designated on the program for fun and frivolity, Ed Nash Warren presented gifts to the Rotarians, which were suggestive of their classification and characteristics.

Among the features of delightful entertainment were musical selections by Miss Nellie Butler and Mr. and Mrs. Elbert C. Holmes. Mr. Holmes led the assemblage in the singing of Rotary songs with Mrs. M. V. Jones as accompanist, and a patriotic note was sounded by the rendition of the National Anthem and God Bless America.

A turkey dinner was served at seven o'clock.

Bridge Tournament

Players for twenty-nine tables are played on Wednesday, the second tournament of the winter season.

Major May Chapter

A splendid meeting of the Major Benjamin May Chapter, D. A. B., was held this week with Mrs. P. E. Jones and Mrs. M. V. Jones as joint hostesses.

The mantels and end tables bore artistic arrangements of yellow and white chrysanthemums.

Mrs. H. M. Williamson presided and Mrs. E. B. Beasley, of Fountain, led the devotional exercises. Mrs. U. H. Cozart, of Wilson, chairman of the program committee, presented beautiful year books as a gift to the Chapter from Mrs. Annie Barrett, of Wilson. The books were dedicated to Mrs. Barrett's daughter, the late Mrs. Annie Barrett Arrington, of Rocky Mount, who was a member of this organization.

Featuring the program was a splendid review of "White Cliffs," Alice Duer Miller, by Mrs. J. H. Rose, of Greenville. Miss Eunice McGehee, of Greenville, introduced the guest speaker.

Delicious refreshments, consisting of chicken mayonnaise, pickles, crab apples, sandwiches in turkey design, cranberry individual coconut cakes and black coffee, were served by the hostesses after adjournment.

Merry Matrons

Mrs. M. V. Horton was hostess to the Merry Matrons at the residence of Mrs. G. M. Holden. Today chrysanthemums were beautifully arranged in the home. Mrs. R. LeRoy Rollins presided. Mrs. J. I. Morgan was in charge of the program and in continuation of the study of "The Blue Bird," songs made by this group discuss the transition period between 1818 and 1820.

A delicious grapefruit salad was served with sandwiches and coffee.

Wednesday Afternoon Club

The Wednesday Afternoon Club was delightfully entertained by Miss Elizabeth Davis at her home, in which handsome white chrysanthemums were used with pleasing effect.

Mrs. R. C. Copenhaver and Mrs. John B. Lewis, who scored high for members and guests, received silver book marks as awards.

When cards were laid aside, delicious iced cake, pinwheel cookies, stuffed dates, cheese straws and coffee were served. Mrs. R. T. Monk and Mrs. John B. Lewis were special guests of the hostess.

U. D. C.

The November meeting of the Rebecca Winbourne Chapter, U. D. C., was held with Mrs. A. E. Walker as hostess and Mrs. W. M. Willis, the newly elected president, presiding.

Mrs. J. M. Wheelock conducted the devotional exercises, having her remarks on Psalm 135.

In continuation of the Chapter's study of "Famous Statesmen," Miss Anne Jones read a splendid paper on Zebulon Vance, who rendered meritorious service to North Carolina while Governor. Miss Helen Rouse brought the program to a delightful close with a solo, "Our America," with accompaniment by Miss Margaret Tyson.

A variety of sandwiches, salted nuts and hot tea were served, the plate decorations being appropriate to the autumn season as were the floral arrangements in the Walter home.

Lanrad Club

Members of the Lanrad Club played in the first of a tournament series of bridge games this week with Mrs. Rob Fiser as a gracious hostess.

Chrysanthemums in lovely autumn shades were used as a setting for the tables. Mrs. Ben O. Turnage, Jr., of Columbia, S. C., was presented with a box of candy by the hostess. Delicious refreshments were served after play.

LIBRARY HOURS CHANGED

Hours of the Farmville Library are as follows for the month of November: from the 13th through the 15th, 10:00 A. M., and 12:30 to 5:30 P. M.; from the 17th through the 26th, 9:00 A. M., and 12:30 P. M., to 5:30 P. M.

PLOW-UP

British farmers are being asked to plow up another 2,000,000 acres of hitherto uncultivated land, including golf courses, to help meet food needs.

NO DANGER

Although there are increasing calls for food from abroad, there is no danger of food rationing in this country, according to the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

PLENTY OF TURKEY

A. R. Hatchett, the Army's marketing specialist for poultry, has announced that he has arranged for the purchase of 1,500,000 pounds of dressed turkeys to supply the Army's Thanksgiving dinner requirements.
