To the People of this Community

YOU ARE IMPORTANT

There is no such thing as a "little" investment in the Fourth War Loan.

Your $25 or $50 or $100 Extra War Bond may not have great importance in your mind, but it is making up a $14 billion dollar total for individuals.

But multiply yourself by 100,000,000 and then you see in real perspective how truly great each citizen becomes in massing national strength against the Nazis and the Japs.

4th WAR LOAN

Capt. Maurice Witherspoon, Navy chaplain aboard the Carrier Wasp when she sank, tells of a rescued wounded sailor, who, as he regained consciousness, asked: "Did I do my best?"

That's the only question you, too, have to ask yourself when you decide the extent of your personal participation in the Fourth War Loan.

There undoubtedly will be large single purchases of War Bonds in this community, but yours—if it is "your best"—will deserve equally the red, white and blue shield you are privileged to display in the window of your home.

So "Let's All Back the Attack!"

THE EDITOR.

LET'S ALL BACK THE ATTACK

The Fourth War Loan is part and parcel of the preparations for the all-out smash at Germany and Japan. The slogan, "Let's all Back the Attack," conveys the note of urgency to everyone of us to do our utmost to make certain that we do not have another Dunkerque or Dieppe on our hands. If you have anyone near the battlefront—and who has not—you will want to sacrifice to the point of hurt to buy extra war bonds.

This is the kind of a war you as an individual can't brush off. You're in it to the hilt. Not since the very beginning of the Republic have the ringing words of the Founding Fathers—"we pledge our lives and our fortunes"—resounded so clearly and so truly. Because if we lose, we lose all—not only as a nation but as individuals.

In the big assault, in which men from this community—men from your very home and your neighbors' homes—will be braving every terror a Hitler can hurl against them—you have a job to do. You can't afford to take the chance that you will not be needed. Every man and woman and even our children must deny themselves comforts and luxuries to put the money into extra war bonds in order to achieve in some measure the sacrifices which their sons, brothers, fathers, husbands and friends will make in the next few months, perhaps weeks.

The fateful days are here. In the years to come you will look back at the early months of 1944 and recall what you did to help save yourself, your family and your country.

Every home which displays the Treasury Department's 4th War Loan, red, white and blue shield with its proud message, "We've Bought Extra Bonds," is adding its weight to the attack.

In doing your duty in the forthcoming invasion to crush our enemies, you are first being loyal to your country. However, you must not lose sight of the fact that "buying bonds" and keeping them is actually saving money. Bonds are savings. They are real social security, real old age insurance. They are the safest and best investment for the average man, against a rainy day.

Where else can you find an opportunity for small investment today, such as in E Bonds, that guarantees a 3-1/2 per cent increase in ten years?

Thus, from a standpoint of sound reasoning, every person should put every dollar they have into War Bonds, for the good of the country and for the good of the individual citizen. Let's all back the attack.

The purpose of tomorrow is to give us another chance.

The weak are governed by circumstances; while the strong govern the circumstances.

The devil makes friends with everybody he can and then deceives them. Don't let him do it.

Don't let the material things that money can buy tempt you. Let your eyes be on the things that money can't buy.

MRS. J. W. COLVIN IS LAID TO REST

Mrs. Annie Moore Colvin, 87, of Washington, D. C., widow of the late James W. Colvin, and a former resident of Snow Hill, was laid to rest in the family plot in the Atkinson cemetery, Saturday afternoon, at 2:00 o'clock. Funeral services were conducted from the Presbyterian Church there by the pastor, Rev. A. J. Boyd.

Mrs. Colvin, who resided with her daughter, Mrs. Mary C. Murphy, in Washington, was well known throughout the State and held in high esteem as a gentlewoman of fine intellect and Christian character. News of her death was received with genuine regret by friends here, who mourn the passing of a consecrated Churchwoman and a gracious personality.

Accompanying the body from Washington to its resting place were: her daughter, Mrs. Mary Colvin Murphy, a granddaughter, Mary C. Murphy, Mrs. Robert Wright, Dr. W. J. Orr, a nephew, and Mrs. Orr.

Miss Edna Robinson, a kinswoman, joined the family in Wilson and attended the final rites.

ON AIR EVACUATION DUTY

Friends here will be interested to learn that Miss Mary Sue Manning, of Greenville, sister of R. L. Manning, was among three flight nurses, especially trained for medical air evacuation, whose pictures were shown in the Charleston Evening Post of recent date with a transport plane for wounded service men, carrying 24 litter and 28 ambulatory patients, medical and air force personnel, baggage and medical equipment to McCloskey General Hospital, in Texas. The 1000 mile hop requires 7 hours.

Since Pearl Harbor more than 125,000 patients have been moved from fronts and hospitals to other hospitals by plane. Of that total only one man died and he was described as a "moribund patient" who would have died anyway.

Following receipt of the news clipping and picture Mr. Manning received news that his sister had arrived overseas for duty.

ALFALFA
Apply 30 pounds of agricultural borax per acre to your alfalfa this winter to control "yellow" and obtain maximum yields of both hay and seed, says State College Extension agronomists.

LAMBS
Cooperative lamb sales are one of the most important factors in the sheep improvement program in North Carolina, says Farm Agent H. H. Harris of Columbia County in a report to the State College Extension Service.

AND HE means Soda...natural soda, the kind he's always used. He's got to grow more food and feed. He can do it if he gets enough soda to top dress his grain, fruit and forage; enough to side dress his corn, vegetables, potatoes, cotton and other vital crops.

Properly applied, 1 ton of soda top or side dressing will produce 250 bu. of oats, 100 bu. of wheat or 125 bu. of corn; 12,000 lbs. of vegetables, 9,600 lbs. of forage, or 1,250 lbs. of cotton and 2,250 lbs. of cotton seed.

Last year 1,000,000 tons of Chilean Nitrate of Soda were used on U. S. farms. This year every pound that can be brought from Chile will be needed — and every pound possible will be brought in time for your '44 crops.
