Williford; recording secretary, Mrs. Tommy Ryan; corresponding secretary, Mrs. John M. Mewborn; treasurer, Mrs. Fred Moore; reporter, Mrs. R. C. Copenhaver; Parliamentum, Mrs. Stuart Sugg.

The first meeting for the new year is scheduled for Tuesday evening, September 4, at 8 o'clock.

KIWANIS MEET

Kiwanis' Lt. Governor "Rip" Hodges made his official visitation to the Club Monday evening, and made the principal address.

Choosing as his subject "How Democratic is our Government," the speaker made it clear that he was expressing his own personal opinion, and stated that he did not wish to sway anyone politically. Instead, he did wish however to arouse the complacency that we are so likely to find ourselves in company with, trading it in for an active place in the operation of the Democracy according to its original purpose.

The speaker's remarks were controversial, and it can well be said that he left food for thought.

Immediately following the meeting Gov. Hodges called a Directors meeting for the purpose of receiving the accomplishments of the Club thus far.

The program next week will be under the direction of Ted L. Albritton, Chairman of Kiwanis Education.

Miss Hazel Stroud Bride of Mr. Riddick Freeman

Kinston, Aug. 16.—In an impressive but simple ceremony Miss Hazel Leah Stroud, only daughter of the late William Emmett and Fleta Harper Stroud, of Kinston, became the bride of Mr. Riddick N. Freeman, of Farmville, son of the late Samuel and Mary Miller Freeman, of Colerain, at 9:30 Thursday morning in the Gordon Street Church of Christ. Rev. R. N. Hurt, pastor, officiated.

Altar decorations were tall baskets of white gladioli interspersed with lighted tapers in seven-branched candelabra against a background of greenery. Mrs. Carl B. Sugg, of Washington, D. C., organist, rendered nuptial music. Selections included "Calm As the Night" by Bohn, "Drink To Me Only With Thine Eyes" old English, "Oh, Promise Me" by de Koven, and Gounod's "Ave Maria." Traditional marches were used for processional and recessional.

The bride, given in marriage by her brother, Mr. Cecil N. Stroud, of Cherry Point, chose a navy blue street-length dress of sheenness with matching cord hat and bag. She wore long white kid gloves, and a string of pearls, gift of the bridegroom. Her flowers were a shoulder corsage of stephanotis.

Messrs. William E. Stroud, brother of the bride, of Snow Hill, and Paul Ewell, of Farmville, were ushers. Mrs. Freeman, a graduate of Meredith College, taught in the Lenoir County schools for a time before going to Farmville where she is at present a member of the school faculty. Mr. Freeman is a prominent business man of Farmville where he is owner and manager of the Freeman Motor Company.

Immediately after the ceremony the couple left for a wedding trip to unannounced points. Upon their return they will make their home on Wilson Street in Farmville.

No formal announcements are being issued.

MARTHA MAY LEWIS BRIDE OF JAMES LEON AMMONS

Vows Spoken Monday Afternoon In Impressive Ceremony At Methodist Church

In a ceremony, impressive in its simplicity and dignity, Miss Martha May Lewis, daughter of Mrs. John Redden Lewis, of Farmville, and the late Mr. Lewis, became the bride of Petty Officer C. M. 2/c James Leon Ammons, United States Navy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Asa Ammons, of Roland, Monday afternoon, August 20, at 5:30 o'clock, at the Farmville Methodist Church, with the pastor, Rev. Marvin Y. Self, officiating.

The Church was decorated in bridal white and green. Lace ferns were used as a background for the baskets of white gladioli and the floor standards of cathedral candles. The altar rail was entwined with sprays of lace fern and white tulle.

A prelude of wedding music was played by Mrs. Haywood Smith, organist, who wore a dress of heavenly blue crepe and a corsage of pink roses. Selections included Rubenstein's "Melody in F," "Trauerlied" by Schumann, and "Evening Star" by Wagner.

Elbert C. Holmes, baritone, sang "Drink To Me Only With Thine Eyes" and "Because" by D'Hardelot. "The Bridal Chorus" by Wagner was used as a processional and Mendelssohn's Wedding March as a recessional. The organist softly played "Liebestraum," List during the ceremony and Mr. Holmes sang Lullabies "Benediction" at its conclusion.

The bride entered the Church with her brother, Albert V. Lewis, who gave her in marriage. A petite brunette, she was never lovelier than in her wedding gown of ivory broadened satin. The fitted bodice featured a sweetheart neckline and the long sleeves tapered to points over the hands. The full skirt extended into a slight train. Her fingertip veil of illusion fell from a coronet of orange blossoms. She carried a wedding bouquet of white orchids and asters. Her only ornament was a strand of pearls, a gift of the bridegroom.

Miss Etna Lewis was her sister's maid of honor. She wore a gown of yellow taffeta and net and a hat styled with a crown of yellow taffeta and a tulle brim. She carried a colonial bouquet of pink roses and lavender asters.

Miss Mary Barbee, of Wilson, and Mrs. Ralph B. Lassiter, of Candor, were bridesmaids. Miss Barbee wore blue and Mrs. Lassiter wore a pink gown, both made similar to that of the maid of honor. They carried colonial bouquets of blue and pink asters. Elizabeth Smith, niece of the bride, and Barbara Jackson, of Thomasville, niece of the bridegroom, were junior bridesmaids and wore frocks of white net identical with those of the other attendants. White bows were fastened in their hair and they carried miniature colonial bouquets of white asters.

William Lewis Sauls, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Sauls, of Whiteville, was ringbearer and carried the ring in a white lily.

Ralph B. Lassiter, of Candor, was best man. Ushers were Redden Grimes Lewis, brother of the bride, B. F. and S. T. Lewis, Jr., and M. W. Rollins.

The bride's mother wore a black lace dress and a corsage of red roses, and the bridegroom's mother was attired in a dusty rose dress of lace and wore a corsage of pink roses.

Mrs. Ammons, an attractive young woman of pleasing personality, is a graduate of the Farmville high school and since graduation has held office positions in Farmville and Greenville.

Petty Officer Ammons was graduated from the Roland high school and attended Duke University. He joined the Navy in December 1942 and returned recently from overseas after having served 29 months with the 72nd Naval Construction battalion in the Hawaiian Islands and the Marianas. Prior to this, he was connected with the Export Tobacco Co., of Richmond, Va.

Following the ceremony, the mother of the bride entertained at a reception at her home, which was decorated in green and white with summer flowers in pastel shades to accentuate the tones of the attendants' gowns.

Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Lewis received the guests as they arrived.

Miss Mary Lewis introduced the receiving line composed of the bride and bridegroom's parents, the bridal couple and members of the bridal party.

Mr. and Mrs. John Mewborn, of Kinston, and Mr. and Mrs. R. Grimes

Lewis received in the gift room.

Mr. and Mrs. S. T. Lewis, Jr., directed the way to the dining room.

In the dining room Mrs. Ellen Lewis Carroll and Mrs. William C. Brakes, of Rocky Mount, served bridal ice and decorated cakes, seated at the table, which was beautifully appointed in white and green. Assisting in serving were Mrs. Albert V. Lewis, Miss Frances Lewis, Miss Lon Taylor Lewis, and Miss Hazel Kirby, of Kenly.

Miss Nancy Lewis presided at the bride's register.

Goodbyes were said to Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Lewis.

The couple left for a wedding trip to unannounced points, following the reception. Petty Officer Ammons will report to Raleigh headquarters in September for reassignment for duty.

For traveling, the bride changed to an aqua wool jersey suit and a matching hat with a black veil. Her accessories were black. She wore an orchid from her bridal bouquet.

Since announcement of her engagement, the bride-elect has been the recipient of numerous prenuptial courtesies.

On Wednesday afternoon, prior to her marriage, Mrs. Henry Smith and Mrs. R. Grimes Lewis were hostesses at a bridge party in the D. A. R. Center House. Prizes went to Mrs. Herman B. Baker and Mrs. Curtis Flanagan. The honoree was presented china in her pattern by the hostesses. Iced colas, cookies, sandwiches, pickles and nuts were served.

Mrs. Ellen Lewis Carroll, Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Lewis and Miss Nancy Lewis were hosts at a dinner party, honoring the bride and bridegroom elect, Thursday evening. Covers were laid for twenty-four. The bride-to-be received a gift of silver in her pattern from the hosts.

Cake Cutting

Miss Etna Lewis and Mrs. Albert Lewis honored the bridal couple at a cake cutting, Sunday evening, at the Lewis home, following the wedding rehearsal.

The reception rooms were decorated with gladioli and other arrangements of white bloom.

A lace cloth covered the refreshment table which was centered with the three tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and sailor bridegroom. White and green tapers burned in crystal holders.

The hostesses, assisted by Misses Frances and Mary Lewis, served the cake and punch.

Luncheon

On Monday, the bridal party, relatives, out-of-town guests and intimate friends were entertained by Mrs. B. M. Lewis and Mrs. John B. Lewis for an informal luncheon.

A barbecue menu was served buffet on the enclosed porch of the B. M. Lewis home from an attractively appointed table spread with a linen cloth and centered by a basket arrangement of mixed-garden flowers.

THANK YOU!

Although the party, planned for Tuesday, Aug. 21, in celebration of the birthday of Will Jones, III, was cancelled due to illness, his little friends sent remembrances for which he wishes to thank them.

Little Will is reported somewhat improved but continues confined to his bed.

SUNDAY OBSERVED

AS DAY OF PRAYER

With love, our mouths with praise and purity, and our missionary treasures with funds to send the message of the Cross to the world. If the Church awakes to these opportunities, many of those who have gone with a gun during this war, will gladly go back with the Gospel. Many have so said.

"Fourth—The new day demands that we stop playing at religion, and make it the passion of our lives, live it, dream it and share it, or there will be another Night."

Now women and girls may get wanted relief from functional periodic pain

Cardui is a liquid medicine which many women say has brought relief from the cramps, dizziness and nervous strain of functional periodic pain. Here's how it may help:

1. Taken like a tonic, it checks excessive appetite and digestion, thus helps build resistance for the future.

2. Started 3 days before "your time," it checks pain, reduces pain due to overly functional periods. Try Cardui. It is better, you'll be glad you did.

Cardui
