TO MY FRIENDS OF THE FIRST CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICT:

It is with profound gratitude and a stirring sense of personal appreciation that I address this message to you. Earnestly and unselfishly you have worked for a great cause. Valiantly you held the torch high, generously pouring out your energies and performing duty even in silent places where no one looked on. You have felt the tug of those ties which draw men and women together under the impulse of high resolve. From this experience were born friendships that will last.

We have stirred the people, but not everybody understood what was involved in this race. After the smoke of the battle has cleared and quiet reflection comes, many will understand better the far-reaching significance of the things for which we were fighting. These measures cannot be defeated. They are fundamental to the life of our country and draw their vitality from the needs of the people. They are sure of final triumph.

The voters have spoken. We cheerfully accept their verdict. With good-will to all and resentment to none, we stand united in the ranks of our great Party, and dedicate ourselves anew to the urgent tasks ahead.

With my heart-felt thanks and deep appreciation to you all.

Sincerely,
ROBERT LEE HUMBER
