MRS. JAMES LANG RESIDING WITH PARENTS IN GEORGIA

Mrs. James R. Lang returned last week with her mother, Mrs. T. H. Clark, of Douglas, Ga., to reside with her parents there. Mrs. Clark had been visiting Mrs. Lang since the sudden passing of her husband, "Jimmy," a highly esteemed Farmville citizen.

The Enterprise joins the many friends of Mrs. Lang, who had been active in church, civic and social circles here, and been prominently identified with club work and with all local worthwhile movements since coming to Farmville as a bride several years ago, in expressing regret at her change of residence and to offer sympathy in her bereavement.

LUNCHEON HOSTESS TO 15th DISTRICT CHAIRMEN

Mrs. W. Jesse Moye, District President of the 15th District of N. C. F. W. C., was hostess on Wednesday, at a lovely luncheon, honoring the club presidents of this district.

Fruit cocktail was served at Mrs. Moye's suburban home, after which the hostess invited her guests to the high school lunch room, where a delicious plate luncheon was served. Effective arrangements of mixed summer flowers were used in decoration of the table.

During the business session, the slogan, "Service," was adopted for this district for the coming year, with special attention given to Youth and Library work. The projects suggested for the coming year were: Girl Scouts, Nursery Schools, Library, Play Grounds and other recreational activities, and the promotion of Good Citizenship in the schools.

Out of town guests included: Mrs. Earl Trevathan, Fountain; Mrs. W. S. Carawan and Mrs. E. J. Brickhouse, Columbia; Mrs. Jack Foley, Jr., and Mrs. W. H. Woodard, Greenville; Mrs. Edgar S. Woodley and Miss Matilda Alexander, Creswell; Mrs. Grady G. Dixon, Ayden; Mrs. C. L. Brown and Mrs. W. H. Joyner, Plymouth.

Mrs. Moye announced that the District meeting would be held in Plymouth on October 11th.

At The Rotary Club

Dr. Paul E. Jones, in charge of the program at the Rotary Club on Tuesday evening, introduced J. T. Harris, of Bethel, who spoke on the subject, "Man, Meat and Method." The speaker stressed the proper killing and handling of meats before they were brought to the freezer locker. He said that if the animal was allowed to get excited or overheated just prior to slaughtering that the meat would spoil and the freezer locker would be blamed.

Bill Fisher and Joseph Joyner were welcomed as new members to the club. Frank Williams had as his guest, Conrad Stewart, Jr., of Orlando, Fla.

RESOLUTION OF RESPECT

BE IT RESOLVED: That the Officers and Board of Commissioners of The Town of Weldon, express their deep sense of loss from the recent death of our late co-worker and Member of the Board, Mr. G. W. Corbett.

That our heartfelt sympathy goes out to the entire family of our late friend and co-worker. For in his loss we too feel keenly his absence and his vacant chair is but a reminder of his long faithful service to the Town.

Copies of this Resolution to be made from the minutes of the regular meeting held on Tuesday, August 6th, one sent to Miss Lillian Corbett for the family, one to The Standard-Locate, Snow Hill, N. C., and one to The Farmville Enterprise, Farmville, N. C.

The Social Events of the Week Fete Brides-Elect

Hostesses Entertain At Lovely Prenuptial Parties

Misses Frances Howard, Jane Green and Etta Frances Harper, brides-elect of the month, have been the inspiration for lovely parties and prenuptial showers again this week.

Lovely in every detail was the bridge luncheon given by Mrs. E. E. Pickett and Mrs. W. S. Royster on Thursday, with Miss Howard as the honor guest.

Floral arrangements of bronze dahlias, and tuberoses were used with pleasing effect throughout the Pickett home. The traditional bridal colors of white and green were used in the dining room and in the appointments of the table, which was centered with a bowl of white dahlias, feverfew and phlox. The honoree's place was marked by a corsage of roses. At the bride-elect's table were her mother, Mrs. H. Neal Howard, Mrs. Manly Liles, mother of the bridegroom-elect, and Mrs. Lowell Liles.

Other guests were seated at four card tables spread with refreshment cloths and centered with roses.

The luncheon consisted of chicken ala king, served in patties, Saratoga chips, tomato and cucumber salad, pickles, rolls, tea and individual chocolate pies.

In the contract games, played in the afternoon, Mrs. M. V. Jones was awarded a double deck of Congress cards as winner of high score. Mrs. W. R. Burke retained the floating prize, note paper, and Mrs. Lowell Liles received the consolation, stationery. Miss Howard was presented gifts of silver by the hostesses.

Friday morning from 10:00 to 12:00 o'clock, Mrs. C. Hubert Joyner graciously entertained at bridge and a miscellaneous shower in honor of Miss Frances Howard.

Five tables were arranged on the spacious porch of the Joyner home, in a setting of handsome dahlias and gladioli, spread with refreshment covers and centered with miniature bouquets.

After guests had found their places, the hostess served party sandwiches, Saratoga chips, cheese crackers, pickles, decorated cakes, chocolate fudge, salted nuts and Coca-Cola. The place of the honor guest was marked by bronze asters arranged as a hair ornament.

The high score award, a milk glass vase, was won by Mrs. W. S. Royster. Mrs. Allen Drake received the consolation prize, note paper. The two floating prizes, novel matches and hi-jacks were retained by Mrs. Harry Harper and Mrs. W. R. Burke. The hostess presented the honor guest with dinner plates in her chosen china pattern and Miss Jane Greene was remembered with crystal.

The shower of miscellaneous gifts was brought in by the hostess on a silver tray as a surprise feature of the delightful occasion.

Mrs. E. C. Holmes and Mrs. Arthur F. Joyner were refreshment guests.

A charming bridge party, given by Miss Mae Knott and Mrs. John C. Parker, Friday evening, complimented Miss Frances Howard.

The Knott home was thrown en suite and decorated with dahlias, marigolds and thinnias in artistic arrangements. The eight tables were beautifully appointed for the dessert course and bore floral centerpieces. The place of the honoree was marked by a corsage of roses. Brick ice cream in green and white, bridal cakes, mints and nuts were served prior to the games, and iced fruit punch was passed during play.

The high score award, a powder and sachet combination, was won by Mrs. D. R. Morgan and Mrs. E. E. Pickett, as runner-up, received a double deck of Congress cards. The consolation prize, a nest of ash trays, went to Miss Bertha Lang. The honoree was presented silver in her pattern by the hostesses. Miss Jane Greene was remembered with gifts of silver and crystal.

Honoring Miss Frances Howard, Mrs. R. C. Copenhaver was hostess at a lovely desert-bridge party, Saturday evening, at her home on Contentment street, which was beautifully decorated throughout with dahlias and roses.

Refreshment tables with places laid for twenty guests, bore white linen covers, bridal appointments, and reflector centerpieces in which were rosebuds in silver vases. The hostess was assisted in serving ice cream, topped with sliced peaches and whipped cream, and black chocolate cake, by her mother, Mrs. E. C. Beaman, Mrs. Robert Lee Smith and Miss Elizabeth Lang. During the games an iced fruit drink and salted nuts were passed.

Mrs. W. S. Royster, scoring high, won an ornamental goblet and Miss Bertha Lang received the consolation, dusting powder. The honor guest was presented goblets in her crystal pattern. Miss Jane Greene was remembered with a Farmville cork book and Miss Annie Sue Hunsacker, of Winterville, houseguest of Miss Bertha Lang, was given sachets by the hostess.

Miss G. E. Tyson, of Seaford, delightfully entertained friends, Saturday evening, at 8:00 o'clock at desert-bridge in compliment to Miss Etta Frances Harper, with Miss Mary G. Hales, of Stantonburg, sharing honors.

Miss Anne Jones charmingly entertained, Tuesday evening, at a lovely bridge party, in compliment to Miss Frances Howard and Miss Jane Greene.

The Jones home was beautifully decorated with dahlias, asters, phlox, ageratum and drometis, and the six tables spread with refreshment covers bore small arrangements of mixed flowers in pastel shades. Tallies were in bridal design. Decorations of the dining room were particularly beautiful and white tapers in crystal candelabra were used as illumination. Places of the honor guests were marked by corsages.

Prior to the games of progressive contract, the hostess, assisted by her mother, Mr. M. V. Jones served iced molded in bridal motifs, angel cake, green and white mints and salted nuts, and throughout the evening fruit punch was served from a beautifully appointed table in the hall.

Mrs. Arthur F. Joyner compiled high score and was awarded an ornamental goblet in blue glass, and Mrs. Carol W. Modlin received the consolation, a crystal egg server. The honoree received sets of crystal caskets in their respective patterns.

Mrs. Annie Rigbee, grandmother of the hostess, and Miss Betay Willis Jones, her sister, assisted in receiving.

Mrs. H. Neal Howard and Mrs. A. J. Greene, mothers of the honorees, and Mrs. H. L. Holden, Sr., of Wilson, grandmother of Miss Howard, were invited for the dessert course.

Activities Of Church Groups

Presbyterian
The Presbyterian Circles held their regular afternoon and evening meetings, Monday, using as their Bible Study "Getting Rid of Bessing Sims." The subject "The Responsibility of Christian Women in Today's World," was used for the programs.

Circle No. 1 met Monday afternoon with Mrs. G. P. Bergeron, with the chairman, Mrs. George B. Moore, presiding. Mrs. Bergeron gave the program and the Bible Study was developed in an open discussion among the members. The hostess served an iced drink and cookies.

Circle II met Monday evening in the home of Mrs. E. S. Coates, with the chairman, Mrs. Will H. Moore, Jr., presiding. The meeting opened with a prayer by Rev. E. S. Coates. Mrs. William P. Easley gave the Bible Study and Mrs. Coates the program. Lovely arrangements of summer flowers were used in decoration throughout the home. After adjournment the hostess served delicious pound cake, nuts and iced drinks.

Methodist
The Wesleyan Guild held a called meeting Monday evening in the home of the chairman, Mrs. Stuart Sugg. Mrs. Sugg presided and led a general discussion of the year's work.

Two members, Miss Frances Howard and Miss Jane Greene, brides-elect, were presented gifts of china and silver by the Guild at this time.

After adjournment, the hostess served a delicious dessert course, consisting of bridal ices, cakes and mints.

Circle four, of the Methodist Woman's Society, met Monday afternoon, with Mrs. Malton Allen as hostess. Mrs. Pearl Johnston, in charge of the devotional, used as her subject "Stewardship." Mrs. Claude Tyson was welcomed as a new member at this time.

Following adjournment, the hostess entertained at a surprise birthday party honoring her mother, Mrs. C. H. Mozingo, who is the chairman of this group.

Contests were enjoyed with Mrs. Claude Tyson and Mrs. Leon Little declared prize winners. The hostess served chicken salad sandwiches, cookies, salted nuts and lemonade.

JOINT PICNIC

The Farmville Home Demonstration Club, of which Mrs. Claude Joyner is president, the Ballards Club, of which Mrs. Gowans is the head, and the Red Banks group, of which Mrs. Ola Kittrell is president, held their joint annual picnic, Wednesday afternoon, at the Municipal park. Husbands and children of the members, Farmville ministers and their wives and other friends, numbering around 175 in all, shared in the pleasures of the occasion.

Following the sumptuous picnic meal, Miss Verona Lee Joyner, County Home Demonstrator, spoke briefly and introduced her new assistant, Miss Vera Lowery; Mrs. Bennett R. Fields made an enlightening talk on the activities of the clubs in the State, and Mrs. B. F. Tyson, in her inimitable way, led the group in the singing of favorite songs.

MRS. FLEMING HONORED

Mrs. Henrietta M. Williamson was a gracious hostess at bridge on Saturday evening, in compliment to Mrs. J. C. Fleming, of Martinsville, Va., houseguest of her sister, Mrs. W. E. Joyner.

Progressive contract was played at two tables on the sun porch with the high score award, a dainty handkerchief, going to Mrs. G. Alex Rouse. Mrs. Fleming was presented with a similar gift by the hostess.

Ice cream was served after play.

Mrs. Williamson's guests were: Mrs. Fleming, Mrs. W. E. Joyner, Mrs. J. H. Moore, Mrs. Robert D. and Mrs. G. Alex Rouse, Mrs. L. E. Walston and Mrs. J. H. Paylor.

MISS JANET CHESTNUT WEDS L. E. TURNAGE, JR.

Vincennes, Ind., Aug. 12. — St. John's Evangelical and Reformed church was the scene, at eight o'clock, Saturday evening, of the marriage of Miss Janet Chestnut of 1219 North Ninth street to Lester E. Turnage, Jr., of Farmville, N. C. Rev. Thomas L. Bash, pastor of the First Baptist church here, heard the exchange of vows during the impressive double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Elmer Chestnut, of Odon, Ind. Mr. Turnage's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Lester E. Turnage, Sr., of Farmville.

Large bouquets of white gladioli intermingled with greenery and baskets of white hydrangeas decorated the church for the wedding service, which was attended by a number of relatives and friends of the bridal pair.

Preceding the ceremony Mrs. Joseph A. Meurer sang "I Love You Truly" and "Till the End of Time," accompanied by Mrs. W. L. Holt, organist. Mrs. Holt also played for a half hour wedding selections preceding the ceremony, as well as the traditional Mendelssohn's and Lohengrin's wedding marches.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a lovely white silk jersey dress with white accessories and a corsage of pink roses.

Her attendant, Miss Vera Spangle, wore pink silk jersey, black accessories and a white rose corsage. The little flower girl was Ruth Ann Kuhn. Roscoe Chestnut, brother of the bride, was best man, and the ushers were Paul Kuhn, the bride's uncle, and Irvin Marutz.

A wedding reception was held in the Kuhn home at 1219 North Ninth street. The house was decorated with vari-colored summer flowers. Assisting at the reception were Miss Marjelle Gauer, Mrs. Al McCrary, Mrs. Elson G. Sims and Mrs. Irvin Marutz.

The couple left immediately after the reception on a wedding tour through scenic regions of Kentucky, West Virginia, Virginia and North Carolina, and expect to be at home at Farmville after August 18. The bride traveled in an aqua and pink suit with white accessories.

The bride is a graduate of Epsom School at Plainville and attended Vincennes Business College.

Mrs. Turnage, a graduate of the Farmville High School, attended North Carolina State College for two years prior to his induction into the armed forces. He served 3 1/2 years, 13 months of that time with the 13th Air Force in the Pacific Theater of Operations.

At The Kiwanis Club

Alex Allen, program chairman, presided at the regular Monday evening meeting of the Kiwanis Club, and introduced his guest speaker, Joe Williams, of Greensboro, Assistant Secretary and Treasurer of the State Farm Bureau. Mr. Williams brought to the club some highlights on the "Fused and Tobacco Cooperative Stabilization Corporation" and its value to producers. He also said that North Carolina produces 69% of the fine-cured tobacco in the United States and that Pitt County raises more than any tobacco producing county in the world and that Farmville Township probably leads all other townships. The club is proud of the fact that Carl Hicks, a Farmville Kiwanian, is one of the nine directors of this corporation.

Guests for the evening were Chief of Police Lucas, who talked for a few minutes on law enforcement, Conrad Stewart, Jr., a visiting Kiwanian, of Orlando, Fla., and Joe Joyner.

Mr. Allen announced that Rod Williams, Sam D. Bundy, Alex Allen, Carl Hicks and Charlie Hattakis were selected, by vote, as trustees of the Kiwanis college scholarship fund. Complete details about the scholarship will be announced at a later date.

Ernest Pettaway will be in charge of the program next week.
